China Nationalists Launch New Large-Scale Offensive

TODAY IN EUROPE

By Randolph Churchill

LONDON—The recent action of the House of Lords on the Anglo-American loan agreement highlighted that ancient body's anomalous yet very useful role in the governmental process under the British Constitution.

DEBATE IN THE LORDS was conducted on a higher livel than that in the House of Commons. The upper house endorsed the loan by a far larger majority proportionately than did Commons. Many of the Conservative peers disliked the loan, but they were more ready to accept their leaders' advice to abstain from voting than were the Conservatives in Commons.

CHURCHILL

One of the reasons for greater abstention by the Conservatives in Lords is that the Lords are most reluctant to allow themselves to be provoked into a major battle with the new Socialist government.

There are many members of the Labor party who would like nothing better than to pick a quarrel with the House of Lords.

If the Lords could be induced to throw out some major piece of Socialist legislation, the cry of "the People against the Lords" could be raised, and the resulting political excitement would be an excellent

Prime Minister Plans Canadian List of Honors

OTTAWA, Dec. 29.—(CP)—The war contribution of Canadian civilians will be recognized in a special Canadian honors list later in the year, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said last night in a statement commenting on the absence of civilians in the forthcoming New Year's honors list.

MR. KING ALSO disclosed that an announcement would be made "in due course" regarding award of the new Canada Medal and the "establishment of a distinctive Canadian order."

These steps were being taken to recognize the "patriotic and devoted effort on the part of Canadians in all walks of life, and in every part of the country . . . who, in connection with every phase of the war effort, had given inspiring examples of leadership.

MR. KING SAID that while no civilians had been included in the New Year's honors list, permission of the King would be sought "in the next few months" for the issue of a special Canadian honors list which would recognize those who had "served their country with distinction" in various phases of civil life.

"He said authority had been given for establishment of a Canada medal and that "suggestions . . had been made from time to time for establishment of a distinctive Canadian order."

THESE QUESTIONS had been reviewed by the government and

All Ford Workers Returning to Jobs

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 29.—(CP)—Full employment will be resumed at the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., plant here Jan. 2, the company announced today.

All employees not yet called back to work following the end of a 99-day walkout for union security by some 8,500 production workers were instructed to report on their regular shifts on that date. Paid advertisements containing the instructions appeared in newspapers today.

The strikers, members of Local 200 of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), voted Dec. 19 to return to work pending negotiations between company and union officials with the aid of a government appointed arbitrator.

The strike, called last Sept. 12, affected some 10,000 production workers. Some 1,500 of these were non-union members affected by the general tie-up.

Arrest Gamblers

TORONTO, Dec. 29. — (CP) — Police battered down a door barricaded with lumber last night to arrest 36 Chinese on gambling charges. Thirty-two other Chinese were charged with frequenting a gaming house.

Actress Dies

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. — (AP) — Mrs. Isabelle Pierson, 88, retired actress known professionally as Belle Flohr, died Thursday after a long illness.

For Further Report

New Electric Rate Schedule Sent Back to Commissioners

Proposal by the city commissioners for reduction in domestic and commercial electric light rates was referred back to the commissioners for further report on rate schedule changes suggested by aldermen during discussion of the rate schedule changes.

WHILE DEFINITE ACTION was not taken by the alderman it is almost certain that the proposed schedules, probably slightly modified, will be adopted at a special meeting to be held on Friday next.

Some aldermen were critical of the manner in which the proposals were brought to council. They were of the opinion that the proposals should have been submitted to a committee of council by the commissioners, and not brought to the council in the form of recommendations.

Ald. James H. Ogilvie, while agreeing with the proposal to reduce the rates, was of the opinion that the schedule for users of electrical energy for ranges should be given a better deal than that offered in the proposed schedule.

ALD. F. J. MITCHELL questioned some of the commercial schedules, and asked for a further report on them. He also said that he was adverse to dealing with reduc-

Industry in Reich Said Not Destroyed

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

BERLIN, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Russell A. Nixon, deputy director of the division of investigation of cartels and external assets of the United States military government, said today that military authorities in the United States occupation zone are "pampering" German industrialists.

MR. NIXON SAID in an interview that German industries are not being destroyed and that industrialists are not being arrested as he believed they should under a directive of the joint chiefs-of-staff.

He also said that "pressure" forced his division to release from jail a number of leaders of the I. G. Farben Industrie, gigantic German chemical trust, after they had been interrogated.

LT.-GEN. Lucian D. Clay, deputy military governor of Germany, said, "I found out about the release of these Farben leaders only the other day. If any pressure was

Arctic Test

Main Muskox Party Leaving For North Base

WINNIPEG, Dec. 29—(CP)—Main party of the Canadian army's "exercise muskox", fourth such test of military equipment and of air supply under the extreme weather conditions prevailing in Arctic country, will leave Winnipeg tonight by train for Churchill, Man., jumping-off point for the expedition, 1,000 miles north of here.

IN THE PARTY will be 167 servicemen, 21 of whom are navy, army and air force officers, and five civilian observers. The movement will be under the direction of Lt.-Col. P. D. Baird of Montreal and Maj. A. A. Wallace, Ottawa, will be train conducting officer.

From the group and an advance party already preparing the Churchill base, a small force of 45 men will be selected for the actual mobile exercise. Travelling in 12 snowmobiles, they will leave Churchill, Feb. 14, trek 3,000 miles over a route which will bring them

Estimated $12,000 Damage in Blaze

Damage estimated at $12,000 was caused when fire swept through the Belmont garage, situated on the Fort Trail just outside the city limits, Friday night. The structure was burnt to the ground. A truck and a gas tank in the garage were completely destroyed, together with a large amount of equipment.

The fire was discovered by Bob Edwards, Edmonton horseman and owner of the garage. He said that the fire appeared to start around a drum containing about 28 gallons of coal oil. He was unable to say what had started it.

Firemen from North Edmonton were called out and assisted in fighting the blaze.

The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Two Fliers Escape In Forced Landing

DETROIT, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Two servicemen escaped injury yesterday when forced to make an emergency landing on a residential street after the engine of their rented monoplane died out while they were flying over the city. Lt. Kenneth E. Parks, 21, guided the craft to a landing in front of a house.

Writer Dies

THEODORE DREISER

Theodore Dreiser Dies in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Theodore Drieser, 74, noted American author, died at his home last night of a heart attack.

Friends of the family said Dreiser had been in "excellent health" until early Friday when the heart attack occurred.

He died at 6:45 p.m. PST last night. His wife, Mrs. Helen Driesser, was at his bedside.

Death of the famous writer came shortly after he had completed two novels, his first in more than 20 years.

ONE WAS "THE BULWARK", due off the press in March. The other he named "The Stoic."

In recent years, however, he had done little writing. He and his wife established their home here about 10 years ago and since then had lived in semi-retirement.

Besides his widow, Mr. Dreiser is survived by a brother, Edward, and a niece, Vera Dreiser, both of New York City.

Best-known of Mr. Dreiser's works was the novel, "The American Tragedy."

Hitler, Eva Braun Marriage Contract Is Reported Seized

NUERNBERG, Germany, Dec 29.—(AP)—United States 3rd Army Headquarters today announced the seizure of the original marriage contract between Hitler and Eva Braun.

The marriage contract and a political and private testimony of Hitler were reported seized coincidentally with the arrest by British counterintelligence agents of Friedrich Wilhelm Paustin, adjutant to the missing Martin Borman, at Vilfhogen.

All-Time High In Profit Set By Exhibition

Creating an all-time record, The Edmonton Exhibition Association, during its fiscal year ended Oct. 31, 1945, showed a profit of $59,801.64 on all operations, according to a statement submitted Friday by C. E. Wilson, managing director of the association, at the annual meeting of shareholders held at the council chamber, Civic Block.

THIS PROFIT is $39,694.64 in excess of the previous record of $20,107 achieved in the fiscal year of 1923.

Chief item in the year's activities was the success of the summer fair. The gross revenue for this event amounted to $133,026.94 with expenditures totalling $71,247.44, to leave a profit on the fair of $61,779.50.

The main revenue items were $29,360.05 from gate receipts; grandstand receipts, $32,935; concessions, $15,011; midway, $11,381, and profit on operation of pari-mutuels, $32,853.

IN CONNECTION with the pari-mutuel operations a total of $51,265.20 was paid to the provincial and Dominion governments in equal shares, being the amount of the tax imposed by both these governing bodies.

Chief items of expenditure in connection with the summer fair were:

Milder Weather To Continue Here

The mercury in Edmonton thermometers continued to observe an upward trend Saturday as readings hovered about the 9 to 17 above marks. Forecast was "cloudy today with little change in temperature". Reading at 10 a.m. was 12 above.

Highest temperature Friday was 14 above, and the minimum overnight 9 above. Estimated high for Saturday was 17 above. Meterological officials reported a little less than half an inch of snow fell Friday.

Canada's New Cardinal

His Eminence James Charles Cardinal McGuigan is seen at his desk with some of the more than 2,000 messages of congratulation which have come to him since announcement of his appointment by Pope Pius XII as a prince of the Roman Catholic church. A native of Prince Edward Island, he has been Archbishop of Toronto since 1935 and before that was Archbishop of Regina, Sask. He was former principal of St. Joseph's seminary in Edmonton. He plans to go to Rome in February, with Canada's French-speaking Cardinal, Rodrigue Villeneuve of Quebec, and will receive his Cardinal's hat from the Pope at that time.

Say Truman Cautious On Secrets of Atom

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—President Truman was reported today to be backing an even more cautious, step-by-step disclosure of atomic energy secrets than first impressions of the Moscow Big Three communique indicated.

THIS INTERPRETATION of plans to form an international atomic control commission came from persons who talked with Mr. Truman after his return from a Christmas holiday in Missouri.

They said it is Mr. Truman's view that the United States should always be sure there will be no misuse of a small secret before divulging a more important one. Conversations both at the White House and the state department indicated it will be United States policy to test out proposed inspection methods before telling any country except Britain and Canada all of the secrets of the atomic bomb.

STATE SECRETARY BYRNES, due back by plane from Moscow, planned to see Mr. Truman late today on the presidential yacht.

Senator A. H. Vandenberg of Michigan, chairman of the Republican senatorial conference, gave some indication how the wind is blowing after a conference with Mr. Truman at the White House yesterday.

Senator Vandenberg said he was advised by the state department that "full security requirements" will be met in the proposed international commission's dealings with atomic energy.

THE MICHIGAN SENATOR, a member of the special senate committee on atomic development, is known to favor retention of the secret until it has been demonstrated that international controls to prevent its future military use are workable.

Holy Land Again Reported Quiet

JERUSALEM, Dec. 29.—(BUP)—Nearly all of the 400 men and women arrested for questioning following terrorist bombings Thursday night were released today, the curfew was relaxed and the Holy Land was quiet.

The only Jewish terrorist caught alive in the intensive manhunt through Jerusalem and Tel Aviv was reported near death in the Hadassah hospital in Jerusalem.

The official total of curfew violators arrested Thursday night and Friday was 400. Earlier unofficial reports had placed it as high as 2,000.

The curfew was removed entirely in Tel Aviv and limited to the night-time hours in Jerusalem. A period of quiet was expected by those familiar with the hit-and-run terrorist tactics of the Sternist and Irgunist organizations.

Thousands of Jews, released from their homes, flocked to Arab shops to purchase food because their own were closed for the Sabbath. Arab-Jewish relations appeared better than ever.

Communist Forces Say Attacks Start

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Communists—awaiting today the government's reply to their truce proposal—said that Chinese National troops have begun a new, large-scale offensive against Communist forces in eastern Jehol and western Liaoning provinces.

PRESIDENT CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S troops also are planning early assaults against Red-held Kalgan, capital of Chahar, and Chengteh, capital of Jehol, the Communist dispatches alleged.

The dispatches also reported:

That government troops were continuing attacks against Communist positions in northern Honan, both east and west of the important Peiping-Hankow railroad, and national reinforcements were swarming into the north-Honan railroad town of Anyang to support these offensives.

THAT THE NATIONAL government is utilizing in western Liaoning forces carried to the Manchurian port of Hulutao by United States transports.

That Communists captured Shapop and Kaoyu, on the Grand canal north-east of Nanking Christmas Day, killing "a great number of Japanese and puppet troops and seizing a large quantity of war material."

Nationalist sources here said the attacks on Shaopo and Kaoyu indicated a possible Communist attempt

Hold 3 Youths For Murdering Toronto Dealer

TORONTO, Dec. 29.—(CP)—Six youths were arrested in Toronto last night and three of them were charged with murder in the Wednesday night slaying of 54-year-old Meyer Tobias, Mount Pleasant Road clothing merchant.

LAST TO BE TAKEN into custody was William Sidney Marshall, 18, arrested at his home and charged with armed robbery.

Charged with the slaying were: Donald Ernest Warner, 16, arrested in a billiard parlor; Harold Norman Urquhart, arrested at his Toronto home; Edward James Martin, 18, arrested in a public library.

Also arrested: Thomas William Ward, 18, charged with armed robbery, and Donald Mitchell, charged with supplying an offensive weapon to the Tobias killers.

24 Special Trains Carry Canadians

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(BUP)—Twenty-four special trains left last night and today to transport home 10,516 Canadian troops of the famous 3rd Division who arrived last night on the big British liner Queen Elizabeth.

The Queen Elizabeth docked at 7:40 p.m. after a stormy week-long Atlantic crossing from Southampton.

The veterans, most of whom had been overseas since 1940, were the largest contingent of Canadian troops ever to land in the port of New York. They had arrived in the harbor early in the afternoon, but the Queen Elizabeth was anchored off her pier until evening, waiting proper tidal conditions.

Members of Canadian regiments who had previously returned and many Canadian citizens were waiting to greet the 3rd Division men on the pier.

Approximately 10 hours was required to land all the troops at Pier 90 in midtown Manhattan, transfer them to ferries, and transport them across the Hudson river to Weehawken, N.J., where the special trains waited.

Quake Recorded

SYDNEY, Dec. 29—(Reuters)—A large earthquake, estimated to be centred 3,100 miles south of Australia in the Antarctic region, was recorded by Riverview observatory early today. The earthquake, which lasted four hours, is the second largest ever recorded south of Australia.

Man Killed in Street Accident On South Side

Peter Hanson, 80-year-old resident of the Salvation Army Eventide Home, died early Saturday morning as the result of injuries received in a traffic accident Friday night. The accident, seventh traffic fatality in the city this year, occurred at the east end of the Mill Creek bridge on the South Side about 6 p.m. when Hanson was struck by a Bonnie Doon street railway system bus.

ROY PAYNE, Suite 6, Hull block, who was driving the bus, told police that he was travelling east over the bridge, and that as he swung off the east end of the bridge a man stepped off the side of the road into the vehicle's path. He swung the bus to the left in an effort to avoid hitting the man, but struck him with the right front corner of the bus. He brought the vehicle to a stop in six feet.

Hanson, knocked to the pavement, suffered a frontal skull fracture. He was rushed to the University hospital by a taxi called by Payne.

SUPERINTENDENT G. W. Luxton, of the Eventide Home, who was waiting for a westbound bus, stated that he did not see Hanson hit, but saw the bus come to a jar-

Bulletin's Review of 1945's Highlights

City, Province Look to Prosperous Future As Eventful Year Draws Slowly to Close

With the cessation of hostilities in Europe and the Pacific, this city and the province as a whole look forward to 1946 with confidence in the natural resources and the ability of the people to achieve great things.

THAT THE PEOPLE are determined to move on to greater achievements than in the past is evident from the plans already made for the future, plans calling for vast building programs in the cities, as well as industrial expansion in various parts of the province.

The year now drawing to a close has been one of unusual activity and expansion in Edmonton and Alberta.

Despite the shortage of materials and labor, there has been a tremendous amount of new building.

Alberta industries and farms contributed a large share to the success of the Allied Nations' cause.

FAR-REACHING legislation has been placed on the statute books by the Alberta Legislature, including provision for refunding, the bonded debt. One special session was held to ratify the legislation.

Here are some of the highlights of the year in provincial, civic and community activities:

The Province

By far the outstanding event in the provincial government's calendar for 1945 was the adoption at a special session of the Legislature of the $113,200,000 bond refunding

Hit-Run Auto Is Found Cause Woman's Death

Mrs. Christina Coughlin, 10233 150 street, died as the result of injuries received when she was struck by a car driven by Leonard Eckel of Millet, according to a verdict returned here Friday afternoon by a six man coroner's jury.

THE 78-YEAR-OLD Edmonton woman died while being taken to hospital Dec. 17 after an accident at the corner of Jasper avenue and 109 street. Eckel is scheduled to appear in city police court Monday for a preliminary hearing on a manslaughter charge arising out of the fatality.

The full verdict stated that Mrs. Coughlin "expired on the evening of Dec. 17 about 7:40 p.m., whilst being taken to hospital as the result of injuries sustained when struck by a car driver being Leonstruck by a car bearing license number 46-035 at 109 street and Jasper avenue; said car driver being Lenoard Eckel of Millet, who at the time, according to evidence given, was under the influence of alcohol.

"Cause of death: multiple injuries of head, chest and extremities; shock and hemorrhage.

"We are of the opinion that the Edmonton city police department handled the case in a very efficient manner".

MRS. BELLA STODDART, 10233 150 street, daughter of the dead woman, told the jury that she had just got off an eastbound street car with her mother when the accident took place. She said that she had been holding onto her mother's arm and that she seemed to be snatched away by the death car.

Mrs. Stoddart, who was knocked to the street herself, broke down several times while giving her evidence.

DETAILED ACCOUNT of the movement of the Eckel car before the accident and the wild ride that followed was given by Mrs. Ada Erskine, 11144 97 street.

She told of meeting Eckel in the afternoon and stated that he had decided to visit her home in order to see her two brothers who had just returned from overseas. Eckel then decided to phone his wife at Millet, and drove all the way out to Jasper Place in search of a store from which he could phone. He visited three stores on the way, she said, before turning around to drive back downtown.

QUESTIONED ABOUT the speed at which the 26-year-old Millet man was driving, Mrs. Erskine said, "Fast, I thought."

"I asked him to let me out so I could get on a street car or taxi. I reasoned with him in many ways to make him drive more slowly. He didn't say anything.

"Just as we got to the intersection I saw two ladies by a street car. I screamed at him to slow down. He swerved. I was watching a car on my side. He side-swiped the car and that is all I can remember," she said in recounting the moments leading up to and including the accident.

MRS. ERSKINE SAID that Eckel turned off Jasper avenue, then swung back to 109 street on 102 avenue. He passed under the subway and driving up the other side bumped into a telephone pole. "My head went through the windshield. I had blood all over me," she related. He ran into the same pole again, she said.

Mrs. Erskine said that the car was found in her back yard because she told Eckel to drive down a back alley to her home and said that they almost ran over two small boys on the way.

MRS. ERSKINE STATED that after arriving at her home she phoned "his and my doctor". She said she was driven to the University Hospital by her brother-in-law. Asked if she knew that a lady had been struck, the young woman replied, "No. If I'd known that I'd have made him stop."

Hedley Parsons, 12126 85 street, motorman in charge of the street car from which Mrs. Coughlin is said to have descended immediately prior to the accident, said that he had just started his tram when he heard a woman scream "Oh! My mother's been hit."

"I STOPPED the tram, got out and saw a lady lying face down in the snow and ice," he said. "I saw she had been hurt pretty bad so ran to phone the police and an ambulance," he continued. Parsons stated that just after he heard the woman screaming he saw a car "flash by in front of my car. It seemed to swerve out from the street car and side-swipe another auto."

W. B. Butchart, 10227 130 street, whose car was hit at the accident, told of giving chase to the fleeing vehicle in his damaged automobile. Another witness, Mrs. J. E. Williams, 10050 108 street, who was waiting for an eastbound street car at the corner of Jasper and 108 street, told of seeing the fleeing vehicle approaching. She said that she saw the auto hit "a person—I thought it was a man," then swerve to the right where it hit a parked car then approach the intersection where she was standing with her husband. "The auto came right on past us—went over to the east side of the street and up on the curb, then went north on 108 street," she related.

MRS. WILLIAMS SAID that the bumper of the car was dragging when it went past.

Constables A. Dunn, J. H. Cookson and G. Black, whose work on the night of the accident won high praise from Chief Constable Reg. Jennings, gave an account of their investigations on the night of the accident that led to Eckel's arrest.

Provincial Pathologist Dr. J. W. MacGregor of the University of Alberta, who conducted the post mortem, gave evidence as to the cause of death, while Dr. A. G. Livingstone of the Royal Alexandra Hospital stated that he had taken a specimen of Eckel's blood for an alcohol test. Dr. J. A. Kelso of the University of Alberta, who analyzed the blood, said that it contained .135 per cent alcohol.

DR. E. A. BRAITHWAITE, chief provincial coroner, presided over the inquest. Jurymen were William Hogan, (foreman) 10208 97 street; W. K. Hooson, 8114 104 street; Andrew Loughlin, 10654 83 avenue; L. Killoran, 11208 102 avenue; R. J. Talbot, 9931 Jasper avenue and Alex Brown, 11539 95 street.

The Crown was represented by Guy Patterson, KC, with J. N. McDonald representing Eckel. A watching brief for the estate of the deceased and Mrs. Stoddard was kept by R. H. C. Harrison.

Winnipeg Shows Welfare Interest

George E. McLellan, Calgary, executive director of the Council of Social Agencies for that city, has reported an upsurge in active interest in welfare services and a broader understanding of the purposes and aims of the different sections that go to make up the council. Post-war readjustment problems have placed a new importance and greater responsibility upon the social worker, Mr. McLellan stated.

Mr. McLellan, also chairman of the Calgary Budget committee, was in Edmonton for a series of conferences with Reg. T. Rose, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. He returned to Calgary on Friday.

Honors List

the plans for the Canada medal and a new order "will be announced in due course," Mr. King said.

Previously it had been announced that the New Year's honors list of more than 1,000 names would be the last to recognize services of members of the armed forces and the merchant marine in the second great war.

BEFORE THE 1944 New Year's honors list was prepared, the Canadian government announced its intention not to recommend the names of further Canadians for awards in the orders of chivalry until after the war. No awards to Canadian civilians have been made since then.

During the recent session of the Commons, Social Credit leader Solon Low suggested that Prime Minister King be the first to receive the new Canada medal.

Mr. King did not elaborate on what class of order would be established, but throughout his political career he has been a firm opponent of hereditary titles for Canadians.

TITLES WERE BANNED in Canada in 1919 when the Liberal-dominated Commons asked the King to refrain from granting titular honors on Canadian citizens. Numbers of titles were granted during the First Great War.

When the Conservatives under Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, now Viscount Bennett, gained a majority in the Commons in 1930, the conferring of titles on Canadians was resumed and the two most noted were the knighthoods granted to the late Sir Charles G. D. Roberts, noted author, and the late Sir Frederick Banting, famed co-discoverer of insulin.

No titles have been granted since 1935 when Prime Minister King and the Liberal party returned to power.

MR. HANSON was born in Sweden in 1865 and had been living in Canada for the last 20 years. He entered the Eventide Home in July, 1942. As far as is known he has no living relatives.

Residents of the home described Hanson as "a very likable chap. Mr. Luxton said that he was in the habit of going for walks and that he thought he had just gone out for a stroll at the time of the accident.

HOSPITAL AUTHORITIES stated that Hanson died about 1:30 a.m. this morning.

It was the second fatal accident this month, following by 11 days the death of Mrs. C. Coughlin who was killed in a hit-run accident at the corner of Jasper avenue and 109 street on Dec. 17. It brought the total number of traffic fatalities this year to seven, the same number as 1944.

Inquest into Hanson's death will open at Hainstock and Son Ltd. funeral home Monday morning.

well up into the Northwest Territories, and attempt to reach Edmonton May 5.

EMPLOYING A SYSTEM of air supply similar to that used by Maj.-Gen. Orde Wingate and his Burma raiders in Southeast Asia, RCAF air supply sections of eight men under leadership of a sergeant and the overall command of an air supply officer, will drop rations, gasoline and other necessities by parachute to the mobile force. More than 1,800 parachutes will be used.

In addition, ski-equipped Norsemen aircraft will be on hand to fly directly to the force with any additional supplies needed and to bring back mail or any injured or ill personnel.

About March 15, the main base will be switched to Yellowknife, N.W.T., and as the mobile force progresses farther, to Edmonton.

SECOND IN COMMAND to Col. Baird is Maj. R. F. Routh of Montreal, who had been attached to Gen. Wingate's Burma raiders and is considered the Canadian army's expert in air supply. Lt.-Col. J. D. Cleghorn, Montreal, commands the base force, and Maj. E. W. Cutbill, Hamilton, Ont., is air liaison officer of the exercise.

tion in utility piecemeal, and was of the opinion that the rate reductons should have been introduced at the time the annual budget was brought to council. He intimated that aldermen should have a picture of the whole set-up before being asked to decide on any rate reductions.

Questioned regarding the making up of the $300,000 loss of revenue through the proposed reductions City Commissioner John Hodgson said that it was anticipated that the rapid increase in the number of consumers would nullify this loss within a space of two or three years. He added that the city was going to grow rapidly on present indications. In the meantime, he added, the loss of revenue would be balanced by a reduction in the amount placed to renewal reserves in the power plant and electric light department accounts.

COMMISSIONER HODGSON told aldermen that in his opinion the policy of "pay as you go" had passed its usefulness, and that it would be proposed that utility extensions in the future would be capitalized to the extent of 50 per cent of the cost of the extensions.

He said that he could not recommend the capitalization of any improvements of a non-revenue bearing character.

Ald. A. Bisset, KC, did not agree with Commissioner Hodgson's proposal to abandon the "pay as you go" policy. He was of the opinion it should be continued, and that greater efforts should be made to lower the bonded debt rather than increase it.

ALD. SIDNEY PARSONS said he would like to see concrete proposals covering the proposed five-year construction plan before council before action was taken on lowering of rates of utilities. He said that people were more interested in better paved streets, concrete sidewalks, and general improvements than they were in getting a few cents off their utility accounts.

Alderman Mitchell, while not opposing the proposal, asked for a report on the amount of probable expenditures that would have to be made to meet increased consumption anticipated from the decreased cost of electrical energy. This information was promised for the special meeting.

SEVERAL ALDERMEN asked if a schedule could be worked out that would give some benefit to users previously on a combination rate. This also will be reported on at the next meeting.

Alderman Mitchell was appointed the city council's representative on Alberta Industrial Development Board.

two shots into the body of Tobias after forcing their way into his store and then fled in a stolen automobile.

The men fell into the police dragnet even as suggestions were being put forward that the hard-pressed forces battling an unprecedented crime outbreak, be augmented and that whippings be included in sentences of convicted criminals.

FROM THE OUTSET, police took the view that the same gang, which had terrorized the eastern part of Toronto and the adjoining townships of Scarboro and East York were responsible for the Tobias killing.

The similarity in methods used in various holdups led police to concentrate their efforts on a hunt for a single gang. In most of the holdups, three men entered the stores while another waited outside in a getaway car.

Chief Constable D. C. Draper and other top ranking police officials joined detectives in questioning the suspects.

POLICE SAID that until the investigation is complete, they will issue no statement other than the announcement of the capture.

Profit on Fair

Prizes awarded $9,745; labor, $9,375; advertising, $5,069; attractions and bands, $11,500; horse race prizes, $21,000, and wages of racing officials, $3,397.

THE ASSOCIATION incurred a loss of $570.69 on the operation of the poultry show, and on the spring show of $2,168.57. Administration expenses of the association were $10,290, while insurance on buildings and equipment cost $5,470.25, and maintenance of grounds, $4,100.

A profit of $16,622 was made on the operation of the fall race meeting, while operation of the arena showed a profit of $3,428.84.

LEE S. WILLIAMS, president of the association, praised the work done by Managing Director Wilson, and also spoke highly of the cooperation given the association by members of the livestock industry in the district.

He said that the horse show held here was greatly superior to others held previously, and also that there was a marked increase in the numbers and quality of livestock being exhibited. This increase in numbers and quality, he added, could be attributed to the increased prize money offered at the summer fair, and the spring and fall shows.

MR. WILSON REPORTED on the progress of the association during the year, and intimated that recommendations relative to certain buildings at the exhibition grounds would be submitted shortly to a meeting of the directors.

The following directors were elected for two years: W. C. Bissell, Viking; Ald. J. M. Douglas; Roy C. Marler, Bremner; James Paul, Namao; Mr. Wilson, and A. Fraser Duncan, KC, Edmonton.

PLAN TO INCREASE U.S. CHINA STRENGTH

By RICHARD CUSHING

SHANGHAI, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Lt.-Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of United States forces in China, said today "plans are under consideration to move additional (Chinese) armies to Manchuria," and more United States troops would be needed to accompany them, supervise debarkation, handle supply problems and give other aid.

HE TOLD A PRESS conference this policy was in line with the newly-broadened United States policy of aid to the National government of President Chiang Kai-Shek. He added that it was one reason why United States army personnel in China should be built up from 12,000 to 15,000 men, even though it would mean bringing an additional 3,000 to 4,000 from the United States or from other theatres.

(He used the phrase "army personnel," not mentioning an estimated 50,000 marines now controlling several vital centres in North China.)

OTHER REASONS for increasing the strength of United States personnel in China, he said, are the necessity of guarding American equipment in the theatre and the organizing of a military advisory group — a permanent, non-operational body of more than 2,000 men headed initially by Gen. Wedemeyer himself.

No date has been set for activiation of the proposed group. Its task, he said, would be to aid China "in the creation of modern, military air, ground and sea forces."

The United States commander said "additional (Chungking) forces have to be transported, in order to repatriate Japanese in Manchuria and secure rail and port facilities to make this (repatriation) possible."

ON THE BASIS of evacuating 300,000 Japanese monthly, the repatriation task alone would keep this theatre in activation eight or 10 months longer, he estimated.

He already has informed his troops that in view of what he termed pro-Chiang policy of the United States, they will not be going home as soon as they had expected. He has cancelled two troopship sailings.

American ships and men already have transported two Chinese armies to north China by sea, landing them at Chinwangtao whence they marched overland into Manchuria with little opposition from Chinese Communists.

City, District Men To Get IODE Cars

Stephen Wonzy, 10304 96 street, and Jimmy Kitaguchi, Raymond, were the winners of cars offered by the Municipal Chapter, IODE, as Ken Stewart, coach of the Regina hockey team, plucked their names from the barrel during the hockey game at the arena Friday night between the Capitols and the Edmonton Flyers.

Mr. Wonzy can either have the automobile or its equivalent, $2,150 in cash. The value of the car won by Mr. Kitaguchi is $2,790. He also has the choice of cash or car.

brought for their release, it certainly did not come from this office. We still have 10 in custody, however."

Col. E. S. Pillsubry, control officer for the Farben Industrie, informed Mr. Nixon that "if and when this office obtains information which provides a basis for substantive charges against these officials or any of them, such charges will be presented promptly to the war crimes authority or to the counter-intelligence department, according to the nature of the accusation."

"UNLESS AND UNTIL such information if obtained," Col. Pillsbury said, "this office will require the full-time services of these officials in the preparation of reports needed for the accomplishment of objectives of seizure of Farben property."

Mr. Nixon replied that "there is a duty to place under arrest the key men in industry and finance until such time as a determination of their culpability and punishment is made by the appropriate authority."

Mr. Nixon said, 83 per cent of the Farben industries in the American zone existed at the end of the war, and all that they need now are raw materials and fuel to start production at an 80 per cent capacity.

"WE HAVE FAILED TO TAKE adequate steps to break it up, and as a result these foxy German businessmen are pulling together their staffs and forming a nucleus for operations right under the noses of control officers whose orders were to destroy it."

Among the Farben czars Nixon said his department was required to release was Carl Krauch, chairman of the board of directors and former director of the division controlling all nitrogen products, synthetic fuel plants, coal mines and later the responsible official under Herman Goering for the development a production of all of Germany's substitute materials.

Border City Wins East Loop Hockey

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

VERMILION, Dec. 29—In one of the fastest games yet seen in the Eastern Alberta hockey league, Lloydminster Friday night defeated Vermilion 4-2 as about 400 fans crowded into the Arena to witness the second meeting of the same two camps.

D. Brimacombe, on an assist from R. Watt, opened the scoring parade in the first period. In the second stanza, Lloydminster made an emphatic reply with three goals, banged in by Sunderland twice, and Miller. Brimacombe again scored for the home team. Lloydminster counted its fourth goal in the third period, Hill assisted by Sunderland getting the credit.

Vermilion skated onto the ice with several new players, among them Spencer, D. Brimacombe, G. Brimacombe, Williams, Mounce and Goalie Buster Martin. Spencer was given a penalty for slashing and Kenny went into the cooler twice for hooking and tripping.

City and Province

1945 Highlights Presented In Annual Bulletin Review

program. The subsequent successful negotiation of the program by Premier Ernest Manning, who was accompanied to New York by Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works put an end to a long-standing ill will between province and bondholders and restored the credit of the former.

THE PROGRAM WAS contained in two bills, one of which provided authority for the provincial treasurer to declare the program operative, thus avoiding the need for another session or any further enabling legislation. The other, amongst other things, allowed amendment of the basis on which the Dominion reimburses Alberta in return of surrender of taxation rights to the former.

Due to the province's recognition of its obligations to bondholders the Dominion had already agreed to reconsider its financial relations with the province.

As a result of Alberta's election of "debt service options" the province was to get $9,000,000 in immediate cash payments and additional grants of more than $1,700,000 for each year during the life of the tax agreement.

UNDER THE REFUNDING program the province agreed to pay over $51,000,000 which would meet overdue securities amounting to about $33,000,000 and provide cash for interest adjustments. To raise this sum the province agreed to sell $29,500,000 worth of new debentures and provide the balance from cash on hand and amounts due from the Dominion.

The bills received royal assent on July 27.

The regular session opened on Feb. 22 and prorogued the afternoon of April 6. During the session 75 bills were passed of which the chief were the National Housing Loans (Alberta) Act, designed to withhold from the NHA restrictions said to have prevented operation of the latter in this province; the Coal Mines Regulation Act, the Provincial Securities Exchange Act which provided authority to implement the refunding program; amendments to the Marriage Act to require brides and grooms to produce medical certificates; amendments to the Liquor Control Act dealing with the creation of local option areas and an act creating the present department of economic affairs, of which Hon. A. J. Hooke is minister and L. D. Byrne, deputy. (Mr. Byrne was one of two technical advisers on social credit engaged by the Aberhart government in 1935).

THE REGULAR SESSION saw the last appearance in the treasury benches of Hon. Solon E. Low, minister without portfolio and provincial treasurer in the Aberhart regime. In the June federal elections Mr. Low, now Dominion leader of the Social Credit party, was elected member for Peace River. The same election saw P. H. Ashby win the East Edmonton seat.

The year 1945 saw an already critical housing situation go from bad to worse in spite of unremitting efforts on the part of Dominion, province and city to meet it with the assistance of public and semi-public organizations and even some individuals.

USE OF ARMY BUILDINGS at the former Jesuit College provided fuel for a fierce controversy which has not yet wholly subsided, though the Dominion government was adamant in designating the buildings for use of tuberculosis hospitals divided between veterans, civilians and Indian patients. As fast as vacation of army or air force buildings could be foreseen negotiations were opened for their taking over wholly or in part as veteran or student housing; for exceptionally heavy registration at the University of Alberta, due to general demobilization of the armed forces, created a problem of accommodation besides taxing academic facilities.

Out of this problem emerged a unique real estate transaction whereby the government of Alberta sold outright the whole of the once-flourishing mining town of Brule. This deal attracted attention of the news columns from coast to coast, but its more immediate interest for Alberta communities was the building material made available much of which has since reappeared in emergency housing.

THE ALBERTA GOVERNMENT was, in one way and another, extremely active in its part in resettling veterans from all the armed forces. Probably most notable was the land settlement scheme whereby the veteran could secure a half section of cleared land paying neither rent nor taxes for three years and one-seventh of the crop to the government for seven years. By another plan the veteran secures half a section of uncleared land on similar terms except that the clearing contractors collects 30 per cent of the crop for seven years and the veteran says 3 and one-half per cent yearly to the government. Quarter sections were made available in the southern irrigation districts to veterans who pay only taxes and water charges.

THE GOVERNMENT, UNDER the auspices of the minister of trade and industry (Hon. C. E. Gerhart), was also responsible for initiating a province-wide survey of industry with a view to ascertaining what could be expected in the way of absorbing veterans into branches of that field. The survey was carried out by a committee and under the management of Reg Rose, secretary-manager of the Edmonton chamber of commerce.

Two important developments were the sittings in Alberta of royal commissions investigating (1) coal mining, under Mr. Justice Carrol, and (2) taxation of co-operatives under Mr. Justice MacDougall. As a member of the mining commission sat Angus Morrison, representing the UMWA, and a former member of the Alberta legislature. The decision of the MacDougall commission that, subject to certain reservations, co-operatives should be subject to taxation caused some perturbation amongst their membership.

AMONGST THE UNFINISHED business of 1945 is the work of extracting oil from the McMurray tar sands. As the year closed this continued to be the subject of discussion between Dominion and province.

Perhaps second in significance to the refunding program was Premier Manning's presentations to the Dominion-provincial conference at Ottawa. The tenor of these was that Dominion provincial relations must be established on a practical basis by removing present disabilities and that a "vastly expanded national economy" must be established to meet post-war needs.

An important link in Alberta's communication system was set in operation by the opening of the Meridian Highway running from Lloydminster south along the Saskatchewan border.

UP IN THE LLOYDMINSTER corner of the province also was enacted the serio-comedy of the Vermilion municipal district councillors who, numbering ten, could not decide upon a site for the district offices. Finally the ministry of municipal affairs intervened and a special commission was installed to take over the council's functions in the interim.

Contract was let for the East Pot Hole coulee dam, a first step in the St. Mary's-Milk River irrigation project. The St. Mary's dam contract has also been let by the Dominion government.

THE END OF HOSTILITIES and commencement of the return of the manpower situation to something like normal permitted the overdue retirement of a number of government officials with long public service to their credit. Amongst these are A. R. Soutter, deputy minister of municipal affairs, and Dr. G. Fred McNally, deputy minister of education. Mr. Soutter will be succeeded early in the new year by J. W. Judge, at present director of assessments. Dr. McNally's successor will be known in January, it has been stated at the ministry's offices. During the year, too, Vernon Pearson retired as provincial motion picture censor and was succeeded by his assistant, Mrs. J. McCaig.

The City

The City of Edmonton budgets for expenditures totalling $5,177,560.98, and set the mill rate at 49½ mills. City land and business tax collections, current and arrears, establish a new record, with land sales totalling well over the $1,000,000 mark.

BANK CLEARINGS, expected to decrease in 1945, showed substantial gain during the year and stood at close to $13,000,000 above the 1944 total at the end of November. Gross revenue from the five city-owned utilities showed an increase of approximately 3.35 per cent over the all-time high record of 1944.

An increase of more than 1,000 is recorded in the number of electric light and power connections. Street railway passengers this year will substantially exceed the previous high of last year.

THE CITY TELEPHONE system established a new record for the number of telephones in use in residential and business places. The city's population increased from 108,416 to 111,745.

The value of the city's assessment has increased by $3,346,040, the sixth consecutive substantial increase.

The debenture debt of the city was redeemed to the extent of $2,920,181.30 and the per capita debenture debt has been reduced to $150.39, as compared with $182.99 in 1944, and $383.61 three years ago.

REFUNDING OPERATIONS were carried out during the year and $6,420,181 of the debt was refunded or retired. Negotiations are completed for the refunding of the balance of the debt on Feb. 1, 1946. The refunding resulted in a reduction of the average interest rate from 5.038 to 3.62, together with a reduction in the outstanding bonded debt of $7,627,694.

The city enjoyed one of its greatest years of home-building with more than 1450 permits being taken out for the erection of homes.

The city, co-operating with the provincial government, and with the Dominion government, undertook several projects designed to provide accommodation for more than 1,000 ex-servicemen's families.

THE CITY CARRIED on a program of public works totalling $3,015,210, the first major program since the beginning of the war. Many of the projects scheduled for 1945 were carried over into 1946 because manpower and materials were not available.

Created the recreational commission, a nine-man voluntary board, to act in an advisory capacity to the city council in relation to all matters affecting the use, development, maintenance and extension of recreational grounds and facilities owned, or controlled by the city, and to provide encouragement and assistance to existing organizations providing sports and recreation.

While the number of fire calls in 1945 was the second highest in the past six years the adjusted loss resulting from fires was the lowest in the six-year period.

MAYOR JOHN W. FRY retired after 13 years of civic service, the last eight years of which was as chief magistrate of the city. He was succeeded in the mayoralty by Harry Ainlay.

Ald. M. M. Downey retired from civic politics after several years of service on the school board and city council.

Two senior civic officials resigned during 1945. They were Alfred Russell, city clerk, and R. W. Watson, superintendent of the power plant. George Docherty was appointed acting city clerk, and W. I. McFarland was appointed power superintendent.

Armed Forces

The hush of peace descending on the battle fronts of World War Two, brought many changes in both Canadian and United States military establishments in Edmonton in 1945.

ONE OF THE MOST important strategic centres on the continent during the long, grim struggle and of outstanding significance in the war against Japan, Edmonton witnessed many cutbacks in operations as the war in both Europe and the Pacific hastened to dramatic termination during the spring and summer of 1945.

Recruiting for all branches of the Canadian armed services ceased here at one time or another during the year.

While previous years had witnessed an ever-increasing tempo in the building-up of military establishments of all kinds in anticipation of a long, hard struggle with the Axis powers, the capitulations of Germany and Japan brought a swing to the opposite trend.

The words "demobilization" and "rehabilitation" were on every tongue as was "reconversion".

MAJOR CHANGES HERE during the year affecting Edmonton were the dissolving of Northwest Service Command of the U.S. Army, command that was responsible for construction of the Alaska Military Highway and Canol pipeline projects, and announcement that the highway and northwest air route stations would be turned over to the Canadian Army and RCAF, in the spring of next year.

Northwest Service Command, headed by Brig.-Gen. F. S. Strong, was replaced by the Sixth Service Command, commanded by Col. C. Clifford. Headquarters are in Chicago.

Another change of importance was the retirement of Maj.-Gen. W. W. Foster, CMG, DSO, ED, as special Canadian commissioner for Northwest Defence projects. He was succeeded by Wing Cmdr. L. H. Phinney. General Foster went to the Pacific Coast to become a member of the B.C. Power Commission.

COMMAND ALSO CHANGED at HMCS Nonsuch, Edmonton naval establishment, where Lt.-Cmdr. J. A. Dawson retired from naval service to enter business in Edmonton during the summer.

He was succeeded by Lt.-Cmdr. W. C. L. Webster.

Closing of the huge $10,000,000 air base built by the USAAF at Namao, eight miles north of Edmonton, was carried out in the fall of 1945.

THE BASE HAD BEEN used chiefly for handling of the flow of lend-lease aircraft going from United States factories to Russia. The Edmonton airport had been badly over-crowded with regular military traffic of both the USAAF and RCAF as well as commercial planes. Namao will become the property of the Canadian government.

One of the big features of 1945 was the brief stopover made in Edmonton by V. M. Molotov, Soviet Russia's famed Commisar of foreign affairs. Molotov stayed in Edmonton overnight both on his way to the San Francisco world security conference and on his return.

MAJ.-GEN. HAROLD L. George, commanding general of the USAAF Air Transport Command, was also an Edmonton visitor while inspecting the Alaskan air route.

Another feature of the year was the great public display of military aircraft and other equipment at the USAAF base in July.

More than 30,000 Edmonton residents inspected the B-29 Superfort bomber and many other types of modern aircraft at the base.

A similar show held later by the RCAF Northwest Air Command here was also well attended, when huge Lancasters and the swift Mosquito bombers were inspected by an interested crowd.

COMMERCIAL AIRLINES operating out of Edmonton also had a busy year, with Trans-Canada Air Lines increasing the number of daily flights in and out of Edmonton from three to four.

CP Air Lines hauled a record amount of freight and passengers to and from the booming Yellowknife gold mining field.

Northwest Air Command of the RCAF becomes the scene of an important new activity as the result of joint action by the RCAF and the RAF to establish a winter experimental station for aircraft in Edmonton.

NEW TYPES OF AIRCRAFT, developed by Great Britain, including the giant Lincoln bomber and a high-speed jet propelled fighter, are being tested here under winter conditions as are other types.

Domestic

A new social service instituted during the year was the payment of family allowances to assist all families, regardless of financial position in the care and education of children. Registration was carried out in Alberta in March of 1945 and the first cheques went out to parents in July.

AS MIGHT BE EXPECTED in the commencement of such a scheme there were many administrative difficulties to be met and overcome, but according to H. C. I. Gillman, Alberta provincial superintendent most of these have been of a minor nature.

It is interesting to note that some of those families who registered in March has not yet supplied the family allowance officers with their addresses and as a result are not yet receiving cheques.

MR. GILLMAN TOOK OVER the duties of superintendent in April from John Cormack, who had looked after local registration.

Up to the end of the year family allowance payments in Alberta had totalled $8,104,000, and there were 102,000 families in receipt of the sums.

This does not include Indian families on Alberta reserves. For these wards of the government cheques go to the Indian agent.

When the work first started valuable assistance was received from the local Women's Volunteer Service Bureau, but as the paid staff grew, the heed for such donated services ceased.

THE NUMBER OF CHILDREN whose parents receive cheques each month was 227,701 in Alberta for the month of December, and the average cheque per family was $13.56. The amounts of the cheques per child varies with the age of the youngster. In Alberta this average is $6.03.

The highest average rate is in the Northwest Territories where the average per child is $10.05, indicating that there are few younger tots in that area.

LIFTING OF GOVERNMENT controls on prices and marketing has had little effect on the Edmonton offices of the Wartime Prices Board. Though less than 50 of the war-induced controls remain, they are the more important ones.

When meat rationing was reintroduced to Canada in October, a number of Edmonton butchers joined in the chorus of protest which arose across Canada from fellow-tradesmen that the system of coupons and tokens, which is a part of the set-up was too complicated and that the rations were unduly restricted.

Coal miners, too, throughout the west took a work-holiday on the grounds that the ration was insufficient for a man employed on such physically exhausting work as digging for coal.

IN ANSWER TO THESE protests some types of meats were moved into a different and more generous category, but in the main, few changes were made in the basic set-up.

When the year opened only such areas as Vancouver, Ottawa, Halifax and other greatly crowded areas were in what was termed "emergency shelter areas," but during the year the terms of the emergency shelter legislation were broadened to include the whole Dominion.

E. Lyle Watson was appointed as emergency shelter officer in Edmonton and was given wide powers of survey and of expropriation of vacant property, if necessary.

IN MOST CASES landlords have responded to persuasion and have rented their vacant properties without being forced to do so, but there have been a few cases in which it was necessary to use the powers of expropriation and move families into empty premises.

Government plans for the absorption of demobilized servicemen into private industry as the war in Europe ended and the Asiatic struggle continued, could not be brought into effect swiftly enough when the Japanese capitulated in August, speeding demobilization of the forces.

The result has been a growing employment problem in Canada, in which Edmonton shares. At latest estimate in the local offices there are four workmen available for every vacancy.

UP TO THE PRESENT, however, there has been little want due to this employment situation, which Edmonton officials say is seasonable and temporary, since most unemployed persons are in receipt of their unemployment insurance payments or of benefits given to returned men following their release.

Up to the end of November $2,325,740 had been paid in Alberta and in the Peace River Block, BC under the provisions of the Veterans' Land Act for farm lands for returned soldiers who could qualify.

Until that same date the land purchased by the officials had cost $17.35 per acre, according to H. Allum, provincial supervisor in Edmonton. The highest price paid had been nearly $50 per acre for improved land while some unimproved land has been secured for as little as ten dollars an acre.

ABOUT 2854 APPLICATIONS from veterans were received for the same period and assistance has been approved for 237 of them for full time farms.

Under the same act are regulations to permit veterans to establish themselves on what are called "small holdings", areas of an acre, more or less in the vicinity of towns and cities.

Of these 280 have been made available, which does not include the 16 recently taken over by returned men on the Martin Estate in Edmonton.

Crop conditions throughout the province were such that applications were made for the payments allowed under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act from more than 600 townships. Many districts which normally have good crops and in which crop failures are virtually unknown were forced this year to take advantage of the government's plan of assistance to farmers whose crops are below what is judged to be a minimum standard.

FIELD MEN FROM THE Edmonton office of the PFAA have nearly completed their surveys, according to Harold Johnson, head of the local office. Farmers may expect that cheques will be in their hands shortly, although the results of the survey have yet to be passed by a Regina board of review.

It was not until restrictive legislation passed by the provincial government on the collection of debts was lifted that the provisions of the National Housing Act came into effect in Alberta. This did not take place until April 23 of this year, but since that time lending institutions have been induced to invest in 538 houses throughout the province. These are divided with 200 for Ed-

Thank Hollywood For Loan Aid

Canada's thanks to Hollywood for its wartime assistance was demonstrated in the presentation of these plaques at a dinner in the movie capital. The Canadian ambassador to Washington, L. B. Pearson, left, presents them to E. J. Mannix, vice-president of the war activities committee, and Kenneth Thompson, chairman of the Hollywood Victory committee.

"FORWARD WITH CANADA"

OTTAWA

OTTAWA IN 1855

Ageless; deep-rooted—towering gloriously to the sky, the Dominion Parliament buildings look out over the magnificent sweep of the Ottawa River, where surging waters thunder over Chaudiere Falls. In these mighty buildings the great of our land meet solemnly to weigh Canada's future, thankful of the peace that we have all helped to bring and deeply conscious of the hopes and responsibilities that lie ahead.

On this richly beautiful spot, 118 years ago Colonel By, realizing the value of a military water highway, founded Bytown and built the famous Rideau Canal. It was this growing community that Queen Victoria chose as Capital of the young, far-reaching Dominion; and here through historically colourful decades tens of thousands of devoted men and women have given their thought and their strength to take all Canada, its provinces and its people ever "Forward With Canada."

FIRST CANADIAN "BUOYANT" CABLE

To sweep the seas of Germany's first "secret weapon," the deadly magnetic mine. Northern Electric with the co-operation of other Canadian manufacturers produced the first Canadian-made "buoyant" electric cable. Towed by mine sweepers this amazing "floating" cable set up magnetic currents in the sea which safely destroyed floating mines. ### Physical Fitness

Recreational Displays Start In Edmonton January 7th

Designed to demonstrate the types of physical training which can be used by any organization to develop good health and fitness, a series of recreational displays will be held in Edmonton starting Monday, Jan. 7, according to an announcement made Saturday.

THE DISPLAYS ARE BEING sponsored by the City of Edmonton Recreation Commission, and will be presented by Edmonton's Dominion-Provincial recreation leaders who were trained recently in Calgary. The leaders and many others throughout the city, have been made available to organizations wishing to use their services in building up health.

Application for the use of these leaders is made through the Recreation Commission, headed by Mickey McGuire.

Featured in the display will be girls' tumbling, boys' vaulting, keep fit training, bench work, exercising in two's, games, folk dances, pyramid building and fundamental exercises. Community singing will lead off each display.

HEADQUARTERS FOR THE displays, open to the general public, will be: Garneau high school, Jan. 7; Calder community hall, Jan. 10; the YWCA building, Jan. 14; and Eastwood high school, Jan. 16.

The YWCA display will be in charge of Olive Barnes. Ted Sawchuk, who had charge of training the leaders in the Calgary course, will present the Eastwood display. Garneau will be shown by Father Timothy and Calder by Miss Clydie Douglas.

Other leaders participating will be Pauline Arnett, Earl Buxton, Denize Calloway, Kay Cameron, Father Canesus, Richard Clegg, Eldon Edwards, Isabel Ferguson, Doris Garside, Father Girard, Stella Halasko, Nick Lesque, Gladys Lemming, Joan MacDonald, May Russell, Dorothy Ward, Bob Jarvis, Florence Le Febvre and Eileen McCartney.

PRESIDENT OF THE Edmonton leaders' group is Lyle Watson. Mrs. Fern Bailey is secretary, while Miss Orsula Forbes, physical director at the YWCA and member of the Recreation Commission, is assisting.

The recreation leader movement was formed before the war, and given greater emphasis in the war years when the national war effort called for a greater degree of fitness on the part of Canadians generally.

ORGANIZATIONS DESIRING to use recreation leaders in building up PT courses will apply to the local recreation committee for approval by Calgary recreation headquarters. The service is free of charge, with a large number of fully-trained leaders prepared to assist.

Girl Test Pilot

Blonde, blue-eyed Helen Harrison of Toronto, Ont., has flown 3,000 hours in all parts of the world, but hasn't had enough. "I just can't keep away from it," she declared as she announced signing up as test pilot with a British firm which is to assemble passenger planes in Toronto. Vancouver-born, she obtained her commercial license in England in 1936, instructed RAF reserve pilots there and then taught flying in Canada and that U.S. Later she joined the U.S. air transport auxiliary and ferried planes around Britain for the U.S. forces, flying 400 miles an hour in Mosquitoes on delivery trips there.

Vacant Coast Hotel May House Homeless

VANCOUVER, Dec. 29.—(CP)—The Vancouver Sun in a special dispatch from Ottawa yesterday said the Dominion government has offered its co-operation in a request from the Citizens' Rehabilitation committee of Vancouver with respect to the old Hotel Vancouver.

The article said Finance Minister Ilsley, in a telegram, told the committee that the Dominion government would share the cost of operation or make a grant to operate the building as an emergency shelter "providing a practical scheme was worked out in Vancouver."

41,371 Lives Lost

Canadian Service Casualties 104,925 for Six War Years

OTTAWA, Dec. 29.—(CP)—Canadian service casualties in the six years of the Second Great War totalled 104,925, including 41,371 dead, compared with casualties of 190,092, including 62,817 dead, in the four years of the First Great War, it was shown yesterday in figures obtained from defence headquarters.

THESE FIGURES, covering the war just ended and complete up to Nov. 30, show 97,022 casualties suffered in Europe, 2,486 in Asia and 5,417 in the Western Hemisphere. By categories, the grand total breaks down to 41,371 killed and died, 43,178 wounded, 10,044 prisoners now released and 332 missing.

Of the three services, the army had by far the greater number of killed and died—22,712. The air force total in that category was 16,694, and the navy 1,965.

Canadian merchant seamen listed as missing and presumed dead as a result of enemy action in the Second Great War totalled 1,062. Comparable First Great War figures were not available.

A breakdown of service casualties follows:

Increase Price Of Canned Salmon From West Coast

VANCOUVER, Dec. 29—(CP)—The Dominion government has agreed to increase the price ceiling on canned salmon purchased from canners on the Pacific coast, it was announced yesterday by representatives of the operators.

They said the canners will receive a $1.40 increase for each case of the 1945 pack compared with the 1944 prices—grade 1 $16.25 a case; grade 2 $11.50 and grade 3 $6.25.

D. B. Finn, Ottawa, deputy minister of fisheries, who signed the new contract with the canners said the increase was allowed to cover increased operation costs.

All the salmon pack, estimated at 1,300,000 cases in 1945, goes to Britain with the exception of 304,000 cases reserved for the domestic market.

Stowaway Bride In Hubby's Care

BALTIMORE, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The case of the stowaway British bride untangled itself a little yesterday.

Still, some more time must elapse before 19-year-old Brenda Grandfield Morgan can know for certain that she can stay in the United States.

THE WAITING PERIOD will be a happy one, though, for the pretty English girl was paroled in custody of her husband, 26-year-old John William (Bill) Morgan, who flew in yesterday morning from Wichita Falls, Texas.

Brenda, who arrived off Baltimore Christmas Eve on a British freighter, was ordered excluded by an immigration special board of inquiry, but officials admitted it was largely a technicality.

Morgan and his bride appealed immediately to the board of immigration appeals in Washington. While that is going through the slow mills of the law, President Truman has before him for signature a bill which will allow wives of service men to enter the country without all the usual formalities.

2 B.C. Children Burned to Death

HANEY, B.C., Dec. 29.—(CP)—Two children were burned to death when their home was destroyed by fire Thursday while their mother was out shopping. Phillip Robert Baillie, three, and Jimmie Allan Baillie, nine months, died in the fire, cause of which has not been determined.

Mother of the dead children is Mrs. Marjorie Baillie, 26.

Haney is about 25 miles east of Vancouver.

Coast War Vets Fund Will Close End of February

VANCOUVER, Dec. 29—(CP)—Officials of the Greater Vancouver Veterans Memorial Centre fund, largest of its kind in Canada, announced last night that their campaign will close Feb. 28 as requested by Hon. R. L. Maitland, KC, British Columbia attorney-general.

Funds for the $350,000 recreational centre for all service personnel in British Columbia, are being sought throughout Canada. Prizes from a draw to be held at the close of sales total $25,000.

Officials said returns already have come in from the prairie provinces and Ontario.

(Mr. Maitland announced recently that all lotteries must cease Jan. 1, but later he granted permission for large lotteries begun for worthy purposes to complete their campaigns by Feb. 28).

Merriment to Reign Supreme

Edmontonians to Hail Arrival of 1946 With Outstanding Program of Activities

By BERT NIGHTINGALE

The advent of 1946, New Year of the atomic age and the era of expected peace on earth, all over the earth and for always, is something that Edmontonians are determined to mark in a way that will leave the occassion filed in the basket of never-to-be-forgotten experiences.

Parties have been arranged by many clubs, societies and other organizations. Dances are to be the order of the evening. There will be special motion pictures, outdoor gatherings, skating, sports events. For the armed services in Edmonton there will be formal military functions.

In time-honored tradition, many Edmontonians will don their "Sunday best" and visit friends, in many cases finding the friends away from their own firesides visiting others; it will be all part of the New Year's round.

There will be New Year's dinners at private homes—dinners which for the first time since the outbreak of war will be made more palatable by the presence of sons, husbands and fathers wearing civilian clothes after discarding the muddy uniforms associated with European and Asiatic battle grounds.

THERE WILL BE OTHER dinner tables saddened by an empty seat that never will be filled. But at most of these there will be prayers and renewed courage to face the coming years and the years that follow.

RESTAURANTS IN ALL parts of the city are going all out to "dish up" New Year's fare to please the most food-fastidious with, traditional turkey dinner, complete with a fruit cocktail, soup, a pleasing dessert (hopes are high that ice cream will accompany the dessert) and coffee.

Theatre-goers are faced with an impressive array of New Year's Eve frolics, with most Edmonton theatres ready for the year's opening with outstanding motion picture presentations with prizes to be distributed as the show progresses and novel feature attractions waiting for the curtain's rise.

THE ANNUAL NEW YEAR'S levee is to be conducted at the assembly room, legislative buildings by His Honor Lt.-Gen. J. C. Bowen, from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Tuesday. Premier Ernest Manning will receive with the lieutenant-governor.

RCAF officers stationed in Edmonton will be "at home" in the officers' lounge, North West Air Command, from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m., a gathering designed to follow up the levee. Invited to attend are dignitaries, businessmen and members of other services in the city.

The annual Macdonald hotel New Year's Eve ball will be held n the main dining room music to be provided for the expected 700 guests by the hotel orchestra. Dancing is scheduled from 10 Monday to 2 a.m. Tuesday.

MEMBERS OF THE RCMP "K" Division, attired in their scarlet uniforms, will be hosts in the barracks gymnasium at a full dress ball starting at 10:30 p.m. Monday.

Dance for members of the Edmonton Badminton club will be held at the club, 10121 120 street, with a turkey supper to be served at midnight. More than 300 persons are expected to attend. The Ionic club's New Year's Eve ball will be held at the Masonic Temple from 12 midnight to 4 a.m., turkey dinner to be served at 10:30 p.m. Monday.

COLORFUL MILITARY observances of the big day have been arranged. At North West Air Command headquarters, an officers' party will be held in the officers' lounge with buffet luncheon and dancing. Non-commissioned officers will hold a dance in the recreation hall, and open house at the sergeants' mess.

The sergeants will be "at home" to officers in their mess at 11:45 a.m. Tuesday, while officers and "non-coms" will join at 1 p.m. in serving dinner to airmen in the airmen's mess.

The American Officers club at the U.S. Army Air Base will hold a formal dance from 10 p.m. Monday at 3 a.m. Tuesday, with breakfast scheduled between 2 and 3 a.m. Father Time will be on hand to symbolize the exit of 1945.

THE U.S. RED CROSS recreational centre, 100 street and 103 avenue, will present "Cafe Society Uptown" from 11 p.m. Monday to 1 a.m. Tuesday, complete with floor show, dinner and music by the 550th U.S. Army Band.

Officers of the Canadian Army will entertain at their annual ball at the Prince of Wales Armory.

Among the hogmanay and pre-hogmanay parties arranged for the holiday is the Edmonton Scottish Society's hogmanay rally at the IOOF Temple on 95 street, local artists will entertain prior to a dance.

Lighted fir trees will present an outdoor setting for the Silver Glade Roller Bowl's New Year's Eve frolic. It is anticipated that 800 persons will attend. Feature of the evening will be an exibition of fancy roller skating.

FOR THE YOUNGER SET, and many a member of the older fraternity, ice skating will be the order of the evening, with all community rinks in tip top condition to welcome in the New Year.

Other lovers of the great outdoors were invited to congregate at Ski Village, White Mud Creek, for New Year's Eve moccasin dancing, tobogganing, skating and skiing.

On New Year's Day, Riley Mullen's Edmonton Flyers will face off against the Calgary Stampeders at the Edmonton Arena.

AND ON JAN. 2, CITIZENS throughout the district are expected to return to their' jobs convinced that Jan. 1, 1946, had been a great occasion and that the coming year was one for hard work and realization of war-prisoned ambitions, hopes and ideals.

Today in Europe

smoke-screen to hide any shortcomings or failures on the part of the government.

THE LORDS WERE PLAINLY conscious of this danger in their attitude toward the loan. This would have been the worst political issue on which they could have challenged the government. If the Lords had thrown out the loan, life in Britain would rapidly have become even more bleak and austere than it is today, and the Socialists would have been able to lay the whole blame on their Lordships' doorstep. But the Lords have learned a great deal since the days before the last war when they threw out the Lloyd George budget of 1909. That action provoked a major constitutional clash climaxed by the passing of the Parliament Act of 1911, which immensely curtailed the powers of the Upper House.

For the last thirty years the Labor Party has stood for abolition of the House of Lords, but strangely enough they did not include this plank in their platform in the recent election. Prime Minister Attlee, by his recent creation of ten or twelve new Socialist peers, has plainly shown his belief that the British Constitution is no barrier to the carrying out of his Socialist plans. He means to work through the existing institutions.

ON PAPER THE HOUSE of Lords is both an anachronism and an anomaly. Altogether there are some 900 peers of the realm of whom some 700 are hereditary while the other 200 have been ennobled in their own lifetime. These 200 first-generation peers are the ones who attended the sessions of the Upper House most regularly and they probably constitute the most highly selective body of expert opinion in the world. In their numbers may be found service-chiefs and scientists, doctors and lawyers, captains of industry and trade-union leaders, bishops and newspaper proprietors.

The House of Lords functions extremely well and plays a most valuable part in the legislative process, particularly as a sounding board for expert opinion and for detailed revision of complicated legislation. It has long been agreed in any bicameral legislature, the two chambers should be elected in different ways and should exerby all constitutional theorists that, cise different powers. The framers of the American Constitution accepted this doctrine when they assigned different functions and different electoral processes to the Senate and to the House of Representatives.

THOUGH MOST OF THE day-to-day work of the House of Lords is done by the non-hereditary peers, there are some thirty or forty "Blood Peers" who play a useful role. And by no means all of them are Conservatives.

Recent additions to the Labor front-bench in the House of Lords are the Earl of Jellicoe, son of the well-known Admiral, and Lord Rothschild, grandson of the famous "Natty" Rothschild who coined the financial aphorism, "Sell on a rising, buy on a falling market." It was Natty also who said apropos of stock-market booms, "They don't ring a bell when they reach the top," a reflection which in its time has sobered many an ebullient "Bull."

THE PRESENT ROTHSCHILD and Jellicoe are both young men. Rothschild is a distinguish scientist. Jellicoe served in this war in the Commandos with exceptional distinction. Both have joined the Labor party since the war.

It is always possible that a clash may develop in this parliament between the Labor government and the House of Lords. But one thing is quite certain: the Conservative peers, under the leadership of Lord Cranborne, never would throw out a major piece of government legislation unless it involved some tampering with the Constitution and unless they were sure that public opinion was on their side.

NAPOLEON ONCE SAID, "A Constitution should be short and obscure." One cannot say that the British Constitution is short, for it has never been written. Instead it has evolved from a mass of precedent and tradition.

The British Constitution is anomalous, yet it is instinctively understood by the people. The strange thing is that it works, not in spite of, but largely because of its anomalies, and there is every reason to suppose that its biggest anomaly, the House of Lords, will continue to flourish even under the Socialist government.

"Blue-Boy" Saved

Transformed from a hopeless invalid to a normal happy schoolboy from a blue-skinned to a pink-faced boy by rare heart operation is Adrian Seguin, 8, of Toronto, Ont. His mother, Mrs. George A. Seguin, who was born in Rumania, said that she first obtained hope for her son from a newspaper article, reporting another successful operation at the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, Md. So far as outward appearances go he is now no different from a healthy, big boy for his age, and the joyful excitement of the Seguin home since his recovery has not yet worn off.

Rubber Company Plans Program Of Improvement

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 29.—Gutta Percha & Rubber, Limited of Canada, has embarked upon a post-war program of improvements in their Toronto plant, and has engaged the services of Giffels & Vallet, Inc., Engineers, of Detroit, for design of this work, according to Paul W. Leham of the engineering firm.

LAST YEAR IN MAKING their post-war plans, the Gutta Percha company retained this firm of industrial engineers to survey their plant and make recommendations for improved processing.

Recently they gave to Giffels & Vallet the assignment of carrying into effect some of their recommendations, according to Mr. Leham, chief engineer of the rubber division of Giffels & Vallet.

"WE WILL DEVELOP in detail, some of the recommendations made in our earlier survey," Mr. Lehman said. "Our activity will be particularly designed to accomplish five major objectives: To ensure a high quality product; to produce it more efficiently; to cut the cost of production; to improve the working conditions of employees; to increase earnings."

The firm of Giffels & Vallet, Inc., is the world's largest engineering organization specializing in the processing of rubber plants.

THEY HAVE PERFORMED similar assignments for most of the important rubber companies in the United States, including U.S. Rubber, Goodyear, Firestone, General Tire & Rubber, Inland Rubber, Kelly-Springfield, Dayton and numerous others. They have also served the Dunlop Company in Canada.

Quebec Is Hoping Resume Shipment Eels to Germany

QUEBEC, Dec. 29.—(CP)—Quebec province expects to resume its eel shipments to Italy and Germany next year and contracts are being established already through the department of trade and commerce to promote Quebec's post-war fish industry.

During the war years, Quebec's annual eel catch was sent to the United States where the foreign population of New York's East Side welcomed as a delicacy the wriggly, snake-like fish.

This year again the greater part of the catch was shipped to the United States, but the catch is believed not to be high.

toward the Future!

THE Promise of the New Year is the Hope of the Future. That Your Hopes and Desires for the New Year will be realized is our wish at the beginning of 1946.

But, for the Future, we must all do something more than merely offer good wishes: . . . something Constructive, something Vital, something which Creates and Expands and Encourages.

We must strive, in our broader business organization to make practical application of the principles and spirit which characterize the "Team Play" idea of better Sports.

To That End the Organization of People which you see pictured here is dedicated.

Good Work Done at Moscow

Unlike the meeting at London, the Moscow conference of foreign ministers of the United States, Russia and Britain wound up in an atmosphere of cordiality and reported very substantial progress. That in itself is most encouraging. It should do something to offset the rumors of cleavage between Russia and the democracies which have been floating on the air waves and filling many newspaper columns.

Three of the decisions reached at the conference are outstanding. The ministers agreed to recommend that the U.N.O. set up a commission to direct the development of atomic energy; that Japan be placed under a four-power control body; that Russia, the United States, Britain and China act as trustees of Korea for five years.

The proposal for the control of atomic energy follows the line of the Washington agreement. The commission would consist of permanent members of the Security Council of the U.N.O. In the wording of the communique the object would be to promote the use of this energy for peaceful ends. To prevent it being otherwise employed the commission would be empowered to carry on inspection work for the safeguarding of countries which comply with the restriction to peaceful use. Which seems to mean that the commission could send investigators into any country where it suspected atomic deviltry was afoot. That would be a drastic breach of traditional sovereignty, but how else can mankind be protected against the machinations of political and scientific scoundrels working in holes and corners?

Russia succeeded in its demand for four-power control over Japan, if this second recommendation of the ministers is approved by the U.N.O. In return Moscow is to name a representative on the Far Eastern Commission, which sits in Washington and issues directives and recommendations to General MacArthur. A Council would be set up, composed of representatives of the Big Four states, which would have veto power over directives sent along by the Commission. This looks like building up a lot of machinery for the handling of Japanese affairs. There is fairly obvious danger in the multiplication of bosses, with plenty of opportunity for side-stepping and friction. How the arrangement will work, if adopted, must depend on how much good sense, tact, and singleness of purpose the Big Four put into the effort. One obdurate or greedy member of the Council could deadlock the whole apparatus.

A trusteeship of Korea is plainly necessary. Its people are unschooled in the ways of self-government. To simply turn them loose at once to play with a mechanism about which they know next to nothing would be no favor to them and could be dangerous to their neighbors. That they can attain the mental and moral capacity to govern themselves in only five years is to be doubted.

The conference rates as a decided success. It showed representatives of the Soviets and of democracies working together in good will to dispel fear, bring order out of confusion, and restore confidence among men. If the ministers did not solve all the "problems", nor solve any of them completely—who supposed they could?

Another Big Surplus

Though traffic showed a decline toward the end of the year, the National Railways will turn in a surplus of $25,000,000 to the Dominion treasury as the outcome of 1945 operations. This is the very gratifying statement issued by Mr. R. C. Vaughan, president of the organization. The surplus figure is higher by $2,000,000 than that of a year ago.

This is the balance remaining, of course, after all capital charges have been provided for and the necessary sums set aside for maintenance and replacement, pensions and other fixed obligations.

As to the future, the President says post-war plans are well advanced, and cash reserves set aside for repairs and renewals of the railways and equipment, for amortizing war projects and making other war-to-peace adjustments. About 10,000 employees have returned from the fighting forces and rejoined the staffs of the far-flung railway system and its steamship and other related enterprises.

For Simple Language

There is significance—and hope—in the report that the Canadian delegation to the United Nations preparatory commission is urging the use of simple, everyday language in international affairs. These Canadians are insisting that the United Nations abandon the "jargon of Geneva", that stiff and official dialect which rendered so much of the proceedings of the League of Nations unintelligible to the average man.

The Canadians have taken an exceedingly sound position in this matter which is much more important, actually, than appears at first sight.

The success or failure of any international body will depend upon the ability of that body to hold the interest of the average man. So long as the common people maintain a living interest in its operations, it will have life and vitality. The minute it ceases to enjoy this popular support, it will die of the weight of boredom—as the League died.

International relations must be real and vivid and practical. For that reason the pronouncements should be couched in real and vivid and practical language.

—V—

Who Is Demos, Anyway?

Congress has dropped all immediate efforts to pass President Truman's bill to set up fact-finding boards to investigate serious industrial disputes. Canadians have no concern in this, except that measures to keep industrial peace adopted in the United States might encourage similar action in Canada.

The decision of Congress does not seem any more likely to make for industrial harmony than the action of members of our own House of Commons in voting themselves a fifty per cent tax-free increase in pay without giving any concession whatever to low-income taxpayers in private life.

What this amounts to is a refusal by Congress to assert the right of the public to know, officially, all the ins and outs about a labor dispute which ties up or threatens to tie up a productive industry—even though the public may be dependent upon that industry for such vital things as fuel, food or transportation.

Neither the inaction at Washington nor the action at Ottawa does anything to strengthen faith in the efficiency and the fairness of democracy. Exactly the contrary, in both cases.

—V—

The Big Three are to advise King Michael of Romania that he had better let some other political parties have a share in governing the country, while Stalin will drop a kindly hint to the cabinet of Bulgaria that it should take some democrats into its ranks. The division of labor is significant. King Michael would look with suspicion on advice which came from Moscow alone, and if the democracies told the Bulgarians what to do they would likely do something else. A "sphere of influence"—like propaganda—is only an evil when it is wrongly used. The Balkans will be more peaceful if the little countries take the advice offered to them, and they are more likely to take it because it is offered by friends.

In Troubled Jugoslavia

Strange Companions Who Once Fought With and Were Decorated by Hitler Are Now in Seats of the Mighty, Riding Rough-Shod Over Democracy

By Dorothy Thompson

The first information to come out of Moscow reveals that the American habit of advancing to a point from which, later, to retreat, has become a pattern. Every conference opens with, or is proceeded by, a fait accompli by the Soviet Union, and the conference then makes it Big Three policy.

The new information is that we shall recognize the "government" of Jugoslavia.

Dorothy Thompson

AT THE END of October, we, along with Great Britain and the Soviets called Tito's attention to the provisions of Yalta as they effected the "elections" he had scheduled for November 11th, and advised postponing them until conformable conditions could be established. Tito called them anyhow, and the Soviet supported his decision.

What happened was the regular totalitarian plebiscite: one list only, one propaganda only; disfranchisement of "Fascist collaborators." A new slogan to describe all opposition: police terror; packing of the plebiscite by extending the vote to all who "had fought in the resistance," which included youngsters of twelve to seventeen; (the voting age is 18). Unable to register their protests thousands of Jugoslavs absented themselves, a risky thing to do, because in the "new democracy," silence is not regarded as consent, but as inviting a visit from the political police.

The United States withheld recognition—as from Bulgaria—and now from Moscow rescinds. Nonrecognition is a weak reed of policy anyhow, but pretty soon Washington's diplomatic corps, with its privileges, will, at this rate, be packed with Soviet agents.

OUR GOVERNMENT knows all about the Tito regime. Not only is it monstrous dictatorship, exercising a monstrous terror, but its despot is a Soviet quisling. Tito appeared in Jugoslavia to fight for "his country" only after Russia entered the war. He was a member of the Russian military intelligence. Numbers of experienced objective correspondents have been in Jugoslavia, and all, without exception report privately, and some publicly, that Tito has not more than a small minority of popular support.

BUT IT IS DOUBTFUL whether Tito's role is even "ideological." He is in Jugoslavia to hold an important strategical front for the Soviet's expanding empire. Jugoslavia is essential to pressure on Turkey—which was saved from the Germans by the Jugoslav rising, in which Tito, at the moment, was entirely disinterested. So is Iran essential, and the Soviet agents who are "liberating" Azerbaijan are in the same game. In playing this game, the question of former "collaborationists" is inconsequential. The "realistic" definition of anti-Fascist is "whoever will play our game," and for those who will the past is forgotten and forgiven.

THUS IT WILL interest those who think that Tito is anti-Fascist, to know that the commander of his Belgrade Guard is none other than General Mirkomesich, who in 1941 commanded a regiment of artillery on the side of the Germans on the southern front, and in 1942 headed a Croat division which fought with Von Paulus at Stalingrad. For this he received the decoration of the oak leaves with swords from Adolph Hitler. Taken prisoner by the Russians, he was returned to Belgrade to aid Tito.

Sulejman Filipovich, a member of Tito's cabinet, commanded a division of the Fascist Ustachi in Bosnia, and for his horrible slaughters of the population was put high on the list of war criminals prepared by the original government in exile.

Dragutin Pirc, commander of Jugoslav aviation, was chief of Anton Pavelic's school of aviation. Pavelic, agent of Mussolini, involved in the assassination of King Alexander, also fought with and was decorated by Hitler.

All this has importance beyond Jugoslavia. Officers are plainly to be accepted if they will serve Russian purposes, and there are many high German officers still in Moscow, and not confined to prison camps! Not one of them is on trial in Nuremburg.

THE PATTERN OF activity in Jugoslavia is Nazi. There is the same uniformed youth (often armed) continually marching, and shouting in mind-reading rhythm, "Hail Ti-To, Ti-to, Ti-to," interspersed, for variation, with Sta-lin, Sta-lin; the same ubiquitous Ikon of the fuehrer's face; the same Gestapo units—with other letters, of course.

THIS, THEN, is what we are "recognizing": The dictatorship of a foreign agent over a country whose people fought with us during the Russo-German pact; the gerrymandering of Serbia, the centre of the real resistance to Germany, so as to write her out of Jugoslav politics as a factor; the elevation to positions of power of former Fascist, German-decorated Croatian generals; and the tyrannous suppression of the people.

And: Note for the war crimes tribunal: there are tens of thousands of Jugoslav patriots in concentration camps. M. Kosta Fotic, "former" Jugoslav minister to Washington, who was specifically named by Ribbentrop, on April 8, 1941 as being the leaders of those "disturbing harmonious relations between Jugoslavia and Germany" would certainly land amongst them, if he should ever return to his betrayed land.

Little Man Taxed Into Poverty as Members—

Grab $2,000 Tax Free

Senator Says "Dragon's Teeth" Being Sown as Canadians Forced to Impoverished Standards by Policy of Finance Minister

From Toronto Telegram

The Senate gave third reading to the $2,000 pay increase to members of both Houses of Parliament. Eleven Senators opposed the increase and 39 supported it.

All eleven who opposed the bill were Liberals.

They were Senators W. A. Buchanan, James Murdock, A. C. Hardy, T. A. Crerar, T. D. Bouchard, N. L. Paterson, G. P. Campbell, Norman Lambert, A. N. McLean, G. G. McGeer and F. W. Pirie.

During the debate objection was raised by Senator A. N. McLean to singling out a single class of citizens, the Members of Parliament, and giving them a preferred tax position. Senior McLean has calculated that the tax reduction given by Finance Minister Ilsley in the budget means a saving of only $7.65, or 1 per cent, on a wage earner receiving $800 a year whereas the tax relief on the MP's $4,000 indemnity amounted to $200, and with the tax free $2,000 allowance to members of the Commons it will mean an 80 per cent increase.

SENATOR MCLEAN stated he believes the timing of the increase for members of parliament is bad, and the exemption from taxation on the $2,000 being allowed members of the House of Commons is wrong in principle. "If this exemption for members was part of a general program to raise exemptions on other classes of citizens and raise salary ceilings on the white-collar classes it would not be objectionable, but such does not appear to be the case.

"I was speaking to a high bank official not long ago," Senator McLean continued. "The bank this official serves is prosperous, but he told me they could do little or nothing for their country managers by way of increases, as salaries had been frozen for several years, and in the meantime the family obligations of these managers had increased substantially and many had gone steadily in debt. This is a concrete example where people who are quite willing to pay all taxes, find it most difficult, if not impossible, to get a raise at all."

"If parliament feels circumstances are such that it must continue to tax single persons down to $660 a year and married persons down to $1,200 a year, this is no time for tax-free increases for any one. We all know that no one can live decently at all and pay for the very necessities of life and have imposed on them such taxes as the lower brackets call for.

"It is simply a case of taxing people into an impoverished standard of living that should have no place in Canada," said Senator McLean. "I am told one of the duties of this House is to strive to protect the most humble citizen and now we have an opportunity for it by objecting to this tax-free increase to show that we are not in favor of letting anyone bypass their fair taxes and leave the small men out on a limb and in practically the same position regarding excessive taxation as he has been right along."

SENATOR MCLEAN said if the law makers are allowed means of obtaining substantial tax relief they will be less sympathetic with the rest of the citizens who must pay taxes. He mentioned the judiciary as being less well off, after paying their taxes than they were at the time of confederation, yet they are expected to have financial independence so that they can dispense even-handed justice.

He regretted that many years ago the income tax department had not arranged to allow members of parliament to deduct their out-of-pocket expenses when living away from home. This was not done. It did not seem to be fair to allow every member of the Commons a flat $2,000 tax-free allowance; it will not even work equitably between members who live near Ottawa and those who live in the east or western sections of the country.

The increase provides a tax-free $2,000 for members of the Commons and a taxed $2,000 for cabinet members, leader of the official opposition and Senators. It was approved yesterday by the Commons.

SENATOR NORMAN LAMBERT (L-Ontario) opposed the bill with "regret" that he differed "with several of my friends."

His opposition was based on the tax-exempt feature and "the invidious character" of the bill as regarded the unity of parliament.

He spoke as a member of parliament not simply as a member of the Senate.

The tax exemption for members of the Commons established a privileged class in the country. It was "distasteful."

He resented being called upon to approve legislation that had already prompted "recriminations."

"Dragon's teeth" were being sown. An "invidious" distinction was being drawn between the two Houses by the difference in exemptions. It was contrary to the essence of the constitution.

This'n That

"Johnny," said his mother, severely, "someone has taken a big piece of ginger cake out of the pantry."

Johnny blushed guiltily, and fidgeted around.

"Oh, Johnny," she exclaimed. "I didn't think it was in you!"

"It ain't all," replied Johnny, "part of it's in Elsie."

By Making Loan to Great Britain—

America Helps Herself

Even If Every Nickel Was Lost It Would Still be a Paying Investment for U.S.A.

From The Chicago Sun

Prompt ratification of the American loan to Britain is an urgent necessity. Ratification with a minimum of debate. Without too much penny-pinching.

For the new agreement, reached after such painful negotiations, is principally a political act. If— which is impossible—every nickel of the loan were ultimately to be lost, it would still be as much a paying investment as winning the war.

Obviously the agreement is, at the same time, an economic measure and a most important one. If it works out as planned, it will help to stabilize the business world. It will go some distance toward restoring multilateral world trade. It should free consumers from losses due to international cartels, those footpads of modern commerce. It should end the mischievous, German-invented practice of currency manipulation. And it should put Great Britain solidly back on its base as financial pillar.

ALL THOSE THINGS are well worth doing. But the real stake behind the Anglo-American agreement is something else, something greater—namely, the preservation of a society based on individual freedom rather than on protected unfreedom.

We do not have to worry about Britons keeping their independence. They did not challenge the Nazis single-handed in 1940 in order to submit to anybody's dictation in 1945. It is to maintain their essential independence that even now—after the war has ended and the worst is over—they go on heroically submitting to restrictions the hint of which would throw Americans impatient of office of price administration regulations into hysterics.

But without temporary aid, Britain cannot quickly recover its power. And this power is essential to the preservation of a society, in the main, based on freedom.

Wide Land Redistribution

H. T. OWENS IN THE SQUARE DEAL (TORONTO)

The cataclysm of 1939-45 has brought many countries to the consideration of primary questions. These crystallize around land tenure. The news carries pregnant items. "Estates in Saxony Divided by Russians" is one headline, and the item reads: "by autumn of this year all the big estates in Saxony will be broken up and given to small farmers." Under the Russian occupation and the Lublin government the large estates in Poland were confiscated. Tito's government in Yugoslavia has done the same thing.

In the early years of Czechoslovakia and under the Venizelos regime in Greece, large estates were cut down, while in the Russian revolution land was forcibly nationalized. Liquidation of the great landed estates will be effected wherever Russia has a paramount interest in Eastern Europe. When Premier T. V. Soong of China visited Ottawa recently he told correspondents that land reform is one of the tenets of the Kuomintang government, and remarked: "We had already embarked on land reform before the war." A spokesman for Turkey has said that a move is on foot there to break up the large estates. In "People on Our Side," Edgar Snow tells us that in Outer Mongolia, now known as Mongolian People's Republic, "the state owns the land, which formerly was the property of lamas and princes," and that both farmland and pastures are given rent-free to the people for their own use. He says further that "every Mongol is entitled to the free use of a hectare of land for farming purposes provided he cultivates it."

So much for countries where the leaven has been working. But what about those where no such move has been made? Mr. Snow pictures India as a country where 90 per cent of the peasants are serfs or bond-slaves for a few million zemindars or landlords. One of the sore spots to the British when Burma had to be evacuated was that the great majority of Burmese did not lift a finger to aid the British Raj. No less an authority than Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham has said the reason for that situation was that, under British rule, zemindars from India had bought up the bulk of the ricelands in the fertile valleys of Burma, and had so rackrented the Burmese that their resentment against the rulers who had allowed that condition to develop made them prone to listen to the blandishments of independence offered them by the Japanese. . .

All of which is only to say that the land question is paramount everywhere—even in Canada.

Didn't Use Japs

United Kingdom Information Office

LONDON—In view of press reports from Batavia that Japanese are assisting British forces in fighting Indonesians, and particularly a report purported to quote a British spokesman as saying "Japanese are good troops who fight well," the following facts may be useful:

As stated by the foreign secretary in his speech in the House of Commons on 23rd November, the United Kingdom military authorities in Java were obliged, for want of manpower or transport, to use the expedient of placing on Japanese commanders the responsibility for maintenance of law and order and for the safety of prisoners. The Japanese, in disobedience of these orders, later relinquished control together with a large quantity of equipment to Indonesian forces whom they had previously armed and trained.

Admiral Mountbatten has reported that in no instance have Japanese been used to quell Indonesian resistance, though they have on occasion been employed on guard duties and have fought Indonesians in self-defense when attacked.

General evidence is that Japanese elements have been and still are assisting Indonesians.

Good News

Editor, Bulletin: Speaking at Olds in the Ninth Victory Loan campaign Leonard Nesbitt, an Alberta agricultural expert, said: "Last year Alberta farmers had a gross cash income of $314,000,000—an all-time record. The experienced farmer realizes that war years are exceptional years, in which wisdom indicates that preparations should be made for less prosperous times", and "In 1933 Alberta's gross farm cash income was only $67,000,000, or about one-fifth of the 1944 cash income with bonuses included. We do not want a return to the conditions of 1933".

Those are significant and thought-provoking figures and, in this reader's humble judgment, merit the study of urban Canadians—because they seem to me to put the authentic verdict of the market-place behind the wise warning of a U.S. farm leader: "Wherever you look, through history, you will find that nations broke down upon the farm—and when any nation breaks down upon the farm, it breaks down everywhere!"

"I was heartened to learn, too, that "as between 1938 and 1944, inclusive, mortgage debts (of Alberta farmers) have been decreased by around 51 per cent." That's keen and good news. May the trend continue.

That Extra $2,000

Editor, Bulletin: The average indemnity our MP's have voted themselves in the new legislation is approximately $60 per day, ie. from 1935 to 1944 inclusive the House of Commons was in session 1,600 days, and since the House usually does not sit Sudays, our MP's work less than 100 days annually for which they draw $6,000 or $60 per day.

Now politics in embryo, is similar to farming, gold mining, and lumbering, and of course must be classed among seasonal occupations in everything but take home pay, in this, the difference is from $60 per day for MP's; to from $8 per day to $50 per month, for farmers, miners, mechanics, farm laborers and lumbermen, the actual producers and processors of the world's sustenace and services, and the people who make life and progress possible in this Canada of ours.

Again of all these, our MP's are the only occupational groups empowered to set their own pay.

In the press of November 10, 1942, we read, that while a war appropriation bill of $2,000,000,000 with the possibility of many of the lives of our fighting men at stake, and involving possibily democratic victory, was before the House for second reading there, were only 23 out of a total of 245 MP's, in their seats to vote on the measure.

Less than 10% of the members of the House of Commons, and the representatives of the great Canadian peoples, were enough interested in their country's $2,000,000,000, the upkeep of our fighting forces, and the victory of democracy, or even in their own $60 per day, to stay in their expensive soft cushioned seats and consider the pros and cons of the questions or principles involved; while some 39,000 of the flower of Canadian manhood, many of whose incomes were less than $6 per day, suffered bled and died in defence of that misused and abused word democracy.

The present action of our MP's, has made a joke and a laughing stock of the word democracy and the principles and ideals it stands for.

If 10% of their number were able to vote that $2,000,000,000 appropriation; can they tell us Canadian voters why we should keep paying the absentee 90% of their number their $60 per day ad infinitum.

Major and Minor Notes

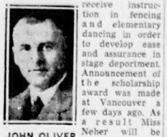
By John Oliver

SHIRLEY NEHER, talented Edmonton soprano has been awarded the Robert Fiddes scholarship at the British Columbia Institute of Music and Drama. The award carries with it vocal training, operatic coaching, instruction in stage technique and makeup. In addition there is opportunity to receive instruction in fencing and elementary dancing in order to develop ease and assurance in stage deportment. Announcement of the scholarship award was made at Vancouver a few days ago. As a result Miss Neher will be able to continue her studies and at the same time fill professional engagements. It will be a matter of satisfaction to Edmontonians to hear of her success. For several years she has been one of this city's leading singers and actresses, having taken leading roles in the Edmonton Civic Opera Society productions of "The Firefly", "Katinka" and "The New Moon" and appearing in many concerts and other events calling for fine singing combined with artistic interpretation.



JOHN OLIVER

Last January she was soloist at an Edmonton Philharmonic Society concert, at which she sang Love and Music, These Have I Lived For, from Puccini's "Tosca" and the old English Cherry Ripe. Although she had had much previous experience on the stage, she said it was that concert in which she "found" herself. Thereafter she felt confident of her own ability. Soon after she decided to go to Vancouver. She spent last summer there, appearing in productions at The Theatre Under the Stars and in concert versions of Wagner's "Tannhauser" and Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana".

Next summer she will make further appearances with the Theatre Under the Stars, and has been engaged for concert versions of Wagner's "Lohengrin" and Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci". Recently she toured Western Canada with Nelda Faulkner, Edmonton pianist, under the auspices of the Federation of Music Teachers, visiting Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Vancouver and other points. In all appearances she and Miss Faulkner won outstanding success.

The aria from "Tasca" has won her special renown. She told this writer recently that in almost, if not every case where she submitted a tentative list of works for performances the Puccini aria invariably has been requested. Her many friends here will wish her the best of luck in taking full advantage of the scholarship.

Another young Edmonton soprano will be before the Canadian public tomorrow when Moira Elizabeth McCaskill, who is popularly and colloquially known as just plain Betty, will be heard on a program known as Singing Stars of Tomorrow, which originates in Toronto and is carried over the Trans-Canada network of the CBC. It will be heard over CJCA from 3:30 until 4 p.m. Miss McCaskill, now 23 years old, was born at Fort McMurray. She was a pupil here of Zelie Delsart, who, incidentally also taught Miss Neher. Later Miss McCaskill studied with John Goss at Vancouver and later Edgar Schofield and B. Remley, of New York. At present she is a student with Albert Whitehead, Toronto.

Her repertoire now has grown to 400 works, in English, French, German and Italian. She has won musical festival awards here and also has captured scholarships from the Edmonton Rotary club, and the Women's Musical club. In addition to singing, she also plays the piano. Lieder and ballad music are her favorite musical forms, and her main ambition is to become a radio star. Tomorrow she will sing the aria Il est Doux, Il est Bon, or He is Good, He is Kind, from Massenet's opera "Herodiade" and the lovely ballad The Last Rose of Summer. It is of interest to recall that when the series of programs on which she is singing was inaugurated two years ago, she was the first contestant.

REGARDING THE ADJUDICATORS at the Alberta music festival to be held at Lethbridge next May 20 to 25, namely Sidney Harrison and Arnold Goldsbrough, it may be mentioned that both come from London. Mr. Harrison will adjudicate in instrumental classes and Mr. Goldsbrough in vocal and choral events. Mr. Harrison is a professor at the Guildhall School of Music, London, and is well known as a concert artist, author and lecturer, as well as conductor of the London Philharmonic Orchestra children's concerts.

Vocal Star

Betty McCaskill, Edmonton soprano, who will be heard on the Singing Stars of Tomorrow program over the CBC on Sunday afternoon.

DURING THE WAR he served with the London regional committee for education in the armed forces as lecturer-recitalist, visiting the Home Fleet and adjudicating at a combined services competition festival. Later he became consultant to the London regional committee, and made lecture tours to Egypt, Sicily, Malta and naval ports of Germany. Mr. Goldsbrough is one of the younger group of English musicians, and has been rapidly winning a name for himself as an authority in vocal solo and choral work, as well as in adjudicating at music festivals.

NOT SO MANY years ago, a thin young piano student for lack of the necessary admission price used to try to crash the gate and gain access to concerts at historic Carnegie Hall, New York. Although he lacked the color and the persuasiveness of his counterpart in baseball, the noted "One-Eyed Connolly," the young Carnegie Hall gate-crasher met with considerable success. However, he was not always able to get in and often got caught and usually, as it happened by the same usher. As he was heaved out of the commodious hall and landed on the hard, uninviting curb, he would turn to the attendant and say, partially in bravado and partly in fervent hope, "I'll come back and haunt you some day from the platform."

AND AS GENERAL Douglas MacArthur made good his promise on leaving the Philippines, that he would return, so did William Kapell, 23-year-old American pianist, who will appear at the Empire theatre later this season under the auspices of the Women's Musical Club, make good his statement. He has returned to Carnegie Hall and the same usher who used to throw him out, now proudly brings to him ice water and towels to mop his brow when the going gets tough.

IN 1941, KAPELL, a New Yorker by birth, won the Philadelphia Youth Contest. After that he won the Naumberg award and the Town Hall award, among the most coveted in the United States. Last year the mighty Philadelphia Orchestra embarked on the unprecedented course of signing him as a soloist for three years in succession, as a result of which he will play with that orchestra this season no fewer than six times, in a schedule that includes 27 other orchestral appearances.

His first overseas appearances were made last summer in Australia. The men "down under" took a liking to him and one well-known Australian pianist, Marshall Sumner, clapped so hard after one piece that he strained a muscle and had to postpone a concert of his own.

JOSEF HOFMANN, noted pianist who was scheduled to appear at the Empire theatre on Jan. 7 in recital under the auspices of the Junior Hospital League has had to cancel not only his appearance here, but his entire tour. However, a rearrangement of plans has resulted in the league engaging Witold Malcuzynski, noted Polish pianist, who will play on Jan. 26. Incidentally, he is appearing in Winnipeg on Jan. 10 under the auspices of Fred M. Gee. Mr. Malcuzynski, since first appearing on this side of the Atlantic has scored a series of sensational successes, and the hall mark of excellence was placed on his playing when he was engaged to appear with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra at Carnegie Hall. Of his playing, Dr. Artur Rodzinski, musical director of the Philharmonic, stated that "He feels Chopin as few of even the greatest do. His interpretation was wonderful to me. He moved me deeply, and has a great personality with tremendous appeal to the public."

Sports Roundup

Prolites Looking Better In Spite of 8-7 Defeat

A total of 15 counted goals, with each camp shuttling in an additional uncounted goal, figured in the 8-7 score hung up this week as the fast-skating North Battleford Beavers uncorked a second frame blast to curb the optimism of the Lloydminster Prolites, playing on home ice.

TWO GOALS FOR EACH of the squads in the final frame did nothing to help the Prollites, who at the end of the first stanza were leading a 4-1 score. Rallying in the second period, the Beavers fought their way from the lower deck to pound in five counts to the Lloydboys' one.

Border city hockey fans found the local club looking considerably improved over the last game on Lloydminster ice. However after the first chapter, the visitors played a well-organized game and had things pretty well their own way. With two of the Prolites' defence players out of town for the holidays, the Lloyd sextet was weak on rear guard and the smooth-rolling Beaver lines several times worked their way right into the Prolite defence. Bud Oliver, wielding a mean war club in the local nets, did a sterling job of covering-up.

George, centreman, and Lawrence, one-time Prolite ace, were standouts for the visitors while Lloydminster stars were Oliver in the nets, Kinney on defence and Sunderland, the pivot.

Lineups: North Battleford—Perrie, Piper, Dahlberg, Pelltier, George, Essau, Brown, Linnell, Lawrence, Cousins and Adams. Lloydminster — Oliver, Kinney, Bond, Annsley, Hill, Sunderland, McLean, Miller, Shortell, Duffield, Mills. Duffield was injured in the first frame and was replaced by Bolton.

OUTPOINTED—The Wetaskiwin Colonels were too powerful for the Camrose Maroons when they met on Camrose ice this week. The Colonels early in the game took a one-point lead, with the final score reading 4-3. A crowd of about 1,200 fans witnessed the fray.

SEMI-DEBACLE—Hardisty this week slipped Sedgewick a 7-2 trouncing in a Highway 13 League meeting. Spencer led Hardisty's scoring parade with five tallies to his credit, and Morrison and Clark each soloed. Keith Rodin did a good job in Hardisty's nets.

ROCK SPOTLIGHT—Members of the Red Deer Curling Club were hosts this week to about 50 district farmers who jolted over rough roads to enjoy their first curling of the season. Equipment was supplied by the townsmen with two draws played off. Winners were R. Rollo of Salvador, Saskatchewan; R. S. Corrigan, Robert Towers and C. Dohlman. Jack Taylor had charge of the draw.

Bonspiel that got underway this week at Waskatenau saw rinks skipped by locals Woodward, Boyd, Gardiner, Flaska, Pineau and others matched against several new rinks. Radway and Warspite have been entered as competitors in this year's events.

SHORT NOTES—Sandy Sutherland proved his talents include not only hockey but music as well when he presided at the keyboard during a banquet staged by the executive of the Lloydminster Prolites this week; timekeeper Archie Miller led community singing. . . . Curlers down Waskatenau way are considering the use of glass instead of ice on their rink; so much curling activity is proving hard on ordinary frozen water. . . . Red Deer farmers have quit worrying about crops; after meeting the town curlers they're convinced, according to reports, that bonspiels are the main topics for thought.

29 Descendants Gather at Home Mr., Mrs. Krause

WETASKIWIN — Largest family gathering in the Wetaskiwin district during the festive season was that of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Krause, their eight children and 21 grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Krause, highly-respected in the community, have lived here for 47 years.

Present at the gathering were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strohschein and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Art Sommers and four children, Mr. and Mrs. Ruebin Hammer and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Zielke and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dickau and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krause and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Krause and five children and Ed. Krause.

Thorsby Property Damaged by Fire

THORSBY. — Two fires during the last week have caused property damage and kept the fire brigade hard at work.

Just after 10 a.m. Sunday, fire broke out in the main street barber shop of C. Moir, causing extensive damage before it was brought under control. Mr. Moir boarded an out-of-town bus less than 15 minutes prior to the discovery of the blaze. Fire was blamed on an over-heated stove pipe.

Fire broke out in the home of Jack Coleman Thursday. Damage was confined to the exterior of the house.

Lloyd Residents Mark Yule Season

LLOYDMINSTER — Celebrations held here to mark the festive season got underway last Saturday when members of the Elks Lodge were hosts to about 900 children from the town and district at the Empress theatre.

Sunday saw all the churches filled with worshippers with choral music a feature. Many stores were closed Monday. Tuesday saw more church services and on Boxing day a gala hockey match attracted many residents.

A series of parties and visits have been enjoyed for the bulk of the week, leading to celebrations of the first peacetime New Year's in six years.

Gleaned From Rural News

RED DEER.—Farmers in this district have been told that a seed grain shortage here is indicated. Farmers are urged to take immediate steps to obtain their requirements as the shortage is expected in the spring.

CAMROSE.—George Shea, pioneer Camrose businessman, is continuing to operate his real estate business here. It was incorrectly reported earlier that his business had changed hands, whereas only the fire insurance section of the firm is under new management.

HARDISTY. — Members of the high school students' union raised more than $100 at a dance in Kiefer's hall last week.

ENDIANG.—Visitors here include Miss M. Campbell, Miss C. Somerville, Miss L. Heibel; visitors from here include Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Johnson, Mrs. F. Harvey.

HARDISTY.—White Gift service was held recently at the United church. Other recent services included a baptism and a song service, the latter presented by the Hughenden choir under leadership of Mrs. A. Gilmour, organist.

ENDIANG.—Despite cold weather, a good attendance greeted the efforts of Miss Olive Adsett and Miss Edna Boehlke, when they staged a concert in the community hall last week.

WASKATENAU.—W. M. Parker has returned from Maple Creek. Visitors here include J. Patrick, J. Davis and E. Fowler. Girl Guides have been entertaining local residents during the holidays.

MYRNAM. — Following officers have been elected by the Myrnam local of the Alberta Farmers Union: President, Nick Delowski; vice-president, J. J. Yanitski; secretary-treasurer, Mike Syniuga; board members, J. J. Yourzwyshyn, W. Proskiu, S. Jokiw and P. M. Lynkowski.

For Greater Progress

Toronto Archbishop Coming to Edmonton To Inaugurate Appeal

To inaugurate in this diocese the Anglican Advance Appeal for spiritual rededication and financial progress, the Most Reverend Derwyn Trevor Owen, Archbishop of Toronto and Primate of the Church of England in Canada, will arrive in Edmonton the morning of Sunday, Jan. 6, for a series of conferences and addresses.

HIS GRACE WILL REACH the city by Canadian National at 6:40 a.m., Jan. 6, and will preach in All Saints' Cathedral church at 11 o'clock the same morning. This service will be broadcast over CJCA.

He will preach again in the evening at Holy Trinity when CKUA will carry his address.

On Monday, Jan. 7, he will speak at a diocesan men's dinner at 6:30 in the Macdonald hotel when his subject will be "The Place of the Anglican Communion in Christendom." All male Anglicans may attend.

ON TUESDAY, JAN. 8, the Primate will celebrate Holy Communion in All Saints' Cathedral church at 8:30 a.m. and will spend the rest of the morning with members of the diocesan synod and other male Anglicans who wish to attend in All Saints' parish hall.

Tuesday afternoon, from 2:30 to 5:30, he will confer with members of synod and other Anglicans on the Anglican Advance movement.

Tuesday evening at 8:30 in All Saints' parish hall there will be a general reception for His Grace open to all Anglicans.

Wednesday, January 9, Archbishop Owen will address the Diocesan Women's Auxiliary at 3 p.m. in Christ church parish hall.

ON WEDNESDAY EVENING he is being entertained by the Masonic lodges of the Edmonton district.

Derwyn Trevor Owen, MA, DD, DCL, Archbishop of Toronto and Primate of all Canada, is by virtue of his office and his own unique ability and charm one of the most distinguished and honored churchmen in the world. He is widely popular, not only in Canada, but in Great Britain and the United States. His Canadian prestige has extended far beyond the frontiers of his own communion through the admirable manner in which he has conducted the chairmanship of the Canadian Council of Churches.

His Grace was elected to the Primacy of the Church of England in Canada Sept. 18, 1934 and his choice marked the culmination of a movement having for its objective revision of the canon under which the senior Metropolitan of Canada automatically assumed the highest office of the church on the death of a Primate.

FOR MANY YEARS, the view that the church would be better served by a young vigorous head steadily gained dominion-wide approval and on ratification of the revising canon at the Thirteenth General Synod at Montreal in 1934, the choice fell upon Bishop Owen, at that time 58 years of age.

Archbishop Owen had had a notable record of service. As curate and rector of two of Toronto's historic churches, he became well known and warmly liked. Following his appointment in 1914 as rector of Christ Church Cathedral in Hamilton, Ontario, his advancement was rapid. The following year he was made Dean of the diocese of Niagara. In 1925 he was elected to the bishopric of Niagara on the first ballot.

Seven years later he was consecrated Bishop of Toronto.

POPULAR WITH BOTH clergy and laymen, Dr. Owen is known as one of the church's most eloquent orators and as an able administrator. Possessing a magnetic personality, he combines force of character with a fine gift for organization.

A wide knowledge of the various problems in the church's 27 dioceses has fitted Archbishop Owen in a peculiarly vital manner for the high office of Primate. In 1927, he was selected as one of the three commissioners of the Anglican national commission appointed to make a survey of conditions in the church from the Maritimes to the Yukon. For many months he travelled across the dominion acquainting himself with the work and peculiarities of every diocese.

THE PRIMATE IS AN indefatigable worker and his personal charm and absence of pretence endear him to all who know him.

He was born in Twickenham, England, July 29, 1876, the son of Trevor Randolph and Florence Owen. His father, one of a family of soldiers and churchmen, was an officer in the 11th Hussars of the British army. His mother's father was the noted General Poynter.

In 1882 the family came to Canada settling on a farm near Brandon, Manitoba, later moving to Gore's Landing near Peterborough, Ontario. Following his early education at Gore's Landing, young Owen went to Toronto Church School and Trinity College, graduating in 1900. Following a brief period as curate at St. John's, Toronto, he was appointed to a curacy at All Hallow's, Barking, London. He returned to Toronto in 1902 to become curate of St. James' Cathedral where he served for six years.

DR. OWEN'S FIRST rectorship was at the Church of the Holy Trinity, one of the historic downtown churches of Toronto. There he served with distinction from 1910 until 1914 when he went to Christ Church Cathedral, Hamilton.

In 1916 he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Trinity College. He holds, too, the degree of Doctor of Canonical Law from Bishop's University, Lennoxville, Quebec.

He was married April 20, 1904 to Nora Grier Jellett, daughter of Judge R. P. Jellett of Picton, Ont. They have three sons and two daughters.

Prominent in Masonry, Archbishop Owen has attained the 33rd degree in the Scottish Rite.

Keeping Good Resolutions

How can we keep the good resolutions we are making as the New Year approaches? How can we at least preserve self-respect by not backsliding at the first moment our weaker natures begin to rebel and the tempter whispers that our faults are not so serious after all?

The first piece of practical advice must be: make your enthusiasm as ardent as possible; stress the good you are doing yourself—and others—by shaking off bad habits. A smoker can find stimulating reasons to make him feel a better and a healthier person from the moment he discards his pipe or stops buying cigarettes. There is even a financial aspect to his new habit of not smoking that is not unimportant.

Do not permit yourself to backslide even once. To fail once often means to fail twice, and to fail twice is generally to lose the battle altogether. It might be a real help to record in a notebook the number of times you have withstood temptation. Reading this record at the end of each day will serve to bolster morale and strengthen determination to overcome the next day's trials.

Remember that since you are not so much fighting old habits as creating new ones, the oftener you put new habits into practice the stronger they will become. The habitual grouch will find it much easier to smile when he has learned to lift the muscles at the corner of his mouth up instead of down.

Finally, resolve at once to burn your boats. As far as possible make it impossible for yourself to behave in a manner or spirit contrary to your new resolution.

Bishop Yu-Pin Back at Post After 8 Years

Bishop Paul Yu-Pin, vicar apostolic of Nanking, China, has returned to his vicarate for the first time since the Chinese capital was occupied eight years ago by the Japanese, according to word received at the Chinese Embassy in Washington.

The internationally-known prelate timed his return with the celebration of the 30th anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic on the "Double Tenth"—the tenth day of the tenth month.

Consecrated bishop seven years ago, when he was 37 years old, the bishop is the youngest priest ever elevated to that office.

City Salvationist Back From Coast

Maj. George Jones, of the Edmonton Salvation Army branch, has returned to Edmonton from a short visit to Vancouver and New Westminster. He went to the coast to attend the reception of his daughter who was married recently to E. A. Thompson of Edmonton. The couple will return to Edmonton on Jan. 2.

Churchmen Plan Geneva Meeting Next February

Churchmen from all parts of the world are scheduled to convene at Geneva, Switzerland next February. They will attend the International Missionary Council meeting Feb. 16-19, and the provisional committee of the World Council of Churches, Feb. 21-24.

Restoration of missionary work in countries where it has been interrupted by the war will be one of the many questions dealt with by the International Missionary Council in considering the opportunities and problems which lie before Christian missions in the post-war world.

WORLD CONFERENCE

Composed of 26 national missionary organizations and Christian councils, the missionary group's sessions will be attended by representatives from American, British, Scandinavian, French, and Dutch missions, as well as from the churches in India, China, Africa, and other countries. Occupation authorities have been asked to permit a delegation from the German missions to attend.

Officials of the International Missionary Council in New York, and of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America and the Committee on Co-operation in Latin America, will be present at the Geneva meeting.

The provisional committee of the World Council of Churches will discuss plans for calling the first assembly of the council to constitute the organization, formally. It has been in process of formation since 1937. The assembly was originally scheduled for America in 1941, but was cancelled by the war.

SIX MEMBERS

It is expected that the American delegation to the sessions will consist of six members. Other countries represented on the provisional committee include England, France, Switzerland, Sweden, Germany, Yugoslavia, Scotland, the Netherlands, Russia, Denmark, Canada, and Hungary, and most of these are expected to send delegates.

Bissell Pageant Attracts Crowds

With a setting of subdued blue lighting, and the traditional nativity scene presented by the following members of the Junior Young People's Society at Bissell: Misses Beatrice Corbutt, Doreen Lingard, Mary Felce, Doris Jones, Ila Kirkwood, Rosie Nakamura, Olive Page, Josie Burke, Edward Nakamura, Don Hobbs, Jimmy Hayes, Delbert Lingard and Bobby Smith, the Christmas pageant, "On to Bethlehem," written and directed by Rev. J. T. Stephens, formed the second part of the Christmas service at Bissell.

Seats were at a premium for the occasion. The first part of the service was composed of Christmas carols by the junior choir, with Kay Gould at the organ, and cello and violin solos by Messrs. H. Gould and Sorenson. At the close of the service many remained to gather around the Bissell family Christmas tree in the friendship room.

On Christmas Eve the congregation enjoyed "An evening on the Judean Hills," and again music, poems, and carols, provided a very delightful hour.

It is expected that the young people's group will become the Chancel Players in order to present from time to time the pageants which make All Peoples Mission famous.

Head of Anglican Church in Canada

The Most Reverend Derwyn Trevor Owen, DD, DCL, Archbishop of Toronto and Primate of all Canada, who will arrive here for a visit on Jan. 6.

Christian Science

The services at all Christian Science churches on Sunday will be devoted to a consideration of the subject, "Christian Science". The lesson-sermon which will expound this subject contains the following typical excerpts: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!" (Isaiah 52:7). "Through Christian Science, religion and medicine are inspired with a diviner nature and essence; fresh opinions are given to faith and understanding, and thoughts acquaint themselves intelligently with God." (Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, p 107).

Gets Promotion

Brig. R. Raymer, Salvation Army divisional commander here, announces that Commissioner B. Orames, head of the "Army" in Canada, has approved the promotion of Adj. I. Halsey who is in charge of the Edmonton Citadel Corps, to the rank of major. The promotion is effective from Dec. 24.

At Strathcona

The Rev. George M. Edwards will preach at the morning and evening services at Strathcona Baptist church. His topics: "The Future All Unknown" and "The War Goes On."

Ancient Burial Urns Uncovered In Holy Land

Eleven early Christian burial urns, which archeologists say may provide the oldest record of Christianity, have been discovered in a cave on the Jerusalem-Bethlehem road. Inscriptions on the urns contain an historical confirmation of the trial and crucifixion of Christ.

The inscriptions, dating from the first century, AD, are in Hebrew and Greek, and are said to be lamentations by Jewish disciples on the passion and death of Christ, set down perhaps by an eye-witness to the crucifixion. They have not yet been fully translated.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLES

Other articles found with the urns, including pottery, lamps and bottles, will be studied, Professor Sukenik, director of antiquities at Hebrew University at Jerusalem, announced.

"At present," he said, "it is only possible to say that the inscriptions on the urns date from the period immediately preceding the destruction of the second temple in 70 AD.

"The Hebrew inscriptions contain common names like Miriam, Simeon and Matti. The Greek inscriptions beside them contain references to Christianity, and, it seems probable, also to the crucifixion."

History has shown amazing examples of men and nations being preserved by God in spite of ruthless cruelty and persecution, while the persecutors have perished: The Lord is thy keeper.—Psalm 121:5.

Thankoffering

THE REV. W. F. BUTCHER

Presbyterian Church Plans Thankoffering

The Presbyterian Church in Canada hopes to raise a peace thankoffering fund of $2,000,000 in order that all branches of its work may be properly equipped, it was announced today by the Rev. Wilfred F. Butcher, secretary of The Presbyterian Advance for Christ, and peace thankoffering.

THE FUND WILL BE USED to provide new churches and other buildings in Canada and overseas, a sum to aid in the reconstruction of European Protestant churches; forward steps in missionary activity; strengthening of the theological colleges; increase in the capital of the pension fund; and other aid for aged ministers.

There are many signs that the Presbyterian church is now prepared to advance in all its activity, and it is planned to relate the peace thankoffering fund to the whole onward movement of the church.

THE REV. WILFRED F. Butcher, secretary of the "Advance," has recently returned from overseas, where he served in the chaplaincy of the RCAF, in England and the Mediterranean. He has held charges at St. John's, Newfoundland, and Medicine Hat, Alberta; and is a graduate of the University of Manitoba, and of Knox College, Toronto.

We may appropriate infinite strength if we so desire: He is a shield to them that put their trust in him.—Prov. 30:5.

Mission Continues Yuletide Activities

All People's Mission is still in the middle of its Christmas activities. Christmas trees, for groups ranging from kindergarten up, have been held, or will be held at all its centres. Hundreds and hundreds of packages for children have been distributed. Christmas hampers to an amazing number have gone out to needy people, and Christmas dinners for various groups are all in process during the holiday season. The Mission has enjoyed one of its busiest Christmas seasons.

Pastors to Germany

Two Swedish pastors, Einar Rimmerfors and Agustinius Keijser, have left for Germany to re-establish contact with German missionary associations in the British Zone of occupation. They will confer with church officials on details of future co-operative efforts, and also on reconstruction work among the German people.

Dedicates Hall

The Church of God in Christ has dedicated a new international headquarters in Memphis, Tenn. which is described as the "largest convention hall owned by any Negro church group in America." Built over a five-year period at an estimated cost of $275,679 the edifice replaces a building that was destroyed by fire in 1938. It is hoped to increase the value of the property to $1,000,000.

32.8 Increase

Inclusive church membership in the United States showed an increase of 32.8 per cent during the 18-year period from 1926 to 1943-44, according to statistics compiled by the department of research and education of the Federal Council of Churches and published in its weekly information service bulletin.

Rallies Expand

Portland's Youth for Christ rallies, which began last March, have grown to such proportions that a full time director, Dr. Frank C. Phillips has been appointed. For the past several months people have been turned away from the Saturday night meetings in the 1,600 capacity hall.

Builds Monument

Thirteen years ago the late Rev. W. D. Hargrove had ten cents and an idea.

Today that combination has grown into a church with a membership of 500—the Union Bethel Independent Methodist church of Birmingham, Ala.

To commemorate the pastor's courage and good works, the congregation of the church he founded is erecting a monument, believed to be the only statue of a negro minister, on the grounds of the church he founded.

Asks Ten Millions

Protestant churches in America are being asked to contribut $10,000,000 in cash and goods for European relief in 1946, it was announced in New York by Dr. Robbins W. Barstow, director of the Commission for World Council Service.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By THE REV. JAMES R. COX
Minister of Wesley United Church

Formula For "Forty-Six"

IN THE splendid capital building at Havana, Cuba, there is a huge diamond imbedded in the shining marble floor directly beneath the massive dome. From this diamond are measured all the highways that cross the island; for the Cubans all measure of distance begins from there.

So do we have the opportunity to date all time and to measure all roads that lie ahead from this time and this place at which we now stand. For us the dead Past is swallowed up in the Living Present, and though we would not forget or minimize the lessons taught us by the experiences of the Past, yet we can winnow out the chaff and preserve the precious grain for the sustentation of life and for the growing of a more abundant harvest.

The person who cultivates the ability to do this will never grow old, regardless of his years. He will never let the romance of life die, no matter how hard bestead with perplexity or suffering he becomes. He will never, regardless of the monotony of his tasks, see the work he has to do grow stale, for he anticipates fresh achievements, new friendships, further opportunities.

Edgar Lee Masters has put into a sentence this new and dominant note found in modern philosophy and termed "The Ongoingness of Life"; says he, "This world is forever new to hands that keep it new." Longfellow has woven it poetically into The "Psalm of Life" in unforgettable terms:

"Let us, then, be up and doing
With a heart for any fate
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait."

and John the Beloved gives this attitude Christian expression for the ages: "We are saved by hope; for hope that is seen is not hope; but, if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it."

A New Year of Hope and Peace and Joy to You Each and All!

GO TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

Resolve That For 1946

I shall strive to live sincerely
Through the year that lies ahead;
I shall face the days serenely,
I shall ask for daily bread,
For clear water and for shelter,
I shall pray that I may grow
Wiser, kinder, as I journey
Down the paths my feet must go.
With God's help I shall be cheerful
In a world in need of cheer;
Through His grace I shall be patient,
I shall strive to banish fear;
To have charity for others,
To walk softly . . . and I must
Keep my faith a thing unshaken;
Keep a simple, childlike trust.

Asks Greater Aid For War-Sufferers

An appeal to the American people for increased aid to starving war-sufferers in Europe was made in London by Dr. Cyril Forster Garbett, Archbishop of York.

Presiding at a public meeting at the Albert Hall, Dr. Garbett also called on British authorities to do all in their power to fight starvation and disease in Europe. He warned that unless speedy and urgent action is taken, Europe may witness "a catastrophe, setting back for centuries the recovery of western civilization."

"In the years to come," Dr. Garbett said, "the victors will be judged at the bar of humanity by the way they answered the cry of multitudes in such tragic distress."

He urged that mass migration of Germans from the east be discouraged during the winter.

Church Yuletide Party Is Success

The Strathcona Baptist annual Christmas party for the junior and intermediate Sunday schools was a pronounced success. The program featured a Christmas pageant directed by Mrs. K. A. Clark, assisted by Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. G. M. Edwards, Mrs. H. B. Allison and Art Hay.

The Explorers presented a play, "Christmas Star," directed by Miss Dorothy Clark. Taking part were Betty Ann Rogers, Marlene Mosely, Marcella Girard and Audrey Allison.

Piano solos were offered by Tasula Agapitos and John Edwards. Miss Betty Hagen gave a violin solo. Carols by the Junior Choir under Mrs. D. S. McEachern completed the program.

Four Generations Attend Baptism

When William Terence Brady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brady was baptized at the Christmas service at Bissell Memorial United church, by the Rev. J. T. Stephens, four generations were present. The boy himself; his mother, Mrs. B. Brady; his grandmother, Mrs. W. McEachern; and his great-grandfather, E. Hewitt of Swift Current, Sask. The ceremony was performed with organ music in the background, and the music of the Junior Choir.

That Shun-Russia Policy Fatal In '39, Pastor Warns

By REV. G. STANLEY RUSSELL
In the Toronto Daily Star

The discovery of the atomic bomb has proved one of the most disquieting episodes in the history of human "progress". None is enthusiastic about it. Its possibilities for evil are obviously far more important than its potentialities for good. Bishops have shaken their heads over it. Scientists have expressed the opinion that it would be best if the discovery could be forgotten, or the formulae have millstones tied about their necks and be plunged into the deep places of the sea.

THE DAMAGE IT DID in Japan is almost negligible, compared with the damage it already has done to inter-Allied relationships. Its retention in the hands of British and North American people is so clear an intimation that, while these can always be relied upon to provide only sweetness and light, the Soviets must not share a secret, which their scientists will certainly discover, and which will then be held in a not unnatural state of chagrin.

There is, indeed, a renewed tendency to relegate Russia to the leper-colony treatment of 1939, which proved fatal to the world's security. While her behavior in Persia may be mysterious—as it was in Finland and Yugsoslavia, until we followed her lead—some old Gladstonians are wondering just what British officials in Java are using the Japanese forces there to do, if it is not to hand back to the Dutch peoples "rightly struggling to be free." Indeed, the welter of the world at this moment, from the "Legion" in England venerating Hitler and buying his bust for £500, to the U.S. senators reviving the myth that only a strong Germany can avert the horror of contact with Russia, may well produce cynicism in those who thought they fought to destroy just these things.

WHEN LEONARDO DA VINCI abandoned his experiments in aeronautics because he decided that man was not good enough to fly, he was only anticipating the present situation. Ours is not a new crisis, but it certainly is present in a more acute form. Invention after invention, discovery after discovery, has found a humanity which spurned its immense power for good and turned it into a weapon of war. To talk of "outlawing" the bomb is merely stupid, for we have proved that no nation will "outlaw" anything, if it promises deliverance. Indeed, until there is a world-government, armed with force, it is futile to invoke international law.

Therefore, to use a colloquialism, mankind is "up against it" as never before in its history. A heedless and defiant world has been suffered to reach this impasse by that same Power which said many centuries ago: "Ephriam is joined to his idols, let him alone!" That man retain his freedom is essential to his remaining man and fulfilling the purpose of his creation, which is that men, or some men at any rate, shall reach complete harmony, or "at-one-ment," with the mind of God. To make goodness compulsory would be to destroy it. Therefore, there is no alternative to leaving man his power of choice. That is a very different thing from making God responsible for the misuse of it, especially as man has been given sufficient intelligence to learn how to use it, and actually has seen that his choice lies between obedience and self-destruction. In ever-tightening clarity, that has been demonstrated. Whatever his cleverness, he hitherto has proved woefully deficient in moral intelligence.

REMEDIES PRESCRIBED are neither mentally brilant noir morally attractive. Vague references to "truth" and "religion" by those whose occupation is supposed to be definiteness, get us nowhere. The abolition of a "conviction of sin" is the last thing needed in a race which has defaulted both positively and negatively, because of its certainty of rectitude, if not of omniscience.

WHATEVER MAY BE meant by "the vested interests" of parents, schoolmasters, and others, they are, at least, as disinterested and clear-sighted as those who put forward that out-of-date "onion-theory" of personality, and insist that "it ain't got no core," but is merely a bundle of impressions and experiences gathered by nobody in particular.

The idea that war will be prevented by clear-headedness has been exploded "beyond a peradventure," as President Wilson would say. Indeed, it has been man's effort to live by brain alone, if not by bread alone, which has gradually made him his own God and brought him to this precipice-edge.

ONSLAUGHTS ON THE Church are quite unimportant, not only because they have been futile for 2,000 years, but because religion is never in such danger as when they cease. Like the school, the good home, and many other places, the Church differs from its enemies in being aware of its defects, and even defections, and in loving the rising generation in a way that not a few would laugh to scorn, even if they did not reduce it to a sex-complex!

The crux of the situation, however, lies in the Babe who spells "Peace on earth" because He creates the "men of goodwill" for whom alone it is possible. It is true that a sham sense of sins, an automatic Messiah, an unhistorically arranged and interpreted Bible, the omission of the Kingdom of Heaven from the Creeds, and the occasional relegation of the first "Person" of the Trinity to a subordinate place, should be frankly acknowledged and ended.

WHAT, HOWEVER, of evil, cruelty, and blindness has not been produced by this "insolence" ("hubris") which has made man think he could manage God, instead of needing, above all things, to know and do His will? Perhaps, when we hang up the holly and mistletoe—if we do: what DO non-Christians make of Christmas, beyond an extra indulgence in food and drink, especially drink?—would it not be well to ask whether our hearts are as big as His, Who made all men of one blood, though not of one color, sect, or political party?

Christianity suffers not from its nature, but from our distance from it. It is a shock to open the New Testament and find laborers seeing open heavens and listening to angels, and to discover wise men so wise that they are pursuing not an atom but a star.

WITH THEM, WE DISCARD our unenviable conceits of rectitude and cleverness, and are aware of our transgressions and omissions. Then, we no longer destroy the beautiful in human life and achievement, nor do we even undervalue it. Thus we know that we have Christmas, not only on the calendar, but in our weary hearts.

"Facing The New Year"

By REV. TOM C. SIZEMORE, former U.S. Army Chaplain's Assistant in Edmonton.

The year just closing will go down in history as one of the most memorable in all the annals of time. Two major victories were won over our relentless enemies—the unconditional surrender of Germany on May 8, and of Japan, August 14. Thus was brought to the end the biggest and bloodiest war of all times. For this the Allied Nations of the world should be profoundly grateful. Generations yet unborn have a tremendous stake in these victories.

Much as we rejoice over the many achievements we have made in the past, yet there are still multitudes of perplexing problems that confront us in the immediate future. Some of them are most ominous. As individuals and as nations we are vitally interested in them. Let us earnestly pray for those in positions of leadership and co-operate with them in every way possible in solving these vexing problems.

As a church we face many difficult duties and responsibilities, which will require spirit-led leadership and fellowship. Unusual wisdom will be necessary on the part of all of us if we expect to make the most of the many challenging opportunities that are now literally popping open all around us in this new era. May great grace be given to us that we may find and follow the will of Christ, which is always best for us and always right.

We rejoice that the war is over and won. We have to reap the fruits of victory yet, however. There is absolutely no hope for humanity except in the development of the spirit of justice and good will among all men of every race, color and creed, which everybody is saying but not enough actually practising. As we face the New Year let us resolve to live for those things for which men went out to fight and to give their last full measure of devotion. It is harder to live for an ideal than it is to die for an ideal.

Fortunately, the Father veils the future from us. We do not know what awaits us down the road of 1946. We can only trust the Lord moment by moment to guide and protect us, to use us and glorify Himself through us.

Ex-Convict Seeks Advice of Pastor

A few hours after he held up a taxi driver and two passengers with a knife, a 32-year-old ex-convict appeared at the office of the Rev. Elmer S. Hjortland, senior pastor of Central Lutheran church in Minneapolis.

The bandit told Mr. Hjortland what he had done and asked for advice. The pastor spent two hours convincing him that he should give himself up to the police. The bandit finally agreed and Mr. Hjortland called police who arrested him.

Mr. Hjortland said the robber was "lonely" and seemed to feel he had to talk to someone. He came to the church because he once attended a Sunday school in another city.

Regina Drops 15th As Flyers Win 9-5

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

KEN STEWART hasn't lost his hirsute adornment yet and unless something akin to an earthquake occurs in Calgary tonight, the Regina manager-coach will be entering the New Year with a pretty substantial outcropping of facial herbage.

But then, Ken frankly admits his supplies of both razors and blades are increasing at an undiminished pace, as various items of up-to-the-minute tonsorial equipment continue to reach him.

It was reasonably apparent too at the arena last night just why the Caps are not winning games. Poor finishing seems to explain most of their difficulties, but of course the defence failed to give Houston much protection during the evening. Regina would have put up a stouter argument had Stewart himself been in the lineup.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S WIN left Flyers only four points away from both Calgary and Saskatoon, but the Stampeders have a chance to shuttle out in front of the Elks this evening, with Regina as opposition. Saskatoon will be in Regina and Calgary visits Edmonton for the New Year's Day senior attractions.

Bobby Carse's three points lifted him into the same bracket with Calgary's Red Hunter at the top of the scoring average list, both now having 33. Stan Devicq picked up two for a total of 26, but he's still in fourth position. Don Stanley now has 20. Benny Hayes' two boosted his holdings to 17 in 12th place. Gordon Pettinger got a late start but he gathered up three points for seven all-told. Jim Houston, Regina goalie is an ex-Calgary junior.

TO WIN FIVE STRAIGHT, then lose one game and all further interest in a four-event bonspiel seems tough, but that's what happened to Lloyd McIntyre and Bert Robertson in the UCT annual curling classic which began on Wednesday.

Lloyd and Bert both took the four qualifying games to get into the Blue Ribbon and after winning on the early draw Friday, passed out of the 'spiel entirely in the second round of the challenge. Lloyd marked up a six against Bill Gray on the third end, but Bill bounced right back with a half-dozen in the fifth for a 13-9 lead and then went on to win 18-12. A loss in the opening round of the challenge could have meant being still alive in the British Consols.

INTEREST IN NHL matters for tonight centres chiefly around the game between Chicago Black Hawks and Canadiens at Montreal, and a win for the Habitants would give their chances of a first place repeat in the regular league schedule a sizeable boost.

On the other hand, a victory for the Hawks, followed by a triumph over Rangers in New York on Sunday, would move Coach Johnny Gottselig's club into the leading spot one point ahead of Canadiens.

MAPLE LEAFS will be without the services of Babe Pratt, their ace defenceman, for their joust with Boston in Toronto tonight. Elwin Morris will team up with Ernie Dickens as one defensive pair. Bruins have been idle since last Sunday and should be well rested up.

Don't overlook tonight's junior exhibition at the Arena here between AHA President Ed Bruchet's Lethbridge Seventy-Sevens and the Maple Leafs.

Lethbridge Juniors Win 7-2 Over Red Deer in Exhibition

RED DEER, Dec. 29—Lethbridge 77's handed Red Deer's 78th Battery Junior Gunners a 7-2 defeat at the arena here on Friday night in a fast and exciting junior hockey game.

The Lethbridge Club plays Edmonton Maple Leafs tonight.

The strong visitors, who have compiled a good record against junior teams in western Canada this season, were ahead 2-1 at the close of the first period and by the time the third chapter opened were on the front end of a 4-2 count. They rapped in a trio of goals in the close-checking third period. It was the first time that the Gunners, playing their first season in junior ranks had run up against such stiff competition, but they still made a good showing.

RED DEER OPENED scoring 15 seconds from the face-off with Goodacre counting on a solo effort. Lethbridge evened up at five minutes when Collison flipped a pass to D. McLean to finish a close-in play. The same pair scored for Seventy-Sevens with less than three minutes remaining in the period, Collison registering the goal. This session was a fast one with very little to pick between the teams.

The Windy City boys outscored Gunners 2-1 in the second period, Red Deer sandwiching their marker in between the ones notched by the visitors. A smart three-man passing bout resulted in a goal from the stick of D. McLean four minutes after the face-off, Collison and Simpson getting assists. The artillery boys clicked at 18 minutes when Swainson drove in Carritt's perfect pass to put Red Deer's second string forward line on the scoring sheet. Lethbridge matched that with a goal by B. Woods seconds later, the shot going high in the air to drop into the cage. Gunners passed up some good chances in this frame by too much solo play.

AFTER Seventy-Sevens made it 5-2 early in the third period, the locals held them in their own area for several minutes but could not score. Combination rushes accounted for two more goals for the winners before the period closed. The work of the goal tenders was a feature of the fast exhibition with Rodzinyak in the Lethbridge nets being practically unbeatable, although he had plenty to do.

LINEUPS

Lethbridge: Rodzinyak, McGregor, Murphy, Collison, D. McLean, Simpson, W. Gibson, T. Wood, Stasiuk, T. McLean, Robinson, B. Wood, Lavell.

Red Deer: Shaddick, Armstrong, Gibson, Holmes, Pollock, Goodacre, Martin, Carritt, Swainson, Meeres, Perry, Jones, McFall.

Officials: Paul Brown and Len Tomalty, Red Deer.

SUMMARY

First period: 1, Red Deer, Goodacre :15; 2, Lethbridge, D. McLean (Collison) 4:36; 3, Lethbridge, Collison (D. McLean) 17:53. Penalty: Lavell.

Second period: 4, Lethbridge, D. McLean (Collison, Simpson) 4:02; 5, Red Deer, Swainson (Carritt) 18:02; 6, Lethbridge, B. Woods (Murphy) 18:38. Penalty: McGregor.

Third period: 7, Lethbridge, McGregor (Stasiuk) 3:15; 8, Lethbridge, D. McLean (Stasiuk) 13:25; 9, Lethbridge, T. Wood (Gibson) 14:03. Penalties: none.

No Major Changes Are Anticipated In Brier Playoff

TORONTO, Dec. 29—(CP)—No significant changes are anticipated when play for the Macdonald Brier Tankard, emblematic of the Canadian single rink curling championship, is resumed in Saskatoon March 4-7, it was announced Friday by Thomas Rennie, chairman of the board of trustees in charge of the Brier playdowns.

Last major change in the Brier setup occurred in 1936 when British Columbia and Prince Edward Island were included in the playdowns. This move gave representation to every province, plus Northern Ontario. The number of competing rinks has remained at 10 since that date.

Sectional and provincial playdowns will be conducted by the various provincial curling associations. With one exception provincial champions will take possession of the British Consols trophies. In New Brunswick curlers vie for possession of Ganong trophy.

The 10 rinks representing the cream of the country's curling crop will battle for the Macdonald Brier Tankard in a round robin competition in which each rink plays every other rink once. The quarter with the greatest number of wins takes possession of the Tankard for one year. In case of a tie, the deadlocked rinks will engage in a sudden death playoff.

The board of trustees includes Mr. Rennie, a Torontonian, Senator John T. Haig, Winnipeg, and Hon. Thane A. Campbell, Summerside, PEI, former premier of Prince Edward Island.

Six-Goal Outburst In Second

By HAL DEAN

A six-goal splurge in the first 13 minutes of the second period after a dull opening session, gave Edmonton Flyers a cosy margin to work on and eventually meant a 9-5 defeat for the winless Regina Capitals in Friday night's Western Canada Senior Hockey League game at the Arena here.

It was the 15th loss for the Reginans, who have only a single point to show for 16 starts to date. Paid attendance was 2,934.

JACK McDONALD and Don Stanley provided the most prolific sticks for the Flyers with three goals each, Ab Newsome, Stan Devicq and Pug Young picking up the remaining counters. Bobby Carse, and Johnny Kennedy both set up three. Benny Hayes, with two, Gordon Pettinger, Stan Taylor and Ron Gardiner were the Regina goal-getters.

The Caps actually had more scoring chances than Flyers in two of the three periods, outshooting Edmonton seven to five in the first and 10 to seven during the final canto. Flyers held a 13 to seven edge in the sandwich session.

McDONALD GAVE the home team the lead just after two minutes when he grabbed an attempted Regina passout from the corner behind the Cap goal line and slammed the disc into the net.

Pettinger evened the count at 8:46, sidestepping McAuley after taking O'Reilly's pass and stickhandling through the defence.

FLYERS HAD an opportunity to go out in front when O'Reilly was sent off for boarding, but they couldn't get their power play organized. McDonald got one hard drive, but Houston blocked. It was the second shot of the game on the Regina goalie and it came with the hand of the big clock resting on 16.

The period closed on a decidedly listless tone. Lambrecht missed the goal entirely following a breakaway with O'Reilly which caught all the Flyers down the ice.

McDONALD SCORED his second goal with the middle stanza just over a minute old, working close in after taking Newsome's relay. Carse was in twice within the next few seconds.

Don Stanley went in for an unassisted goal at 3:20 and Devicq combined with Kennedy for another in less than a minute as the Regina defence went to pieces under pressure.

WITH HAYES OFF for cross-checking McDonald raised the score to 5-1 at 8:45 on a three-way attack with Gordie Watt and Carse.

Pug Young was given a minor and a 10-minute misconduct just as Hayes came back, but Barnes tripped Stanley leaving the teams both short one, and they were still short when Stanley finished off a play with Kennedy for the sixth Edmonton goal.

Newsome made it 7-1, slapping in Watt's rebound. Carse also had been in on the attack.

AFTER TAYLOR scored from Pettinger at 13:35 for the second Cap goal, Regina assumed the offensive and looked their best up to that time. Al Swaine, fast-skating left-winger with Moose Jaw Canucks last season supplied the spark.

Ron Gardiner scored on a nice effort with Les Barrett at 2:01 and with Lane off for interference Hayes caromed the puck off McAuley's skate into the net in attempting to pass out from behind the Flyer goal. Lambrecht drew an assist.

DEVICQ SET UP STANLEY in the clear for an Edmonton goal at 16 minutes even and 12 seconds later Hayes netted from Pettinger to make the count 8-5.

Young took Carse's pass in the final minute and went right in alone, making Houston move first.

LINEUPS

Regina—Houston, Barnes, O'Reilly, R. Gardiner, Swain, Barrett. Subs: Taylor, Lambrecht, V. Gardiner, Belbin, Pettinger.

Edmonton—McAuley, Lane, Young, Carse, McDonald, Newsome. Subs: Watt, Devicq, Stanley, Kennedy, Merluk, Dutchak.

Officials—Reg. (Pep) Moon and Cam Smith, both of Edmonton.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Edmonton, McDonald, 2:03; 2, Regina, Pettinger (O'Reilly), 8:46. Penalties: Watt, O'Reilly.

Second period—3, Edmonton, McDonald (Newsome), 1:24; 4, Edmonton, Stanley, 3:20; 5, Edmonton, Devicq (Kennedy), 4:18; 6, Edmonton, McDonald (Watt, Carse), 8:45; 7, Edmonton, Stanley (Kennedy) 11:50; 8, Edmonton, Newsome (Watt, Carse), 12:36; 9, Regina, Taylor (Pettinger), 13:38. Penalties: Hayes, Young (minor, misconduct), Barnes.

Third period—10, Regina, R. Gardiner (Barrett), 2:01; 11, Regina, Hayes (Lambrecht), 8:18; 12, Edmonton, Stanley (Devicq, Kennedy), 16:00; 13, Regina, Hayes (Pettinger), 16:12; 14, Edmonton, Young (Carse), 19:12. Penalties: Lane, Lambrecht.

Former FBI Man Gets Racing Job

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—(AP)—Spencer Drayton of Chicago, for 14 years a member of the Federal Bureau of Investigation until his resignation last fall, Friday was named administrative organizer of racing's division of protection. He will begin work Jan 15.

Officers of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations, who made the announcement, said the division of protection "is to be an investigating agency to deal with dishonest practices that effect racing and to prosecute all offenders."

Score Six Against Capitals

Big Jack McDonald, right wing for the Carse line, and Don Stanley (above right), who centres for Stan Devicq and Johnny Kennedy, contributed two-thirds of the nine Flyer goals scored against Regina on Friday night, each making the red light blink three times. Carse, who along with Kennedy had three assists, is now tied with "Red" Hunter of Calgary for the lead in scoring.

Nick Etten Cops RBI Title, But Yields Home-Run Crown

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Dec. 29—(AP)—Husky Nick Etten of New York Yankees yielded his home-run crown to Vern Stephens of St. Louis, but evened things up by wrestling the runs-batted-in title from Stephens in the 1945 American League slugging race.

First sacker Etten grabbed the highly-prized "clutch-hitting" championship by belting across 111 runs—two more than Stephens' winning total of 109 last year—official statistics revealed Friday.

However, the dangerous Brownie shortstop, who had only 89 runs batted in, slammed 24 home runs to dethrone Etten in that department.

THE 31-YEAR-OLD ETTEN was the only American leaguer to drive across more than 100 base occupants, further emphasizing it was a woefully weak offensive season for the junior circuit. Etten's teammate, second baseman George (Snuffy) Stirnweiss won the hitting crown with a feeble .309 average, poorest league mark in 40 years.

Runner-up in runs batted in was outfielder Roy Cullenbine of Detroit with 93. Cullenbine also drew the most bases on balls—112. For the second straight year, Cleveland's Pat Sery was the No. 1 strikeout victim, whiffing 97 times—two fewer than in 1944.

Rudy York, Detroit first baseman, grounded into the most double-plays, 23, while shortstop Frank Crosetti of New York, was plunked most by pitched balls, 10 times.

OUTFIELDER Tom McBride of Boston tied the major league record for runs batted across in one inning with six, Aug. 4.

Catcher Frank Hayes of Cleveland-Philadelphia, ran his string of consecutive games to 308 and participated in the most double plays by a catcher, 29, for two new major league records.

Seerey tied a pair of major league marks with three home runs in one game and four extra base hits in another tilt. Among the unusual record feats were Detroit winning the pennant with the lowest championship percentage, .575; the fewest league errors in a season, 1,302; and the fewest league .300 batters, three.

Pittsburgh Signs Jock Sutherland

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 29—(AP)—Victory hopes of the slumping Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League went soaring Friday as they signed as their new coach Dr. John B. (Jock) Sutherland, who rose to grid fame here as a developer of Pitt's "Sock-it-to-'m" teams of the 1920's and '30's.

Beaming satisfaction as Sutherland signed a five-year contract, co-owner Bert Bell of the Steelers declared:

"He's the man we've been wanting right along. We are very confident he'll produce a winning team."

Canadian Sport Appears Set For "Golden Age" in 1946

TORONTO, Dec. 29—(CP)—Sport seems set for the beginnings of another "golden age" in 1946. The boom days promoters and officials began building for when war winnowed playing ranks are just around the corner.

The first full year of peace may not topple Canada's war attendance records in many lines of sport, but from the spectator's bird's-eye view the scene should be much brighter. The example of football and hockey in the six months following VJ-Day proves that.

STRAWS-IN-THE-WIND for the future included hints of new horizons for hockey, the promise of a full-fledged football "war" in eastern Canada and indications of a more realistic approach to the old "shamateur" problem.

With the transition period almost over, sports which failed to survive the war were on their feet or getting ready for a comeback. Curling enthusiasts looked to revival at Saskatoon in March of the Macdonald Brier Tankard, uncontested since 1942; tennis officials shaped a Canadian entry for first Davis Cup competition since 1939; Winnipeg golfing interests talked up the $10,000 Canadian open; basketball hinted an east-west final at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens.

SKIING ACTIVITIES burgeoned in Quebec, squash and badminton clubs announced international competitions, rowing organizations reformed their ranks. Announcements from authorities in lacrosse, rowing and swimming were symptomatic of the same expansion.

Even ping pong perked up. In Toronto, league officials gravely decreed the game had emerged from the "rumpus room" with players in tournaments ordered to wear whites.

But the most significant augury for 1946 came from the major sports:

TORONTO ARGONAUTS, comprising almost 100 per cent service personnel, forced revival of the "import" issue by routing Winnipeg Blue Bombers 35-0 in the Grey Cup final. Sportsman Joe Ryan promptly hollered that Montreal's tail-end Hornets would return to the pre-war policy of luring football stars across the international boundary. If the Canadian rugby union objected, Ryan said, Montreal would wage a break-up-the-Argos campaign.

Winnipeg, conceding it might be forced to adopt the east's wide-open style of play, pondered a possible change in grouping to link with eastern Canada teams. Further west Regina, Calgary and other western centres talked of excluding Winnipeg from the western setup and forming a compact group of their own.

Meanwhile plans proceeded for a remodelling of the grandstand at Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition grounds to seat possibly as many as 30,000 for some future east-west final.

HOCKEY: National League president Mervyn (Red) Dutton announced 1945-46 attendances higher even than 1944-45's record year. And Dutton disclosed an expanding vista for Canadian hockey talent by saying the Dominion should be able to supply 150 players needed for a revival of hockey in Britain next winter.

Thus, as sport sights into 1946, the theme everywhere is expansion. Most of the players are back and the spectators are set. The only problem seems that of providing a bigtime setting suitable for the improved quality of competition.

Smithbilt And Leckies Victors In Pee-Wee Tilts

Winners in the Friday night Edmonton Athletic Club Pee-Wee Hockey League tilts at Varsity Rink were Leckies who won 7-1 over Arrows and Smithbilt who copped a 4-2 decision in their game with Sunland. In the wind-up of the action-packed triple-header, Fairways and Kraft battled to a 3-3 deadlock.

Standout of the evening was Terry Melnychuk, who netted four counters for Leckies in the opener against Arrows.

Reg Ralston started the first period with an unassisted goal that gave Arrows the lone marker for the session.

Dan Florko, Ed Abrassart, and Robbins were the three other Leckie sharpshooters to beat the Arrows' goalie, each scoring a single.

LINEUPS

Leckies: Mack, Simevitch, Kitchen, Melnychuk, Hepburn, Robbins, Hoar, Goryk, Abrassart, Florko, Wiederspiel, Melnyk, O'Shea.

Arrows: Ronaldson, Roskey, Halton, McCarrety, Morley, Chute, Telford, Ralston, Jenkins, Bakey, Drychuk, Moore, Flesh.

SUMMARY

First period: 1, Arrows, Ralston; 2, Leckies, Florko (Goryk); 3, Leckies, Melnychuk (Hoar).

Second period: 4, Leckies, Abrassart (Goryk); 5, Leckies, Melnychuk (Movich); 6, Leckies, Melnychuk (Hepburn); 7, Leckies, Melnychuk (Goryk).

Third period: 8, Leckies, Robbins (Melnyk).

FREAK PLAY HELPS SMITHBILT TIE SUNLAND

In the second game of the night's show Smithbilt trimmed Sunland 4-2. The victors gained the lead in the first the first stanza on a freak play by a Sunland player. Spearheading a drive by Smithbilt, Rutherford tried a shot at the Sunland net that was blocked by Haddad. In attempting to clear the puck, however, Haddad slipped the rubber into his own goal.

Standout on the Smithbilt lineup, was Carruthers who hung up one tally and an assist. Pete Dingle and Don Stewart made up the remainder of the Smithbilt score with a counter apiece.

LINEUPS

Smithbilt: Abrouliak, Drever, Bercov, Carruthers, Stewart, Dingle, Loomer, Gilbertson, Barnes, Rutherford, Shalmerdine, Hall, Day, Clark.

Sunland: Steele, MacAvoy, Troughton, MacDonald, Astley, Stogryn, Bonnyman, Easterby, Haddad, Weekes, Dalsin, Smith, Woolven.

First period: 1, Smithbilt, Haddad (Rutherford).

Second period: 2, Smithbilt, Dingle (Carruthers); 3, Smithbilt, Carruthers.

Third period: Sunland, Troughton; 5, Smithbilt, Stewart (Dingle); 6, Sunland, Astley (Stogryn).

BUSENIUS SCORES THREE FOR FAIRWAY

The windup was a fast, ding-dong scramble between Fairways and Kraft that ended in a 3-3 draw.

Gordie Busenius starred on the Fairway sextet, setting a pace that got him credit for all three of his team's goals. For the Kraft lineup, Calvert was the spark throughout the session; his accurate sniping netting him to unassisted markers. Other Kraft sharpshooter was Meters who whipped in a single.

LINEUPS

Fairways: G. Riddell, Anderson, Cusack, Busenius, D'Arcy, L'Himeur, Fletcher, Harrison, Richardson.

Kraft: Bennett, Legris, Calvert, Chappel, Henry, Silk, Savage, Meters, McPhail, Kerstein, Dryden, Keroach, Brisson.

SUMMARY

First period: no scoring.

Second period: 1, Kraft, Meters; 2, Fairway, Busenius; 3, Kraft, Calvert.

Third period: 4, Fairway, Busenius (D'Arcy); 5, Fairway, Busenius (L'Heueux); 6, Kraft, Calvert.

Finalists were declared in two events and semi-finalists in the other pair in the United Commercial Travellers' annual bonspiel following the completion of Friday's draws at the Royal Rink.

The Blue Ribbon (grand challenge) competition was in the fours when curling resumed on the keen ice at 9 o'clock this morning with the semi-finals. Final in the main event as well as the other three—British Consols, Edmonton Motors and McBeath—was set for 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Still in the hunt for the grand challenge honors were rinks skipped by Gerry Rice, Bill Gray, Ed Perry and P. Clement. Rice faced Gray and the Perry rink opposed Clement's quartet in the semi-finals this morning.

IN THE BRITISH CONSOLS, secondary competition, Frank Veilleux, C. M. Cumming, Jack MacLeod and Bert Marsden were still in the fight last night and commenced play in the semi-finals this morning.

The Edmonton Motors and McBeath events are out in the finals. Pat Rose and C. L. Race were billed to meet for the Edmonton Motors trophy and S. B. Cooper and E. Austin will clash in the McBeath final.

TWO BIG UPSETS occurred Friday, both on the 12:30 o'clock draw when Bert Robertson and Lloyd McIntyre went down to defeat for the first time after winning four straight qualifying games and coming through in the first round of the grand challenge.

Both were beaten decisively. Rice's rink ended the hopes of Robertson's crew, only winning by one point, 11-10, but he had the Granite skip six down coming home. The Gray rink took the measure of McIntyre's quartet, 18-12. McIntyre started off with a three and after the third end had been completed he was holding what appeared to be a comfortable 9-3 margin. But his crew began to slip. Gray cut the margin to 9-7 with a four on the fourth and then barged ahead with a six end on the fifth, making it 13-9 in his favor. After that McIntyre couldn't catch up.

GOOD LUCK appeared to be riding along with the C. L. Race rink on Friday. Successfully reaching the final of the Edmonton Motors, Race had to skip his four to a pair of 13 end wins. In a game against Bob Dickson on the early draw the Race crew was down three coming home, but managed to get the trio of points and then went on to count one in the extra end.

Then in the Edmonton Motors semi-final, Race won 11-10 over the J. C. McNeill rink in another 13 ender. Only other 13 end game of the day was an 11-10 win for Rice over Veilleux in a grand challenge match.

Following are Friday's results with competition in brackets.

9:00 A.M. RESULTS

Robertson 12, McLaren 5 (GC).
Kendrick 10, Gray 11 (GC).

Leafs Win 11-3 To Head League With Canadians

Maple Leafs smothered South Side 11-3 in a City Juvenile Hockey League fixture, at 119 St. rink, Friday night. This places the Leafs neck-and-neck with Canadians, as league leaders, with six points each.

Jim Stewart set a hot goal-getting pace turning on the light five times during the session. Kay Strate and Ray Barry also did very well for the victorious sextet, by netting a brace of counters each.

There was not much doubt as to the outcome of the tilt after the first heat, the board reading, at that time, 5-1 for the Leafs.

Crozier scored for the South Side in the second, bringing their tally up to two goals, but the Maple Leafs kept hammering in to make it 9-2 at the end of the chapter.

Wilson brought home the third South Side marker late in the final round.

LINEUPS

Maple Leafs: Paterson, Ross, Krook, Barry, Patterson, Forrest, McPherson, Stewart, Strate, Phillips, Smith, Cringle, Hart.

South Side: Samis, Goodman, Gleddie, Johannsen, Gauthier, Pfrimmer, Kruper, Crozier, Martin, McCaskill, Anderson, Edward.

SUMMARY

First period: 1—Leafs, Stewart (Strate); 2—Leafs, Forrest (Barry); 3—Leafs, Stewart (Ross); 4—Leafs, Strate (Phillips); 5—Leafs, Stewart; 6—South Side, Martin (Crozier).

Second period: 7—South Side, Crozier; 8—Leafs, Stewart; 9—Leafs, Barry (Paterson); 10—Leafs, Strate (McPherson); 11—Leafs, Stewart.

Third period: 12—Leafs, Paterson (Barry); 13—South Side, Wilson (Johannsen); 14—Leafs, Barry (Smith).

Today's Sport Parade

NEW YORK, Dec 29.—(BUP)—John (Honey) Russell, the Manhattan basketball coach who wanted to be a Dodger catcher, took a three-ply poke at modern basketball Friday which doesn't figure to receive unanimous acclamation from men of the leather melon.

Honey is the lean-faced fellow who "never got by the first cup of coffee" at Ebbetts Field but went on to become one of basketball's all-time greats. So it bears some weight when Russell rants in clipped tones that there should be no legislation against the sky-high players now in vogue; that pro basketball isn't what it used to be, and that spot-light games such as presented at Madison Square Garden cause over-sized craniums among the youngsters.

A PRO ACE for 26 years although he just touches the six foot mark, the Manhattan coach denies that the oversized players ranging up to seven foot, one inch, are "goons" and a threat to the game.

"I've known some large lads who were fine players and a lot of small fellows, too," Russell explained. "And I don't see any reason for making the basket any higher. That would only make it even more difficult for the little fellow—because I'm six feet and always had my share of trouble reaching the basket where it is."

Honey doesn't think too highly, either, of the current pro players and this isn't a Johnny-come-lately speaking because he has played just about as much paying basketball as any fellow since the Springfield inaugural.

"IT ISN'T AS tough as it used to be," he explained. "I doubt if most of the present-day players could stand the pace we set then. It was not unusual to sometimes play two or three games in a single day.

"Why, on Sundays I would drive 350 miles to get in my games. You didn't have subs then," he reminisced, "and each of us had to go the full route."

Lest you think that is an old graybeard whose memories blossom with time, remember that Honey is only nearing 44. But he's been around plenty, with a bit of pro football for the Chicago Bears and baseball service in the independent coal and oil league in Pennsylvania and the Blue Ridge, Middle Atlantic and Three-I leagues.

But the college-boy attitude of today has him down.

"I heard two lads talking and one of them said: 'I'm going back to college and if I have one good year in Madison Square Garden then I'm going to quit.'"

"THE BOYS want to be individual stars. You have them working fine as a unit— until they reach the Garden. Then you can't believe some of them are the same players as they try to star—and in the process really louse up the joint."

Honey patted his thinning pate and wailed on:

"So you get ready to take out this wild-shooting youngster to restore harmon, . And just as the substitute gets ready to go in why the player sinks a lucky one. So what happens? Everybody thinks you're making a mistake.

"Honest," Honey howled, "sometimes I think it would be easier catching for the Dodgers — even with the kind of pitching they have these days."

Joe DiMaggio Busy Prepping For '46 Comeback

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio is pedaling like mad on a stationary bicycle, pounding his leg muscles into shape for the grind ahead in a prelude to one of the most interesting comeback attempts of 1946.

Joe DiMaggio

Di Mag's isn't taking chances on faltering or missing fire when he tries to pick up his New York Yankee career where he left off after the world series of 1942. He saw Hank Greenberg hobble around the outfield and watched Cecil Travis bend his aching back for a grass-cutter that he never touched and he decided that was not for him.

"After watching some of the other fellows last fall at the Yankee Stadium I told myself I would undergo as tough a training schedule as I could stand," said Joe. "That means about three weeks here, two weeks more on my own in Florida and then a start with the early birds at St. Petersburg."

With Tommy Henrich, Charley Keller and DiMaggio back in the outfield and Phil Rizzuto, Joe Gordon and the rest of the gang pouring back into civilian life, some "experts" are picking the Yanks as a shoo-in to a flag but Guiseppe doesn't see it that way.

"I can't make any predictions even if I wanted to," laughed Joe. "The team sounds great and we should be up in there but I've been away for so long that I can't honestly say what our chances are. My brother Dominic wrote me the other day he'll be back in Boston and they'll probably have Ted Williams again. And Detroit will be tough too with their outfield and pitching."

American Boxers Going To England

LONDON, Dec. 29—(CP)—Fight promoter Jack Solomons arrived by plane from New York Friday and declared he had made a three-year agreement with promoter Mike Jacobs for the exchange of United States, British and French boxing talent.

Solomons said he had arranged for Willie Pep, New York-recognized featherweight champion, to come here to fight either Nel Tarleton, British Empire 126-pound king, Al Phillips or Tom Smith in London the second week in March.

Besides Pep, Solomons said, he expects to bring middleweight contender George Abrams and welterweight Ray (Sugar) Robinson overseas for a number of bouts. The British promoter added that he intended to hold high-calibre boxing shows every three weeks in London.

Dismiss Charges Against Calloway

KANSAS City, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Cab Calloway, Negro band leader, [illegible] of charges of [illegible] arrest by Judge Earle Frost yesterday in the outcome of what police said was an argument over his entering a Kansas City ballroom last Saturday.

The case was dismissed.

Calloway testified at the trial that he and a friend, Felix H. Payne, Jr., of Kansas City, purchased tickets to the ballroom after they had been invited to attend by Lionel Hampton another Negro band leader. Hampton's orchestra was playing for the dance.

THE "HI-DE-HO" musicians declared the two were stopped by a special officer employed at the [illegible] and told that the hall did not admit Negroes. Mr Payne said at the trial that he was pushed by the officer and when he recovered he saw the officer beating Mr. Calloway with a revolver.

William Todd, the ballroom officer, testified Mr. Payne struck at him and Mr. Calloway pushed him to the floor.

No Drafting AHL Players Unless Agreement Signed

CLEVELAND, Dec. 29—(AP)—President Al Sutphin of Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League said Friday the National and American Leagues are working independently of each other this season and that, unless affiliation agreements are signed before the end of the season, there will be no player draft by the NHL in the spring of 1946.

Sutphin said no agreement had been reached at the last meeting of the two leagues at Montreal and the subject had not been brought up since, by either circuit.

Articles of agreement usually include territorial rights, reserve lists of players and the annual draft from the American League by the National loop.

DUTTON NOT CONCERNED SUTPHIN'S STATEMENT

TORONTO, Dec. 29—(CP)—Mervyn (Red) Dutton, president of the National Hockey League, left for New York last night on league business after a [illegible] ing which, it was reported, he looked into the matter of [illegible] hockey players seeking reinstatement as amateurs.

Also, he took time out to reply to a Cleveland despatch in which president Al Sutphin of Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League was quoted as saying that National and American Leagues are working independently of each other this season and that unless affiliation agreements are signed before the end of the season there will be no player draft by the National League in the spring of 1946.

SAID DUTTON: "I'm not concerned over Mr. Sutphin's statement. My dealings on behalf of the National League have a[illegible] with the American League president, and not any individual club owner or manager.

"The only difference of opinion in connection with renewal of an agreement, has been [illegible] territorial rights. A[illegible] in Montreal we refused to agree to recognition of these rights for non-operating members of the American League."

"THERE CAN BE no draft if there is no agreement," the American League president said. "However, we have been working in the closest harmony with the National loop and will continue to do so. We have had to protect our interests in our non-operating cities of Washington, Springfield and Philadelphia where clubs were suspended for the duration. At our annual meeting in June these clubs will be asked to give definite guarantees that they will operate next [illegible] I think the way will be opened for an agreement satisfactory to everybody."

Buffalo Decides Give Bonus Money To March O' Dimes

BUFFALO, N.Y., Dec. 29—(AP)—Buffalo's Bisons whose owners were threatened by a $10,000 fine should the team receive a promised $1,500 bonus for reaching first place in the American Hockey League's eastern division by Christmas, decided Friday to contribute it to the March of Dimes.

Dr. James Allinger, team treasurer, said the players voted "on their own" in Cleveland to donate the money to the campaign conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"I think this is one of the most gracious actions I've heard of since I've been connected with sports," commented Dr. Allinger. "It just shows what a fine bunch they are.

"I'll still carry on the fight to get them a bonus. By George we'll give them another $1,500 if the league governors will allow it."

Dr. Allinger said he still had "heard nothing" from league president Maurice Podoloff who he said had agreed to poll the league governors to determine whether the club would be allowed to pay the bonus, amounting to about $100 a player.

Podoloff had told Bison officials [illegible] Wednesday night that he had warned them after the announcement of the bonus offer that it was against league rules, that he had relied on their promise to withdraw the offer and that a fine of "not less than $10,000" would be forthcoming if the bonus was paid.

PODOLOFF COMMENDS ACTION OF BISONS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 29—(AP)—President Maurice Podoloff of the American Hockey League last night commended members of the Buffalo Bisons for their action in voting to contribute a promised $1,500 bonus to the March Of Dimes.

Podoloff said:

"The Buffalo hockey team merits the highest commendation for their generosity and the management's unstinted admiration, for to find oneself faced with a dilemma and to be able to skate between the horns thereof without being impaled on either, is a feat of exceedingly rare skill."

The Edmonton public library gave to the citizens of Edmonton [illegible] new or improved services during the past year.

The street car library continued to get world-wide publicity with [illegible] from as far away as Palestine and the Near East. During the year a new stop for the car was [illegible] in the Parkdale area.

A SPECIAL YOUTH section was [illegible] at the library to provide [illegible] recreation and inspiration for teen-agers.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM the [illegible] took an active part in the Alberta Library Association's convention held in September.

Three members from the staff of the Edmonton branch were appointed by the provincial government to a committee to survey the library situation in Alberta.

The Edmonton YMCA had one of the busiest years yet partly due to the fact that so many men have returned from overseas. This has also greatly added to the membership. Entertainment for the servicemen has been provided weekly in the form of picture shows and dances. Besides this the "Y" has provided accommodation for many returning men and through their kitchens have made meals available.

THE Y'S MEN'S CLUB and the Phalanx Club through their weekly meetings have heard many prominent speakers [illegible] abroad, and have had some enjoyable times as a result of a varied assortment of entertainment.

For the 1945-46 term Waldo F. Empey was elected president. Raymond Shaul holds the corresponding position with the Mountglen "Y".

During the year Ralph Young left his position as young people's secretary to go to a new position in Eastern Canada.

SOME ADDITIONS TO THE staff during the year were: W. [illegible] business secretary; Phil Fawcett, boys' work, Mountglen; Art Warburton, physical director, and Fred Pember[illegible]

Further plans were [illegible] the building of a new $400,000 YMCA.

Delegates to the National Council convention from Edmonton were C. S. Young and [illegible]

Allowance Big Help When Triplets Born

The family allowance comes in handy, says Lawrence Staskowski, St. Catharines, Ont., father of first triplets born in that city in the past 27 years. The two girls and a boy, shown with their parents and nurse, weighed 12 pounds, nine ounces at birth.

Insurance Manager Honored at Dinner

George T. Hutcheson, CLU, manager of the Edmonton branch, Dominion Life Assurance company for the last five years, was guest of honor at a complimentary dinner [illegible] and their [illegible] Macdonald hotel [illegible]

Mr. Hutcheson has been promoted to the post of provincial manager for the company in Manitoba, with headquarters at Winnipeg, and leaves Saturday to take over his new duties. He has been associated with the Edmonton [illegible] for the last seven years.

He was the recipient of a gift, presented by W. J. Monaghan, CLU, chairman, on behalf of members of the [illegible]

The ROAD AHEAD

By Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

ONE of the most important functions in Canada's rehabilitation machinery is that service supplied by the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committees which have been set up in practically every city and most of the larger towns and rural centres in Canada. They have done, and are doing, a magnificent job which could not be done in any other way. It is interesting to note that General Omar N. Bradley, veterans' administrator in the United States, has called for the formation of these committees in 23,000 communities across the great republic.

MADE UP OF LOCAL MEN and women who are interested in the welfare of veterans and in the future of the communities in which they live they have proved an invaluable aid both in preparing the legislation required, in advising the government, and in giving practical advice and assistance to servicemen who have returned to their home communities to settle down.

This work has not all been easy. It has made big demands on the time of busy men. It has meant studying the great mass of legislation and regulations which have emanated from Ottawa. It has meant making trips to Edmonton and Calgary (here in this province) to meet the officials of the department of veterans affairs and discuss problems with them.

IT HAS MEANT giving up hours of their time to discuss problems brought to them by young men, and women, who find themselves somewhat bewildered on their return to civil life. It has meant

Rotary Club To Entertain Carol Leaders

Special functions and activities at coming meetings of Edmonton service clubs have tapered to the regular type with few clubs reporting arrangements for special speakers.

Thursday noon at the Macdonald hotel Rotarians will have as their guests leaders of choirs who took part in the Rotary Christmas carol festival.

Lions and Optimists will hold their regular meetings.

Monday noon at the Macdonald Kiwanis club members will hold their annual New Year's fellowship meeting. Thornton Graham will preside.

ON TUESDAY, Jan. 8, Gyros, Y's Men and Cosmopolitans, all will hold their first regular meetings of the new year.

On the following Saturday, Jan. 12, Kinsmen and their wives will be present at the club's installation of officers for 1946.

The Rev. J. R. Cox of the Wesley United church, will address the Lions' Club at its meeting Thursday noon in the Macdonald hotel.

Servicemen Start New Year's Leave

With personnel returning from their five days of Christmas leave, those who stayed on duty at Christmas at Edmonton military establishments left Friday to spend five days of New Year's leave at home.

Naval, Army and RCAF personnel, constituting the 50 per cent. who went leaveless at Christmas, were leaving for homes outside the city Friday.

To those on duty New Year's there will be a New Year's Day feast of turkey and all the trimmings.

Several dances are scheduled for both officers and men on New Year's Eve, and at the American Army bases in the city.

ELMER LOGAN entering the Agency building;

AND

Name Directors For Fair Board

City council Friday completed nominations to the civic boards with appointment of directors to the Edmonton Exhibition Association, members of the Royal Alexandra hospital board, and the board of health.

The following were appointed for two-year terms to the exhibition association board: Ald. J. H. Ogilvie, Ald. F. J. Mitchell, Ald. S. S. Bowcott, Carl Berg, William Muir and J. H. Wildman. Appointments to the hospital board were: Dr. P. H. Sprague, Miss I. MacMillan, Mrs. C. E. McManus, S. W. Field, KC, and Dr. Irving R. Bell. Mrs. M. E. Butterworth was appointed as the public school board representative on the board of health.

Government Silent On New Industries

Because the plans of industries who contemplate entering the Alberta field during 1946, "half a dozen" or more, are being treated by the government in confidence at the request of the former, details cannot now be gone into, said Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of trade and industry, Friday.

That these range "from wood carving to undertaking" was intimated by the minister in a radio address Wednesday evening last.

Convocation Arrangements Are Complete

Arrangements for the convocation at the University of Alberta on Saturday evening, Jan. 5, at 8 o'clock are now complete. The chancellor, the Honorable Mr. Justice Frank Ford, will preside. Brother Prudent, Rector of St. Joseph's College, will pronounce the invocation. Students in the faculty of medicine will be presented their degrees by Dean Ower, and in the faculty of dentistry by Dean Scott Hamilton.

THE PRESIDENT of the University will make a report. The honorary degree of doctor of laws will be bestowed on W. D. Albright, until recently superintendent of the Dominion experimental station at Beaverlodge, Alberta, and on Dr. A. C. Rankin, until lately dean of the faculty of medicine at the University of Alberta. Dr. Rankin will give the convocation address. The university organist, Professor L. H. Nichols, will preside at the organ.

Admission will be by ticket which may be secured at the registrar's office, phone 31041, beginning Dec. 29. For ticket holders the doors will open at 7:15 and at 7:45 non-ticket-holders will be admitted up to the capacity of the hall. At 8 o'clock the academic procession will enter and the program will begin.

ALL STUDENTS receiving degrees are required to meet in convocation hall at 2:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon, immediately before the convocation tea for a rehearsal of the graduation exercises.

Tea for the graduating class and the members of their immediate families, and members of the staff will be served in the senate chamber by the Faculty Women's club from 3:30 to 5 p.m. the afternoon of convocation day.

May Build Railway In Calgary Area

A charter is sought from the provincial government for a railway connecting the coal mining district 70 miles southwest of Calgary with the city of Calgary.

The coal, along the upper Highwood river, will be easily mined by strip methods for the most part as hundreds of millions of tons lie above the river level, it was stated.

Application for the charter will be made at the next session of the Alberta legislature, it was stated, from members of the firm of Porter, Allen and Millard, Calgary solicitors.

Highwood Mines Ltd. is the name of the firm that seeks rights to build the railway and it is said to be adequately financed.

Considerable survey work has been done on the properties and it is said that attempts were made some time ago to interest both the CPR and CNR in constructing a rail line from Calgary.

It is admitted the coal deposits will never be developed unless the line is constructed.

Name F. S. Pitney Cigar Store Head

Announcement is made by United Cigar Stores, Ltd., of the appointment of F. S. Pitney as chairman of the board, effective Jan. 1, 1946. Mr. Pitney is succeeded as president by W. J. Mahany, with A. Staal continuing as vice-president, and C. R. Crowley becoming vice-president and assistant to the president. The board will consist of the above officers of the company and E. P. Kinsman. J. I. Parke becomes secretary-treasurer of the company.

Lowland Flooded

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Army headquarters here said today 800 evacuees were taken to Eugene, Ore., as the rain-swollen Willamette river flooded lowland areas in nearby Glenwood and West Springfield. A flood crest of 17.5 feet—8 above the disastrous 1942 crest—was expected in the area by noon today.

Arrives in New Year

Lt. John M. Singer who was one of the passengers on the troopship Queen Elizabeth when it docked in New York on Friday is expected to arrive in Edmonton on New Year's Day. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Singer 6256 Ada Boulevard. He is a law graduate from the University of Alberta and was admitted to the bar in 1942.

Property Sales Given Approval

City council Friday approved of three sales of city owned property totalling $83,800, on which buildings estimated to cost approximately $1,000,000 will be erected.

THE SALE OF TWO lots located at the northeast corner of 102 street and 100 avenue to the Medical Arts Building Ltd. for $20,000 was approved subject to receiving from the company a covenant that a structure costing not less than $500,000 would be placed on the property, and that building operations would be started within a reasonable time. The same covenant is attached to the other two sales.

APPROVAL WAS GIVEN of the sale to J. A. Christiansen on behalf of Waterloo Motors Limited, of which he is managing director, of two lots on the north side of Jasper avenue, immediately west of the Balmoral block and across from the Corona hotel. The city frontage acquired is 100 feet, and in addition, Mr. Christiansen has made arrangement to obtain another lot on the corner, to bring his total frontage up to 160 feet. Purchase price of the two city lots is about $37,000.

He stated he proposes to build a streamlined one-storey building, mainly of concrete and steel, with large plate-glass windows fronting Jasper avenue.

Also approved was the sale of two lots at 107 street and Jasper avenue to the Dominion Motors Company for $26,600. The company proposed to erect a garage and show rooms on this property at a cost of not less than $150,000. The structure will be a one-storey building.

THE MEDICAL ARTS Building Co. proposes to erect a six-storey structure on the property purchased, and it will house doctors and dentists, and will provide a complete medical centre. It is estimated the structure will cost between $650,000 and $700,000.

Club Addressed On Art Culture

Suggestion that art was a sissy sort of an avocation was scorned by R. L. Harvey, principal of Haultain school, Calgary, in an address to the Optimist club at a luncheon meeting in the Macdonald hotel, when he pointed out that one of Canada's most influential artists had been a divisional boxing champion during the last war.

Art, the speaker said is the outward expression of the love for beauty which lies in every heart. That love is being expressed in Canada in an increased demand for all types of artistic goods.

Children have the feeling for art which fades as men get older, but the speaker suggested that there could be no happier form of retirement than that which included the pursuit of beauty.

He also paid attention to music and literature as forms of art in which beauty is found, though he deplored a tendency which stressed the movie theatre as an alternative to the latter.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

What do you think of the decision to increase gasoline prices in Alberta.

THE ANSWERS

HARRY HOPKINS, caretaker: It will not affect me, but if the prices here were too low then they should be brought into line with other provinces.

WILLIAM FRASER, bookkeeper. The increase in the price of crude oil to producers in the Turner Valley and other Alberta fields has been long overdue. If the increase makes it necessary to raise the price of gasoline the consumer should pay the increase.

FRED HARVEY, accountant: The increase of the price of crude oil will stimulate the production of crude oil, and also will give impetus to the further exploration of the province's oil resources. I think the increase is long overdue.

More Edmonton Men Returning

The name of Pte. J. Rudey, 11108 76 street, should be added to the list of [illegible] returning to Edmonton on New Year's Day [illegible]

[illegible] ed to Edmonton after a civic welcome in the unit's home city, Victoria, the name of Pte. W. J. Ade, 12850 134 street, should be eliminated and that of L. Sgt. W. Wingleman, Nisku, added.

Back at Post

After three weeks at home with an attack of pleurisy contracted while on a business visit to Ottawa, O. S. Longman, deputy minister of agriculture, is back at his office.

2,687 Distance Telephone Calls Over Holidays

Thirteen circuits in Canada and 11 [illegible] long [illegible] completed [illegible] office, over the Christmas holiday, according to figures released on Friday morning by W. B. Ferguson, general traffic superintendent, Alberta Government Telephones.

Not all calls were completed, however, since 3,350 requests were made. Completed calls were 81 per cent of those requested. Increased efficiency was shown, he said, in that a year ago only 76 per cent had been finished.

1946—When Things Will Be "Coming Our Way"

The New Year, 1946, is the one young people—and old folks too—have been waiting for, the year when reconversion will be completed and production brings realization of the war years' dream of a new washing machine, a new refrigerator, car, bicycle, camera—and nylons.

President, Secretary

Brother, Sister Busy Pair In Affairs of Edmon-Teens

The only such "brother-sister" act in Edmonton's teen-aged fraternity are Jack and Dorothy Kenny, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kenny, 11242 124 street. Jack is president of the West Edmon-Teens, while sister Dorothy is secretary.

Their tastes in music are as one. Both are ardent devotees of one Tommy Dorsey, U.S. master of dance melodies. In addition, many of Jack's spare hours are taken up in modelling various items from clay and other materials.

Both 18-year-old Jack and 16-year-old Dorothy have appeared on numerous occasions on teen-age radio programs in Edmonton.

Graduate the year before last of Westglen high school, Jack is now employed in a local wholesale house. Dorothy is a grade 10 student at Westglen, where she takes an active part in extra-curricular affairs.

This is Dorothy's second term as secretary of the West Edmon-Teens. Jack is filling the president's boots for his first year, replacing last year's president, Berniece Thyne, now a resident of that part of Edmonton located on the south side of the river. Both were elected last October.

Under their jurisdiction come the affairs of between 350 and 400 West Edmon-Teen members, most of them enthusiastically devoted to the furtherance of the teen-age movement.

DEVELOP INDIAN ISLANDS

KANDY, Ceylon— (CP) — Plans for transforming the Andaman and Nicobar Islands into one of the most prosperous areas of South-East Asia are well in hand. It is hoped to establish plants for extracting coconut oil and shark liver oil, and by means of modern saw-mill machinery to increase the export of timber.

Club Has Concert Of Carol Singing

The Bobbette club, now affiliated with the International Sub-Deb club, held a concert of carol singing and three-part songs at the Government House convalescent home at tea time on the day before Christmas.

On Christmas Day the girls visited all the wards of the Colonel Mewburn Pavilion and sang carols to the veterans during supper time. A singing visit was also made to the soldiers wing and tuberculosis wards in the University hospital. Paula Ragan was accompanist.

Members of the club are: president, Betty Drysdale, secretary-treasurer, Norma Smith; Dallas Henning, Betty Janke, Joyce Weastel, Paula Ragan, Louise Shepperd and Audrey Clarke.

These girls are all grade nine students at Seona High school. Club sponsor is Miss Ann Gillis.

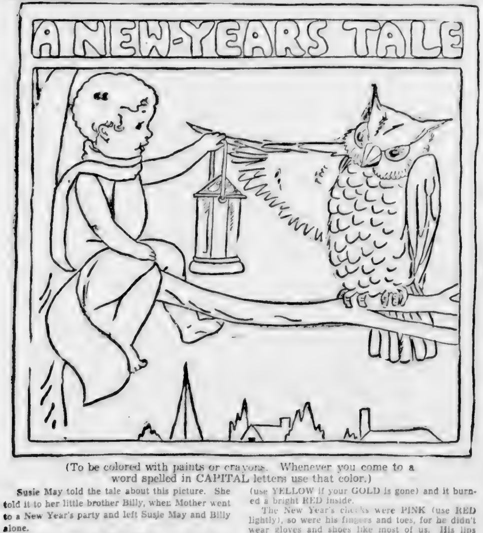
Snow creaks when it is too cold to melt under pressure of footsteps, and the dry crystals slip over one another.



(To be colored with paints or crayons. Whenever you come to a word spelled in CAPITAL letters use that color.)

Susie May told the tale about this picture. She told it to her little brother Billy, when Mother went to a New Year's party and left Susie May and Billy alone.

The New Year had YELLOW hair, and the light BLUE scarf about his neck was wrapped about little New Year to keep him warm. The tree was GREY (use BLACK lightly), and the owl—he was the hero in Susie May's tale, for he gave the lost New Year a lantern to find his way—the owl was BROWN on his wings and head, and a light TAN (use BROWN and YELLOW mixed) color on his vest, cheeks and the underside of his wing. His eyes were bright YELLOW, so was his beak and his toes. The wonderful lantern made all of GOLD (use YELLOW if your GOLD is gone) and it burned a bright RED inside.

The New Year's cheeks were PINK (use RED lightly), so were his fingers and toes, for he didn't wear gloves and shoes like most of us. His lips were RED and his eyes BLUE, and Susie May said he did look like Billy quite a bit. But who ever heard of Billy sitting way up on a branch with miles and miles of dark BLUE sky all about and the RED chimneys and BROWN roofs of houses and towers looked up." There were GREEN [illegible] looking up at the pair sitting up so high—anyway, that is what Susie May said in her Tale of the New Year to Billy on New Year's Eve.

The border of this picture can be colored RED, and the lettering GREEN.

Future of Mankind Up to Today's Teen-Agers

Given by King at Christmas

By JACK WILCE

Serious thought should be given to His Majesty King George's Christmas speech by the young peoples all over the world. The outlook that every teen-ager has on life, at their present age, will largely be responsible for whether their's is to be a world of war and hate, or a world of peace and good-will.

IF THE YOUNG PEOPLE of the universe enter the peacetime year of 1946, with the spirit and feeling of His Majesty's message to youth, as [illegible] there is no doubt that their children to be will not spend their teen-age in a world where love for your fellow men seems impossible.

In his address the King gave the following recipe for future happiness for those who have grown up in a world of war:

"You have known the world only as a world of strife and fear. Bring now [illegible] where men and women can live in mutual trust and walk together as friends.

"DO NOT JUDGE LIFE by what you have seen of it in the grimness and waste of war, nor yet by the confusion of the first years of peace.

Have faith in life at its best and bring to it your courage, your hopes and your sense of humor.

For merriment is the birthright of the young. But we can all keep it in our hearts as life goes on, if we hold fast by the spirit that refuses to accept defeat; by the faith that never falters; by the hope that cannot be quenched.

"LET US HAVE NO FEAR of the future but think of it as opportunity and adventure.

"Home life as we all remember at Christmas, is life at its best. There in the trust and love of parents and children, brothers and sisters, we learn how men and nations too may live together in unity and peace."

The responsibility of the world will in a few years lay in the hands of those who are now in their teens. It is up to them to sow the right kind of seeds now if the wish to reap an abundant crop of happiness in future years.

West Edmon-Teens

By GEOFF NIGHTINGALE

Christmas Eve was the main event out westend way this week as the west branch held a special Christmas Eve dance entitled "Reindeer Ramble". Westglen's gym was filled with the real Christmas spirit as 'teen-agers enjoyed dancing to both hot and sweet music, and tasted the joys of an abundance of "coke" and doughnuts.

SANTA CLAUS was present in person to hand out valuable prizes to lucky winners of various dance events. A special Santa Prance was a feature of the evening in which Santa "cut in" on different couples. The last couple he so dealt with won a prize handed over by Old St. Nick Himself.

Music was provided through courtesy of a phonograph and a good collection of sizzle-platters.

The gym was decorated to a point where it was almost unrecognizable. Thanks go to Alf Savage and his hard-working committee. Jack Cronin arranged a good lighting system featuring a blue and red color combination. Thanks also go to the patrons, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kenny and Mr. and Mrs. Timmins.

There will be no dance this week end. Next dance will be held Jan. 4, 1946, so see you then!

South Edmon-Teens

By DONN ROBERTS

Well, gang, once again I repeat there was a swell crowd at the South Side branch's last dance. Everybody enjoyed themselves as usual.

DURING THE week there was the annual dance at the Barn at which the South Side members showed up in full force. This dance was a great success and because of this we are able to put down another mark on the Central Council's card "Success of This Year."

That's all for this week but here's hoping you had a merry Christmas and will have a happy and prosperous New Year.

Don't forget the dance at the South Side this Saturday night; there will be fun and prizes for everybody.

Central Edmon-Teens

By MYRIAM DOBSON

Central wound up a round of varied activities last night with the final dance of the year. Although they were a few days early, a record crowd was present to ring out the old and ring in the new. The prevailing holiday spirit was one of merry-making, and this, topped by good food and music put everyone in a celebration mood.

WHILE CHECKER games were in progress downstairs, there were a few interesting goings-on upstairs, consisting of ping pong games, contestants running themselves ragged.

Not to be outdone by the tennis experts, some of the kids pounded the ivories over in the corner. It was obvious, however, that although the table tennis and piano ramblings drew a crowd upstairs, the dance gym held the most attraction. Maybe an inviting piece of mistletoe had something to do with it.

WE HEAR THAT Central's 1946 [illegible] ity and quantity—so on Jan. 1, when you're making resolutions, resolve to spend at least one Friday night a week down at the dance.

Who's Who in Edmon-Teens

A member of the West Edmon-Teen Club, Miss Sharleene Dlin, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dlin, 10714 125 street, intends to take up pharmacy work at the University of Alberta on graduating from high school. She is now a Grade 10 student at Westglen. Her hobbies are reading and dressmaking and for her favorite sports she prefers swimming, cycling and hiking. She attends the Jewish synagogue and is a member of the Hi-Y and Swing club.

Elizabeth Woodward Says . . .

NO THANK YOU

Since you tottered to your mother's knee, she's been a stickler for pretty pleases. You don't say "gimme," you don't grab, and you don't trot off without a "thank you." But the farther you tower over your mother, the more you tend to skip those politenesses. Oh, you say "please" often enough. And you're really grateful for favors received, I suppose. But what I have on my mind is the way you don't write "thank you letters."

You spend the night at your girl friend's house. You're in the habit of doing that. And she holds down your other twin bed just as often. You're going to see her tomorrow . . . and probably see her mother too. So you say your thanks when you scoot off in the morning. You don't have to write it.

But when you spend the week-end with someone, you eat a lot of food, you consume a lot of thinking time and energy, you muss up sheets, you receive hospitality. And you should write and say you're grateful. Maybe a girl just your age was your hostess . . . but the person who was put to the most trouble was her mother. Both of them deserve a gay, thankful note in your best Italian hand. No printed card bought at the corner drug will do. If you had a good time and hope to be invited again ever, you must say so in so many words. And even if you didn't have a good time, you must pretend you did.

SUCH NOTES aren't hard to write. You got home all safe and sound with no bones broken and with your mind churning with pleasant memories of being with them. Their home is such fun . . . and you have such a good time when you're with them. Pick out two or three things to glow over . . . the fudge cake was out of this world . . . cooking supper over an open fire is the easiest way you know of denting an appetite . . . the date you had with little Oscar was super. You loved every minute of your stay . . . and you appreciate down to your toes all they did to make the weekend so much fun for you. That's not hard.

To your girl friend you can gurgle and splash all you want. But her mother is expecting that "thank you note" from you. And if you want her to go out of her way again in your behalf . . . you'd better come across.

Twenty-four hours is too long to wait to write a "thank you" for a present you get. If it's handed to you all wrapped up in pretty ribbons, you'll probably open it on the spot and thank the generous giver right to her face. But if the package comes through the mail . . . you want to share your excitement and your pleasure in the thoughtfulness that inspired that gift . . . at once on paper. Maybe whatever it is doesn't fit, or doesn't match . . . maybe you hate it and plan to give it to the rummage. But don't breathe a word. Whoever sent you that present was trying to please you and missed. But you must not miss thankink her.

IT ALL BOILS DOWN to this. People don't have to do nice things for you. They don't have to entertain you in their homes . . . and send you presents on all occasions. And when they do . . . they're being ever so decent. If you don't thank them glowingly and promptly . . . the next time they'll say "why bother?"

At Gala Dance

Younger Set of Edmonton Makes Merry Boxing Day

Several hundred members of Edmonton's younger social set got together this week to make the evening of Boxing Day one to be remembered for a long, long time. The event was the annual Boxing night dance staged by the Central Council of the Edmonton-Teen movement, at the Barn.

Guests were members of the West Edmon-Teens, the South Edmon-Teens, and the Central Edmon-Teens. Music was provided by a well-known orchestra and dancing, wild and soft, was the order of the evening from the opening bar at 9 p.m. to the closing passages at midnight.

Not even Santa Claus, literally worn out from his hard work the previous week or so, could refuse an invitation to the affair. He turned up in full costume, looking a little baggy under the eyes, and turned in an excellent job of distributing prizes to various lucky couples.

The dance, which went under the name "Ylloh Poh Owt" (spelled backwards means something else again) was voted one of the best in the records of the members.

Refreshments were served as the dance progressed. There was only one restriction on the evening's fun [illegible]

THE NAZI SWASTIKA WAS NOT USED BY THE AMERICAN INDIANS

It is a mistaken idea to connect the Nazi swastika symbol with the American Indians. The Nazis symbol has the ends of the arms bent to the right, clockwise, while the American Indian symbol is just the opposite; it's arms are bent to the left counter-clockwise. The Indian symbol was used widely among the Navajo tribes, and meant "good luck"; while the Nazi symbol, with arms bent in the opposite direction, meant just the reverse—it is the symbol of destruction. One of the oldest of human monograms, the swastika has been used [illegible]

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Most People Think Love Is An Emotional Malady

Temporary Affection Is Too Often Mistaken for True Love Which Should Have Mental and Physical Compatibility as the Primary Requisites

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: It is actually true, as it appears, that most people think that love is some sort of malady accompanied by chills and fever and violent erotic emotionalism, and that [illegible] which is [illegible] is removed [illegible] symptoms subside, and in many cases [illegible] disappear entirely; sometimes [illegible] at the return of the object which caused the infection?

If marriage is really based upon this sort of maudlin principle, what is there about it that a person of dignity and respect would desire?

DISGUSTED.

ANSWER: I am afraid that it is true that the great majority of people do think that love is solely emotionalism, and that when a married couple gets past the chills and fever stage and cease to thrill at each other's touch, it is all over except getting the divorce.

APPARENTLY THEY do not consider it necessary to take into account the suitability, the character, the intelligence, or the disposition of those with whom they are undertaking to spend the balance of their lives. Nor do they feel bound by the obligations they have assumed. All that counts with them is how they feel at the moment, and when they cease to palpitate they decide that [illegible] their mates, and they are headed [illegible] the divorce court.

Millions of boy and girl war marriages which were entered into in the belief that a thrill was a proof of love, are already ending in disaster as the soldiers come marching home and the youngsters, who have been aged, sobered and disciplined by all that they have been through, find out that what they thought was love was only a little physical attraction that has already vanished.

Another evil that this theory that love has to be an emotional orgy is that it keeps so many practical-minded people from realizing that the deep affection they feel for each other and the happiness they find in each other's companionship, is the finest and most enduring kind of love there is in the world. There isn't an ounce of hysteria in their systems, and because they can't thrill and grow hectic over each other, as people do in novels, they think they don't love enough to marry and so they miss the happiness they might have.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been in the Navy for the last three years and am now awaiting my discharge. [illegible] where I am up against [illegible] a girl there, 18 years [illegible] I have known since [illegible] as a friend [illegible] nothing more. I am not in love [illegible] and she knows it, for I [illegible] her so and asked her not [illegible] letters as I didn't believe in writing love letters to [illegible] me love letters and has started [illegible] we are engaged.

WHAT SHOULD I do about this [illegible] I don't love her, should I [illegible] gradually, or should [illegible] her immediately? [illegible]

ANSWER: Immediately is the [illegible] before you get back [illegible] a goner. There is no [illegible] to use gradual means [illegible] easily. You've got [illegible] once. For an 18-year-[illegible] in love has [illegible] discretion nor even common [illegible] when she is in pursuit [illegible] has to flee for his [illegible] will camp on your doorstep [illegible] will weep on your shoulder [illegible] don't let her soften you up [illegible] her emotions are as fickle [illegible] are ardent at the time, and she can fall out of love and with as little reason as she can fall in love.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Can a [illegible]

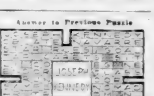
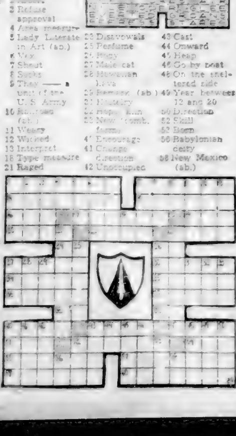
Answer to Previous Puzzle





By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN—

Why Grow Old?

Youth is not all that gives Actress Peggy Knudsen the charm she radiates. Passing years won't rob her of charm if she continues her pleasant outlook toward life.

IT ALWAYS IS REVEALING to observe the entirely different set of reactions which any two individuals derive from the same set of circumstances or from the same experience! This is so literally true that one is wont to believe that we actually do get from life what we put into it and that our approach and outlook affect our success and happiness.

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Given the same experience one person can extract humor, inspiration, rest, new information, greater adaptability and flexibility of personality, fresh ideas and renewed energy, while another may get only hecticness, worry, discouragement, antagonism, a feeling of insecurity and fatigue!

WHEN TWO PERSONS look at [illegible] one may see a swamp while another may [illegible] One may worry because [illegible] suggests rain on the following day [illegible] the erie, golden glow which makes the grass look unnaturally green and bathes the world in mystery. One individual may fret because he is caught in a sudden rain storm while another may feel vibrantly in step with nature as the wind and rain sting his face.

Virtually every situation and every individual have elements of good and elements of bad. Life and people are a strange mixture of discouragement and uplift, of ugliness and beauty, of laughter and of dark moods.

IT ALL SEEMS to depend on how we look at it. Are we ready for new experiences or do we just want to be comfortable? Will we pass up the rich and the humorous by fixing our eyes on the [illegible] some and [illegible] In other words, will we be old or young.

This does not depend on years but on our outlook toward life. It is possible to be gayer and younger and happier at 70 than we were at 20. It is dependent on how we looked at life and how we used [illegible] experiences which came our way.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Here are some short answers to questions which will, I hope, be comprehensible.

MRS. De B. H.: The teacher was in error not to be willing to tell the young pianist that she was playing well. That is, if she was. If not, she may have been trying to be kind to say nothing rather than to be critical. If she did it only to avoid praise, she would do well to give more consideration to the magic properties of praise. No one ever gets too old to appreciate it.

A NURSE: It may very well be that the worms your baby suffered caused the same symptoms described by another reader in a November 12th column. But, in many cases, the presence of worms is less apt to be discovered by symptoms than by noting their actual presence in the stools. The idea that children grit their teeth or rub their noses because of worms, is unfounded. I am glad to suggest to the mother of this restless, appetiteless baby that she take a sample stool for study. Then she will be sure whether this might be a cause.

MRS. M. W.: There have been several articles in this column in the past year on the advisability of letting a "match-crazy" child deal with matches usefully. Letting a child light matches under supervision and set fire to what must of necessity be set alight or burned is a good education on how to use them safely. Letting a child light enough matches, with mother right at hand, so that he wear out his delight in this pastime is another method of getting him over this dangerous hump. Your method was similar to these and like them proved successful.

MRS. C. H. F.: I am convinced [illegible] bassinet after birth and his own crib as he grows is every child's privilege. Unless there [illegible] poverty and lack of space [illegible] mother would deliberately [illegible] let her baby sleep with her and the father. It is potentially dangerous and uncomfortable for all of them.

MRS. A. W.: I know you did not intend to flout what science has confirmed that boys are slower in all kinds of physical development [illegible] just because your experience was different. There are always exceptions.

Our leaflet No. 65, "Toilet Training", may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

BANISHING ASTHMA

The lasting relief of bronchial asthma depends upon:

1. The development of a strong diaphragm which allows the patient to breathe with perfect freedom of movement.

2. The voidance of foods especially likely to cause gas, such as onions, garlic, cooked cabbage, dried beans, etc.

3. The avoidance of foods known to produce excessive mucus in patients with an asthmatic tendency. These foods include starches, sugars, milk, and dishes made from the combination of these, whereas the average person in good health who is exercising vigorously may be able to use such foods without an excess of mucus being formed, in those with asthma the use of these foods will almost invariably bring about an increase of mucus secretion.

I have yet to find a method approaching the fasting and dieting treatment in the satisfactory relief of asthma. The fast will usually take away the wheezing within the first 48 hours and in many instances will relieve within 24 hours, so that the patient will be able to sleep through the first night after the fast is started.

It is hard to believe that so immediate a help will come from such a simple treatment, unless an individual has actually seen the treatment used and watched it work.

Patients who have been experiencing attacks for many years seem to recover as rapidly as those to whom the disorder is beginning, and the improvement during the fast is so rapid that even patients who had given up all hope are convinced of the efficacy of the treatment, and begin to look forward to the enjoyment of many future years of life, completely free from asthma.

The best type of fast to use for the purpose is the straight water fast. In a fast of this kind the patient drinks freely of water for a few days, taking one daily enema and also taking one daily sponge or shower bath. The five day fast may be undertaken safely at home and even a short fast of this length will often produce remarkable results in stopping the wheezing.

After the fast, the patient must follow a careful diet for some time if he wishes to be relieved permanently of all asthmatic symptoms. In addition, it is a good plan for him to take breathing exercises to strengthen the diaphragm.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

New Year's Eve Receptions, Parties, Dances Are Planned

Climaxing a week of holiday festivities, a round of entertainment planned to celebrate New Year's Eve will be highlighted by dances at military centres, city clubs and homes, beginning Monday evening.

Annual New Year's Day levee at the legislative buildings, held by His Honor J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, will take place between 3.30 and 5 p.m. Tuesday in the assembly chamber, it was announced by the lieutenant-governor's office.

Callers are requested to carry a card with their name and address to hand to Maj. C. V. Dacre, His Honor's secretary, who will announce the guests. Such an arrangement with facilitate registration and will help to avoid confusion and congestion while the levee proceeds.

His Honor has invited Premier Ernest Manning to receive with him.

THE EDMONTON Badminton club is planning a dance for members at the club, 10121 120 street. Three hundred persons have made arrangements to attend. Turkey supper will be served at midnight. Committee in charge includes John Battersby, George Strange, Keith Elcombe, Walter Wilson and Paul Chahtrand.

Hundreds of icicles will decorate the Masonic Temple when the Ionic club holds its New Year's Eve ball. Dinner will be served at 10:30 p.m. Monday and dancing will continue from 12 until 4 a.m. Officers of the club include: president, J. W. Weir; vice-president, A. R. Suitor; treasurer, F. B. Heron; secretary, F. Whitfield. The club's committee includes: S. M. Clark, J. Hoyle, J. S. Parker, W. J. Brunlees, H. B. Wood, C. W. Johnston and J. L. Little.

THE AMERICAN Officer's club at the American Air Base will be elaborately decorated in a New Year's motif for the formal dance which will commence at 10 p.m. Breakfast will be served from 2 to 3 a.m., in the traditional American custom and at midnight, Father Time accompanied by a small child, will enter, designating the passing of the old year and the heralding of the new. There will not be a floor show this year but gifts and novelties will be presented to the guests. Capt. H. W. Edmisten is in charge.

A FULL dress ball has been planned by members of "K" Division, RCMP. The dance will be held in the gymnasium of the barracks, and will commence at 10.30 p.m. and continue until 3 a.m. Buffet supper will be served. Committee in charge of arrangements includes Inspector H. Maxted, S-Sgt. D. Mighall, Sgt-Major H. G. Lowes, Cpl. H. Simoneau, Constable P. Bourassa, the Misses Beryl Matheson and Thelma Purdy. The dance promises to be a colorful affair since the "Mounties" will wear their scarlet uniform.

Silver Glade Roller Bowl will be decorated with lighted evergreen trees for a New Year's Eve frolic starting Monday night. A special floor show has been arranged which will include fancy roller skating numbers by youthful members of the roller bowl and dancing. There will be tables and chairs in the lounge for those wishing refreshments. Mrs. Eva Keighley is in charge. Arrangements are being made to accommodate 800 persons.

THE AMERICAN Red Cross Recreation Centre, 100 street and 103 avenue, will hold a New Year's Eve frolic, to be called "Cafe Society Up Town," copied on a smaller scale from the entertainment of the same name in New York and other large American cities. Commencing at 11 p.m. and continuing until 1 p.m. the affair will be highlighted with a floor show. Dinner will be served and the 550th U.S. Army band will be in attendance. Colorful decorations will decorate the club. Committee in charge includes Thomas Noonan, Miss Mary Fenton, Mrs. Betty Hanson, Miss Jane Morgan, and local volunteers who will act as usherettes and hostesses.

The Elks club will hold a New Year's ball in the club on Jasper avenue, for members and their friends. Special entertainment will be provided, arrangements being in charge of Kenneth L. Lawson, secretary. Dancing will be from 9 till 1 p.m.

The Macdonald hotel will hold its annual New Year's Eve ball in the main dining room, dancing from 10 to 2 a.m. Music will be provided by the hotel orchestra. Seven hundred people are expected to attend.

MEMBERS OF the RCAF at Northwest Air Command have planned entertainments for officers, NCOs, and [illegible] of the [illegible] on New Year's Eve and New Year's [illegible]

The officers will have a party, with buffet luncheon and dance in the officers' lounge on New Year's Eve, when wives and lady friends of the officers will be present. Wing Commander Howard L. Watson is in charge of arrangements.

THERE WILL also be a dance in the recreation hall for the NCO's, and open house in the sergeants' mess on New Year's Eve.

On New Year's Day, there will be an officers at home in the officers' lounge from 4:30 to 6.30 p.m. designed to follow the Lieutenant-Governor's levee to which local dignitaries, business men, and members of other services have been invited.

The sergeants will also be at home to officers in their mess at 11:45 p.m., and officers and NCO's will serve dinner to the airmen in the airmen's mess at 1 p.m.

Officers in charge of arrangements for the entertainment on New Year's Eve and New Year's Day are Sqdn.-Ldr. M. S. Cook, and Sqdn.-Ldr. J. D. Truscott, members of the officers' mess committee.

NOT TO BE forgotten in the rendezvous of New Year's Eve frolics are the several hogmanays and pre-hogmanays parties arranged by the various Scottish clubs.

Edmonton Scottish Society will hold its annual hogmanay rally, with a concert and dance in the IOOF Temple, 95 street, on New Year's Eve. Among the artists will be: Mrs. J. Cuthbert, soprano; Mrs. Nan Bower, contralto; G. Stott, tenor; T. Beaumonte, baritone; Jack Jones, comedian; Miss Edna McMartin, pianist; Scottish dancers, Betty Cairney and Edith Johnson; tap dancers, Miss N. Skinner and Mrs. S. Carter; pipers, Pipe Major R. Stoker and Piper G. Adams. The president, Mrs. G. Gellatly will welcome the guests and introduce the artists.

PLANS HAVE been made for a New Year's Eve dance in the officers' mess at the Prince of Wales Armory. Attendance is limited to all active and reserve army officers and former officers now discharged. Dancing will commence at 10 p.m. and the secretary of the garrison officers' mess, Capt. H. S. Daykin, is in charge of arrangements. This affair promises to be a popular one for discharged officers who will have the opportunity of meeting many of their old service friends.

Brig. Gen. Dale V. Gaffney, commanding officer, Alaskan Division, Air Transport Command USAAF, will open house at the officers' club, U.S. Air Base, Tuesday from 3 until 6 p.m.

WED AT CANDLELIGHT SERVICE

Flt. Lt. and Mrs. Arthur Roland Craig, the former Miss Mildred Kathleen Bamber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Bamber of Wabamun, who were married at Robertson United church in a candlelight service performed by Sqdn. Ldr. J. A. Forbes on Friday at 5 p.m. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Craig of Edmonton. After a honeymoon in New York and Miami, the couple will make their home in Edmonton.

Flt. Lt. A. R. Craig Weds Mildred Kathleen Bamber

White chrysanthemums decorated Robertson United church for the candlelight service at 5 p.m. Friday for the wedding of Miss Mildred Kathleen Bamber, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Bamber of Wabamun, and Fl. Lt. Arthur Roland Craig, RCAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Craig of Edmonton. Sqdn. Ldr. J. A. Forbes performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white net over applique of white satin fashioned with a bouffant skirt and a fitted bodice having tight fitting pointed sleeves. Her long veil of illusion tulle fell from a coronet of rose point lace and she carried a shower bouquet of dream roses and sweatheart rosebuds.

MATRON-OF-HONOR was Mrs. R. A. Birch who wore a gown of peach taffeta with a bodice of embroidered Brussel's net, a small lavender hat and carried a bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums.

Best man was FO. Edgar Jones, DFC and Bar, and ushers were Donald Smith and William Sexsmith.

Roy Collins played the wedding music and Miss Berneice McBeth sang "I Love Thee," during the signing of the register.

Mrs. Bamber chose for her daughter's wedding a wine colored velvet frock, grey hat and accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Craig, mother of the bridegroom received with the wedding party and wore a raspberry colored embroidered crepe dress, small flowered hat to match and a corsage of gardenias.

AFTER THE ceremony a reception was held in the drawing room of the Macdonald hotel where the bride's table was centred with a wedding cake flanked by white tapers in silver candlesticks. Presiding at the tea urns were Mrs. E. E. Sexsmith and Mrs. S. Porter. Toast to the bride was proposed by Fred Turnbull.

Later the couple left for New York and Miami for a honeymoon, the bride travelling in a cherry red suit with black accessories topped by a muskrat coat and matching hat.

Upon their return Flt. Lt. and Mrs. Craig will make their home in Edmonton.

G. A. Connell Takes Bride

CALGARY, Dec. 29.—At a 7 p.m. ceremony solemnized in Christ church, Elbow Park, Dec. 21, Miss Marguerite Catherine [illegible], daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Goldsmith Carscallen of Calgary, exchanged marriage vows with Gordon Allen Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. S. Connell of Edmonton. The Rev. W. H. H. Crump officiated at the service.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. W. F. Carscallen of Innisfail, and chose as her wedding ensemble a two-piece suit in light beige tone with contrasting brown accessories, and carried a bouquet of rose [illegible].

MISS FLORENCE Matthews was the bride's only attendant, frocked in a two-piece suit of [illegible] with which she wore black accessories.

Donald H. Connell attended his brother as groomsman.

Following the ceremony a reception for 50 guests was held in the west room of the Palliser hotel where the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by vases of pastel 'mums, and lighted with tall white tapers.

Mrs. Connell, mother of the groom, and Mrs. W. F. Carscallen, the bride's aunt, received with the bridal party. The former chose for her son's wedding a green frock with accessories in black, while Mrs. Carscallen was attired in a black ensemble.

The bridal couple left later for Banff where their honeymoon was spent, returning Christmas Eve to spend the holiday at Okotoks, after which they left for Edmonton to visit the groom's parents. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Connell will reside at Turner Valley where the former is chief petroleum engineer for the Royalite Oil company.

Eskimo Ski Club Holds Annual Party

Skiing with the best snow conditions of this season gave the Eskimo Ski Club's annual Christmas party a wonderful start last Sunday, and the turkey dinner, with all the trimmings was just the right follow-up.

Old members, returned from the various services, mingled with the newer members in a spirit of holiday gaiety, and the turn-out taxed the cabin space to capacity.

Santa Claus made an appearance (in ski clothes, of course, and with a mop-head beard, bearing more than a slight resemblance to a prominent club member) to distribute laugh-provoking gifts to everyone, but only upon payment of a forfeit. The evening wound up with a happy sing-song to the accompaniment of Gaby H[illegible] piano accordian. It was acclaimed by club members to be the best party since the gang "went off to the wars."

In Memoriam

FOR a free booklet of 100 "In Memoriam" verses either call at the Front Counter of The Bulletin, 9945 Jasper Avenue, Edmonton, or write or phone Miss Lennox at 26121.

TURGEON—In loving memory of our dear son Theodore Turgeon who passed away December 30, 1944.

Three little words "Forget me not"
Don't seem much, but mean a lot.
Just a memory fond and true,
To show, dear Ted, we think of you.
—Sadly missed by Dad and Mom.

Canadian Delegates To London Selected

OTTAWA, Dec. 29—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King last night announced that Justice Minister St. Laurent will serve as chairman of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations general assembly in London Jan. 10.

The other delegates will be Agriculture Minister Gardiner, now in Britain, State Secretary Martin, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian high commissioner in the United Kingdom, and Hume Wrong, associate under-secretary of state for external affairs.

ALTERNATE DELEGATES will be J. E. Read, legal adviser of the department of external affairs, Hon. L. D. Wilgress, Canadian ambassador to Moscow, Pierre Dupuy, Canadian minister to the Netherlands, Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for the Ontario riding of Peel, and Stanley Knowles, CCF member of the Commons for Winnipeg North Centre.

Mr. Wilgress, Mr. Graydon and Mr. Knowles have been serving on the Canadian delegation to the Nations preparatory commission which has just completed its meeting in London.

Mr. St. Laurent, and Mr. Martin left Ottawa yesterday for New York from where they will sail for London aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth Sunday.

GMC Withdraws From Fact Probe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29—(AP)—General Motors Corporation withdrew yesterday from President Truman's fact-finding proceedings in the GM automobile strike.

The fact-finding board promptly announced it would continue its hearings regardless.

"We have withdrawn permanently, and I'm going back to New York", Walter Gordon Merritt, GM lawyer, told reporters.

GENERAL MOTORS withdrew because it challenged the inclusion of its profits as a factor in settling the 30-per-cent wage-increase demand of the Automobile Workers' Union (CIO).

Mr. Merritt announced GM had withdrawn from the hearing after first submitting a 10-page explanation of the company's position on the fact-finding proceedings. He told the hearing:

"The corporation is unwilling to participate in the proceedings of this fact-finding board so long as its prices, profits and ability to pay—which are not facts but forecasts and estimates for the future—are to be regarded as proper factors in determining wages as applied to individual business".

HEGLER'S HOUSES

A BEAUTIFUL HOME
Doesn't "Just Happen

. . . It has to be first visualized, then planned, and re-planned with the greatest care. Some people like dainty chintz accessories with furniture from one of the periods—others prefer a sleek modern treatment. Likewise many plan homes of conventional architecture, while others set their eyes on a modern design with plenty of glass bricks and corner windows.

YOUR IDEAS

May be very different, but whatever they are we are in a position to give you your choice of a wide selection of almost any kind of house that is for sale in any part of the city.

WHATEVER YOUR CHOICE

May be you'll enjoy and profit by calling at our office if you are looking for a place to live. We believe our house listings are the greatest in the city, as we have specialized in this for many years. We seldom lose a deal for the want of financing. We have arrangements with private sources and loan companies to take care of any sale where a reasonable payment is made.

IF YOU HAVE A HOUSE

You want to sell, with IMMEDIATE or EARLY POSSESSION, please let us know about it at once. Our greatest difficulty is getting POSSESSION, especially for the returned men. Many who would sell do not know what to ask in these days of [illegible] ing prices. A phone call will bring us to your door. We will give you our honest and expert opinion of about what you should get for it.

JUST ONE HOUSE

We want to tell you about one listed only yesterday. It's a wide siding bungalow, located in the BELLEVUE district south of Alberta Ave. Four rooms, size 24x36. The living room is 12'6"x20'. Two nice bedrooms. Complete bathroom. A really model kitchen with all latest plumbing, gas furnace. Living room has nice fireplace with radiant and all hardwood floors. A white fence all around adds a special sparkle to the exterior. Price for this charming home is $5250. Some terms might be given to a reliable purchaser. Owner transferred to Regina and would also [illegible] for a house there. POSSESSION almost at once.

WE SELL FARMS

Some very attractive buys, close to Edmonton. Our listings are quite large and we can give you a good variety to choose from in almost any locality. This is the time to buy, not later when we feel sure prices will be stronger.

WE SELL BUSINESSES

Many in the city, anywhere in Northern Alberta. If you have a business you want sold just send us the particulars. Or if you want to buy write and say the kind you want, where you would like it and what payment you can make. We will then send description and details of any [illegible]

WE TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO EXTEND OUR APPRECIATION AND HEARTY THANKS TO ALL OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS WITH WHOM WE HAVE DONE BUSINESS THE PAST YEAR. OUR HOPE IS THAT 1946 WILL BE A BETTER YEAR FOR EVERYONE.

3 Possible Sites UNO Headquarters Now Eliminated

By R. H. SHACKFORD

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Dec. 29—(BUP)—Six-nation inspection commission today eliminated three possible sites for headquarters of the United Nations Organization—Westhampton Beach in the New York area, and Cape Cod and Springfield in the Boston area.

The inspection group also added one area in the Boston district—the north shore—to those under consideration.

The committee said it might inspect previously unmentioned sites within the prescribed Boston and New York areas.

The search for a spot to build the headquarters of the UNO was limited to the outlying areas of New York and Boston.

$100,000 Damage In Quebec Blaze

FARNHAM, Que., Dec. 29.—(CP)—Fire of undetermined origin today caused damages estimated at $100,000, with the destruction of a garage, two homes, a woodyard and two outbuildings in this Eastern Townships town. Firemen from St Johns, Cowansville and the nearby Farnham military camp brought the blaze under control two hours after it had broken out.

Student Veterans Plan to Organize Throughout Canada

MONTREAL, Dec. 29—(CP)—[illegible] L. Starkey, McGill University delegate and chairman of the Student Veterans' Conference being held here, last night announced the formation of a national student veterans' organization following a prolonged closed session. A six-man committee was also appointed to carry the conference's decisions to responsible officials at Ottawa. The committee includes K. E. Wright, University of Manitoba, Winnipeg.

Last night's session's ending was delayed more than an hour as delegates thrashed out the various problems confronting them.

J. C. G. Herwig, general secretary of the Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion, commented on the manner in which proceedings were carried out and remarked that discussion group knowledge had been brought into play. During the war many units held discussion groups.

Gen. of the Army George C. Marshall arrives at Kiangwan Airport, Shanghai, China, to confer with Chinese leaders and American representatives there in clarifying U.S. foreign policy in regards to the Orient. He brought a special message from President Truman.

By WILLIAM L. SHIRER

Copyright, 1945, by the New York Tribune, Inc., and Edmonton Bulletin

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. — What a year this has been, the one that passes into history Monday eve! But amidst our childish celebrations can we grasp its significance? Or are our memories too short, our harassed minds too shallow, our imagination too puny, our wills too weak to face up to it?

It was, beyond doubt, the most memorable year any of us have ever lived. In the Allied lands it will long be known as the Year of Victory, the year that brought an end to the Japanese-German dream of world conquest and the cessation of the most terrible war in the history of the world. It was the year too that saw the birth of the United Nations organization and therewith the second attempt within our lifetime to organize the world's peace.

And yet both in Europe and in America, a traveller noted as this fateful year ticked out the end of the war's slaughter and the first sweet months of peace somehow did not restore man's tranquility and his peace of mind as all had expected. Men everywhere faced the new year with uneasiness. True millions were still hungry and cold and homeless, despite the peace. But bad as this condition was, it was something else that gnawed at their insides and made them uncertain and even afraid. They were certainly not very articulate about it. It was hard to express in words. But the feeling was there and it was deep. An era in the history of the human race, they dimly perceived, had ended during this year of 1945. It had gone out when the first atomic bomb exploded in New Mexico. What would the new atomic age be like? And could mankind survive in it for long?

On the boat going over three months ago, on the plane coming back last week, and in scores of homes, restaurants, cafes and camps in England, France and Germany, that was the question that seemed to dominate the hundreds of conversations a reporter had with all kinds people. The Russians—and one met many thoughtful ones in Europe—seemed to be most concerned of all and after them the British. But none, not even the still dazed Germans, not even the tragic refugees still plodding the icy roads of Central Europe, were unconcerned. How many times did an observer hear quoted the cynical remark ascribed to Clemenceau: 'The art of massacring human beings is infinitely more easy than that of governing them.' And the Old Tiger of France had said it long before the first atom bomb was made.

AND YET IN Europe, as in America, the people were not without hope. And it made an American proud, in a shattering sort of a way, to find that even in the Old World a great deal of that hope was pinned on our own fair land. Not that we are loved, or even popular abroad. Gratitude is not one of man's virtues. Nor is understanding one of his most developed qualities.

Lord Keynes, in his eloquent defense of the Anglo-American loan in the House of Lords the other day, spoke of the "immeasurably remote public opinion of the United States. What a gulf separates us from Washington," he exclaimed, "and what a depth of misunderstanding governs the relationships between even the friendliest and most like-minded nations."

ONLY A FOOL OR A congenital optimist would deny it. And it was important that the British economist should state it so bluntly in London. For the gulf between our peoples which I found in the British capital recently was truly disconcerting. Hardly less so was the remoteness of British public opinion which, in so far as it concerned the United States, was as monumental as ours toward Great Britain. With the exception of one or two newspapers such as the "Times" and "Daily Telegraph" no other London journals bother to report American news adequately. Most of them concentrate on daily titbits showing our admitted oddities. The effect is ludicrous. No wonder the average Englishman still sees America as the land of millionaires, fabulous Hollywood stars, Babbitts, cranks, crooners and nit-wit jitterbug addicts. Even in the brilliantly written and [illegible] London weekly magazines, a good many comments on American life are silly and often preposterous.

[illegible] I found the Continent somewhat more enlightened, though not much. The other night in Nuernberg I sat with a group of French and Russian correspondents, many of them dis- [illegible]

New Fire Blocks Rescue of Miners

By CLAY WADE BAILEY

PINEVILLE, Ky., Dec. 29.—(BUP)—A new fire broke out only 400 feet from the entrance of the Kentucky Straight Creek coal mine today and drove out rescue workers racing to reach 22 miners still trapped.

The new blaze, which apparently originated in smouldering wood and coal pushed aside by early rescue workers, blocked the shaft at a time when emergency crews were begrudging every minute of delay.

The weary men pulled back and brought up equipment to put out the new fire. They knew that if any of the remaining men in the mine were still alive their condition would be critical by now.

The air was bad in section 5-left [illegible] when they removed the last of the nine men found there yesterday. Today, 24 hours later, any air remaining in the vicinity of shaft 6-left where the others were believed to be "must be awful bad," a rescue man said.

Even if the miners managed to wall themselves up as the nine did who were brought up out of the shattered mine late yesterday, the air in the room was not expected to last much longer.

Relatives and neighbors flocked back to the mine early this morning and resumed their vigil.

Canadian Generals Are Returning Home To Take New Posts

LONDON, Dec. 29— (CP) —Canadian military headquarters in London announced today that Maj.-Gen. Dan C. Spry of Winnipeg and Maj.-Gen. Harry W. Foster of Picton, Ont., and Halifax will return to Canada shortly to take up new appointments.

Gen. Spry will be succeeded by Brig. R. G. Blackader of Montreal as general officer commanding Canadian repatriation units at Aldershot.

Expect 5-Power Military Meet

By JOHN A. PARRIS

LONDON, Dec. 29—(AP)—Diplomatic quarters said today they expected a five-power meeting of military leaders would take place in January to discuss establishment of the [illegible] peace preservation force contemplated by the United Nations Charter.

A FOREIGN OFFICE spokesman here neither confirmed nor denied reports that plans for a meeting of the military chiefs of the United States, Britain, Russia, France and China were under discussion through diplomatic channels on the initiative of the British government.

The spokesman drew attention, however, to provisions of the United Nations Charter which authorize establishment of a military staff committee to work with the security council.

"THIS COMMITTEE," said the spokesman, "will be constituted when the security council is established."

It was generally assumed in authoritative quarters that this meeting would be held at the earliest possible moment after organization of the peace agency's security council by the United Nations general assembly which will hold its first session in London Jan. 10.

Ottawa Plans To Carry Out Return of Japs

VICTORIA, Dec. 29.—(CP)—The Dominion government has mapped out its policy for deportation of Japanese nationals from Canada and will follow out that policy, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, federal minister of labor said here yesterday.

MR. MITCHELL made his statement following a citizens' meeting at Toronto Thursday night at which it was announced writs against the attorney-general of Canada had been issued challenging the authority of the Dominion government through order-in-council to deport Japanese-Canadians.

Japanese-Canadians, said Mr. Mitchell, would be deported via Seattle on U.S. transports which would also carry Japanese-Americans back to Japan. Mr. Mitchell said the arrangements for the transfer had been completed and the transfer would be effected as soon as possible.

ASKED WHETHER Japanese-Canadians who did not wish to return to Japan would ever again live on the British Columbia coast, Mr. Mitchell said he could not be sure.

He added:

"You can't build a nation with people who sit on the fence."

WHILE IN VICTORIA Mr. Mitchell conferred with provincial labor minister George S. Pearson discussing labor regulations to supercede those enacted by the Dominion government for the war.

The wartime regulations will continue in effect for one year, he said.

"I assume all provinces will retain the basic principles in the code," he said, adding that the only way to retain a national labor code was through amendment of the BNA act.

British Drive on Java Resistance

BATAVIA, Dec. 29—(AP)—British troops took over telephone exchanges and police stations in Buitenzorg and Batavia today, and launched a drive throughout western Java to wipe out resistance in native settlements.

Sniper fire was met by troops who occupied a power station at Buitenzorg. No resistance was encountered, however, by paratroopers who marched into the telephone and police buildings in Batavia.

Aneta, Dutch news agency, said British troops also took over the electric power station and water supply system in Batavia. The only utility not placed under supervision was the railways.

The British command reported minor opposition in the Semarang area during a search of native settlements for weapons.

France, Italy "Disappointed" In Big 3 Meet

LONDON, Dec. 29—(CP)—France and Italy expressed disappointment yesterday over some of the decisions of the Big Three conference of foreign ministers in Moscow, while the Soviet press hailed the parley as a new step toward collaboration of Russia, the United States and Great Britain.

THE UNITED STATES embassy in Moscow said the deputy foreign commissar A. V. Vishinsky, British ambassador Sir Archibald Clark Kerr and the United States ambassador, W. Averell Harriman, planned to leave last night for Bucharest to carry out the agreement of the Big Three as it pertains to Romania.

The three diplomats were authorized to consult with King Michael on broadening the present government and holding free elections, thus paving the way for recognition by Great Britain and the United States.

FOREIGN SECRETARY BEVIN arrived in London last night from Moscow, and newspapermen who asked him what he thought might take place in the future received this quotation from St. Matthew, VI, 34, in reply:

"Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof".

London diplomats saw in the conference a revival of co-operation and trust among the big powers, but pointed out that many vital problems barring the way to world peace remain to be solved.

MR. BEVIN had told newspapermen in Moscow: "If the decisions that were made are all carried out with understanding, that will lead to the next step and the solution of more problems".

In Paris the French cabinet decided to ask Washington, London and Moscow for clarification of certain points in the big three communique before announcing any adherence to the procedure announced for Balkan peace treaties. A foreign office spokesman said France was frankly dissatisfied at being left out as a drafter of peace in the Balkans.

THE SPOKESMAN said France was likewise disappointed in the role allotted to her on the Far Eastern Commission, leaving her without the power of veto that she has on the United Nations Security Council.

In Rome, a foreign ministry spokesman said the Moscow announcement "is undoubtedly a step backward from the Potsdam decision" with regard to the Italian question. Italy was particularly chagrined, he said, at not being granted precedence over Germany's Balkan satellites.

Large Quantities Of Canada Wheat Sent to France

OTTAWA, Dec. 29.—(CP)—An Ottawa spokesman today termed "unfortunate" a dispatch from Paris saying that Canadian wheat exports to France were not up to expectations and said the Dominion had shipped about 35,000,000 bushels or approximately 053,678 tons of wheat to France in the last year.

"That is about nine time the pre-war Canadian wheat export volume to France," he said.

He declined comment on what future Canadian wheat exports might be to France where a short crop has necessitated a return to bread rationing Jan. 1.

Heavy Pressure Put on Canada To Supply Wheat

OTTAWA, Dec. 29.—(CP)—Canada, already under commitment to feed Britain and breadless western Europe, is under "heavy pressure" to ship wheat to areas formerly supplied by Australia, now short of wheat through crop failures, it was learned today.

Wheat experts said, however, that Canada would find it "most difficult" to meet these demands in the face of requirements in the United Kingdom and Europe which, in a sense, were the Dominion's "natural" markets.

Latest official estimates from Canberra place the 1945 Australian wheat crop at 134,800,000 bushels, which, while more than twice as large as the 1944 crop of 51,900,000 bushels, is substantially below the 1932-41 average of 162,000,000.

Boys' Parliament Meets at Calgary

CALGARY, Dec. 29—(CP)—Members of the Tuxis Boy's Parliament in session here yesterday took time out to attend an afternoon skating party as the guests of the Calgary Girls' Council and the CGIT.

Following the party the boys and girls attended vespers services at Central United church and then attended a supper together in the church basement.

In the evening the girls were the guests of the boys at their evening session in the city hall council chambers.

A CONTINUATION of the debate on the speech from the throne followed the opening prayers and, after many of the "back-benchers" had voiced their opinions on various subjects, including the need for improved devotional services and the extension of the sports and physical education program.

Several new bills were introduced and given first and second readings. Among these was one which will sanction the formation of an alumni association and another which will amend the Alberta Tuxis Boys' Parliament act.

A resolution proposing alternative yearly sessions in Calgary and Edmonton instead of all sessions in Calgary, was unanimously passed.

Plan Discussions Iranian Problem

By EDWARD V. ROBERTS

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Dec. 29.—(BUP)—Further discussions in London during the next few days of the thorny Iranian problem appeared certain today as Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin called on Prime Minister Attlee at his country seat Chequers to give a full report on the Moscow conference.

Bevin and Attlee were expected to return to London Monday for a cabinet meeting.

The foreign office reported that Sir Reader Bullard, British ambassador to Tehran, would spend a few more days here before returning to his post. It also was reported the Iranian ambassador to London had requested an audience with Bevin.

Iranian officials were disappointed bitterly by the failure of the British and United States to persuade Russia to agree to a hands-off policy in Azerbaijan province.

They have reiterated a threat to carry the issue to the general assembly meeting of the United Nations organization here next month unless the situation improves.

Ship Pitched and Rolled in Gale

Seasickness Levied Heavy Toll Among Veterans on "Elizabeth"

By MAURICE DESJARDINS

ABOARD THE QUEEN ELIZABETH IN NEW YORK HARBOR, Dec. 29.—(CP)—Carrying 12,026 homecoming Canadian military personnel, the world's biggest liner yesterday drew alongside New York's docks after one of its most gruelling crossings.

CAPTAIN of the 85,000-ton Queen Elizabeth, Commodore Sir James Bissett, said that it had been a "phenomenal crossing" in that the ship had to go on reduced speed for [illegible] consecutive hours, from early Sunday morning to late Christmas night.

Seas were so heavy, he added, that at one time our speed was down to eight knots. For this ship, this is just "steerage speed". The crossing took 6 days, 6 hours.

SURVIVORS of a memorable bout of pitching and rolling on a sea whipped by a western gale, 10,617 members of the Canadian army including a large number of D-Day veterans—and 1,403 wearing the uniform of the Royal Canadian Air Force shouted their glee as Big Bess hove in view of the Statue of Liberty. There was ice in the harbor but the weather was mild in spite of overcast skies.

Most of them had more or less suffered from seasickness during the rough trip and were visibly glad it was all over. They carried souvenir menus of lavish Christmas dinner which comprised tomato soup, halibut hollandaise sauce, roast turkey and cranberry sauce, braised ham madere, plum pudding, mince pie, ice cream, coffee. Two pints of English beer were also distributed to each man under arrangements of the Cunard White Star line.

DISEMBARKING yesterday were six 3rd division infantry units: Highland Light Infantry, Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, Le Regiment de la Chaudiere, Royal Winnipeg Rifles, Canadian Scottish and Regina Rifles.

The [illegible] passenger list includes [illegible] nursing sisters, five [illegible] CWACS, 16 RCAF WD's and six members of the Royal Canadian Navy, plus 178 priority civilians.

Going to MD No. 10 (Winnipeg), are 18 officers and 526 men of the Royal Winnipeg Rifles, under Lt.-Col. Lockke Fulton of Bertle, Man.

Going to MD No. 11 (Vancouver), [illegible] officers and 441 men of the Canadian Scottish, led by Lt.-Col. Cyril Wightman of Victoria, B.C. Included in the contingent is their celebrated mascot "Wallace", the big St. Bernard dog they took overseas in 1941 when they left Vancouver.

To M.D. No. 12 (Saskatchewan), 19 officers and 588 men of the Regina Rifles, led by Lt.-Col. Doug Howett of Winnipeg; six officers and 175 men of the 44th Field Battery, R.C.A., led by Maj. Top Emory of Montreal; eight officers and 147 men of the 5th Medium Regiment, R.C.A., led by Maj. Ron Young of Victoria.

TO M.D. NO. 13 (Alberta), eight officers and 92 men of the 22nd Field Battery, led by Maj. Alan Stewart of Calgary and six officers and 88 men of the 78th Field Battery, R.C.A.

Pte. Campbell (Cam) Sweeney of West Vancouver, B.C., had the honor of being interviewed on the BBC empire-wide Christmas Day one-hour broadcast. Also speaking from the Queen Elizabeth wireless room was the captain, Sir James Bissett, introduced by homecoming BBC War Correspondent Stanley Maxted of Toronto.

Among passengers is Fred P. Hotson, Toronto Star Weekly executive returning from a two-month tour of Europe.

Before the Magistrate

Four slot machines, alleged to be the property of Bob Louis, 9662 102A avenue, were on display in city police court Friday morning when they were ordered confiscated by Magistrate A. I. Millar, KC.

Detective Val Taylor of the morality squad, gave evidence showing that the machines constituted a game of chance rather than one of skill. He offered to demonstrate one of the machines.

Edward F. Amvotte, 10027 94 street, was fined $20 and costs or 30 days when he appeared on a charge of dangerous driving, and $2 and costs or four days on a second charge of operating a taxi in the city without a chaffeur's license. The charges arose out of an accident at 108A avenue and 97 street on Dec. 23, when the car he was driving collided with a car driven by V. Browne, 10534 129 street.

Pleading guilty to a charge of stealing two bracelets from a city store, Nick Skulski of Edmonton was sentenced to two months' hard labor at Fort Saskatchewan jail. A second charge of breach of recognizance was adjourned to Jan. 4.

This close-up of Japan's Emperor Hirohito was made at a distance of six feet, the closest any photographer has been allowed to the Jap ruler. Photo, breaking all precedent, was taken by NEA-Acme photographer Tom Shafer. Hirohito is shown with his retinue at the shrine of his ancestors.

Newfoundland Might Consider Canadian Union

OTTAWA, Dec. 29—(CP)—Should Newfoundland not answer the question of union with Canada at a plebiscite—which possibly will be held in 1946—the matter may never be dealt with.

THAT IS THE OPINION of constitutional authorities watching political developments in Britain's "oldest colony."

Britain, which assumed responsibility for government of the island by commission after a 1933 economic crisis, has recently offered the former dominion an opportunity to elect a constitutional convention by early summer.

THIS CONVENTION likely will decide to hold a plebiscite and authorities here say Newfoundlanders may be asked any or all of these questions:

1. Will the Island continue under its commission form of government?

2. Will the Island re-adopt responsible self-government?

3. Will the Island enter the Canadian confederation as a province?

CANADA HAS A DEFENCE investment of more than $100,000,000 in Newfoundland and Labrador, which have an area of about 163,000 square miles and a population of about 310,000. Many of the resources of the two countries are vitally and strategically related, such as Newfoundland ore and Cape Breton coal.

While Canada is keenly interested in future relations with her neighbor, she has adopted a strict policy of non-interference. Prime Minister Mackenzie King indicated in a July, 1943, speech that in the matter of union, the initiative would have to be taken by Newfoundland.

THERE HAVE BEEN no recent public statements in Newfoundland on the subject, but authorities here say private expression has been divided. Some feel it would be good economics for the country to enter the confederation and others express a distrust of a bigger and more powerful brother.

$25,000 Damages Claimed in Crash

Damages totalling $25,000 are claimed in a statement of claim filed Friday by the law firm of Smith, Clement, Parlee and Whittaker on behalf of Frank H. Gillett, Macleod district farmer, for injuries received in a crash between a truck and motor bus on the Macleod trail on Jan. 8, 1945. Defendants to the action are Dench of Canada Ltd., and Western Canadian Greyhound Lines Ltd.

The plaintiff, a passenger in a motor coach operated by the Greyhound company, suffered permanent injuries when a truck owned by the Dench Company collided with a motor coach at a bridge near the village of Monarch.

He suffered spinal and other injuries and is partially paralyzed. Negligence on the part of both operator of the truck and motor coach are alleged in the statement of claim.

Rye Futures Continue Up

WINNIPEG, Dec. 29—(CP)—Rye futures prices continued the upward swing today on the Winnipeg grain exchange, closing 1 to [illegible] cents a bushel higher. Locals and commission houses were the major buyers but offerings were light.

The close was near the high for the day with December at $1.93, May $1.92½, and July $1.82½.

A small export business in wheat was reported. The United Kingdom took 500,000 bushels, the only sale during the short session.

Livestock

Weekly report from the Edmonton Stockyards for week ending December 28, 1945.

By the Supervising Grader, L.S.P.

| Receipts | Cattle | Calves | Hogs | Sheep |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Today | 177 | 10 | 264 | 60 |
| This Week | 1,745 | 136 | 1,784 | 20[illegible] |

Trading was fairly active on the cattle market throughout the past week with prices steady with the previous close. Receipts were lighter, due in part to the holiday, and, under a good demand all offerings moved easily. The bulk of the good to choice steers sold from $11.25 to $12.00 per cwt. with a few extreme tops at $12.25 per cwt. Good to choice butcher heifers were mostly from $10.00 to $11.00 per cwt. with the odd one at $11.25 per cwt. The cow market was unchanged, good cows trading from $7.50 to $8.50 per cwt. and choice light heifery cows from $8.50 to $9.00 per cwt. Bulls sold from $6.00 to $8.00.

The following are the quotations:

| CATTLE— | | | |

Wholesale to retail: A large 38, medium, 36, A pullet, 33, B, 30, grade C, 27.

Retail to consumer: A large, 41, A medium, 42; A pullet, 36; grade B, 39, grade C, 33.

These quotations are on loose eggs; sales in one-dozen cartons are 2c extra.

Egg production in this area shows an increase of 4 per cent over the preceding week. The general quality is good with total receipts averaging 91.7 per cent Grade A. One carlot was shipped to Great Britain. Demand of army camps and local retailers continues good. Egg values are now levelled off to export basis with selling values more in line with buying prices.

POULTRY PRICES

Stocks of Christmas poultry were well cleaned up, meeting exceptionally heavy demand. Marketing of turkeys for the month of December is now estimated at 32 per cent lower than in the same period last year. Buying competition continued exceptionally keen and all sales were made at ceiling price levels. Five carlots of mixed poultry, mostly turkeys were shipped to eastern markets. Fourteen carlots to B.C. Paying prices on all classes and grades of poultry remain unchanged from last week. The market continues very firm.

Mutiny Outbreak On U.S. Vessel

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Dec. 29.—(BUP)—American and Chinese crewmen fought with knives and axes aboard the U.S. liner Anna Dickinson here early today in a riot which the captain of the ship bluntly called "mutiny."

The cause of the fighting, which raged for an hour or so aboard the liner anchored in Portsmouth harbor, was not revealed in the first official reports.

The basis of the captain's charge of mutiny, which early accounts did not amplify, likewise lacked explanation. The captain's name was not learned immediately.

The riot broke out shortly after the Anna Dickinson arrived in the harbor at the end of a stormy passage across the Atlantic. Portsmouth police responded to an emergency call and quieted the rioters. U.S. military police arrived later from Southampton and took charge.

In the first report of the fighting today, authorities did not mention casualties.

Trade Minister Outlines Peacetime Marketing Plans

By HON. JAMES A. MACKINNON
Minister of Trade and Commerce

OTTAWA, Dec. 29—(CP)—The changing picture from complete all-out war to peace was reflected in the Canadian economy in 1945 by the shift of emphasis from war production to normal peacetime products, with result that a host of new problems now face the country.

THE RETURN of Canada's war veterans, which will continue until well into next year, places emphasis on one of the primary questions facing our economy, that of jobs. Some 700,000 members of the armed forces are being joined in their search for work by war workers.

Between June 1, 1939, and June 1, 1944, a period during which more than 750,000 men and women had joined the armed forces, the number of civilian workers had increased by 550,000. A large part of these new workers—almost 400,000—were women.

SOME OF THESE may now be expected to retire from the labor market and set up new homes as their husbands or sweethearts return from overseas, but others, having tasted independence, may wish to continue to earn their own living. If they wish to continue working, jobs should be made available for them, a large working force should mean a large national product, not more unemployment.

But until the expansion of peacetime production has progressed sufficiently to make these jobs available the discharged personnel will and should get preference for the available jobs.

THERE ARE indications that reconversion is proceeding without the development of substantial unemployment. Information from all employers of 15 or more workers indicate the level of employment at the end of August was about 7 per cent below its level at the same date a year ago, while during August the ending of the Japanese war brought a 1.3 per cent decline in the total number of workers.

This changing total conceals a changing variation in its component parts. Manufacturing employment has been declining fairly steadily since the middle of 1944. At Sept. 1 last it was at about the level of early 1942, a level 12.2 per cent below its amount at the first of September, 1944. In contrast to this, employment in communications, transportation, construction, the service industries and in retail and wholesale trade has been increasing in recent months.

DURING AUGUST 30,000 workers were laid off in plants manufacturing durable goods, but 7,000 of these or other workers were re-employed in other parts of the economy.

The development of new jobs takes time, and there will inevitably be some delays before they are available for all those genuinely seeking work. Even under the stimulus of all-out war production the very rapid expansion in employment throughout 1940, 1941 and 1942 only created additional jobs at the rate of 250,000 to 300,000 a year. In peacetime economy the factors tending to create new jobs take longer in exerting their effect.

THE CREATION of new jobs is largely dependent on adequate markets. Markets in turn depend on adequate purchasing power in the hands of the people, spending power which will enable them to purchase the new products. Adequate wages paid out in the process of production help provide the markets for the new products.

Wages paid to workers engaged in the construction of new capital equipment and plant for business firms help ensure that the total market will be large enough to absorb all business can produce and maintain a high level om employment. Only where people's savings are actually invested and hence paid out again in the form of wages to workers building new housing, new capital equipment, new power plants or new factories is there assurance of adequate market.

IN THE NEXT few years a number of factors combine to give some assurance that markets will be large enough to ensure jobs for all. Shortage of durable goods, such as automobiles, radios, refrigerators, housing, washing machines and many other goods have accumulated during the war. At the same time people have accumulated large savings in the form of war bonds and savings deposits with which to purchase these goods.

A large volume of capital expenditures also seems assured. Many business firms have been unable to replace much of their capital equipment during war years and plan large expenditures in the next few years.

EXPENDITURES of foreign countries in Canada are being facilitated by the extension of large credits, thus enabling them to reconstruct their war-torn economies and ensuring for Canada a market for her export industries. Yet another market assurance is provided by the expenditures of UNRRA, which have already exceeded $100,000,000. All these combine to give a good prospect for adequate markets and thereby a plentiful supply of jobs during the next few years.

Over a longer period of years the prospects are less certain, foreign loans may decline as countries gradually reconstruct their economies, the replacement of war shortages may be followed by a decline in consumers' expenditures and the expenditures of business firms for new plant and equipment may fall off. These are the prospects which must be faced and anticipated.

DURING THE WAR a large part of Canada's production was being exported. Will this large volume of exports be maintained or must Canada re-adjust her economy so as to create a lesser dependence on foreign markets? The government is at present actively engaged in developing Canada's export trade and some emphasis also is quite properly being given to the encouragement of imports into Canada, for in the long run exports are paid for largely out of funds provided by our imports, and a large export trade also implies a large import trade.

Data for the first nine months of this year indicate that thus far this year Canada's exports have been well maintained, whereas imports have declined by 10 per cent. However, during September our exports were $44,000,000 lower than they were at the same date last year. This decline was due to a reduction of more than $50,000,000 in the exports of items for military purposes. It was partially compensated by substantial increases in the exports of newsprint paper and aluminum over their level of September, 1944.

THE TOTAL decline in imports also conceals conflicting tendacies. The $190,000,000 decline in total imports for the first nine months of this year as compared with the same nine months of 1944 is due also to a decline in the imports of war materials.

At the same time there have been increases in our imports of fruits and vegetables, furs, wool, artificial silks, farm implements, other machinery and a number of other products. Our import trade is also shifting to the products of different countries as more shipping becomes available.

MOST OF THE decline in our imports during the last year has been in our trade with the United States. Our imports from parts of the British Empire, South America, Latin America and even from a few of the European countries have been increasing.

Almost one third of the expansion in Canada's export trade that occurred between 1939 and 1944 consisted of various farm products. For the next few years the market for Canadian farm products looks very hopeful, but the longer term prospects are less certain. Prosperity for Canadian agriculture and to a lesser extent for Canada's economy as a whole is highly dependent on the maintainance of a large foreign market for Canadian farm products.

AN ABANDONMENT by European countries of their pre-war protective tariffs for agriculture products would have mutual advantages because those countries could then use more food products which Canada can produce more cheaply than they and could concentrate on the production of products for which they are naturally suited.

The existence of a large backlog of available purchasing power [illegible] Re[illegible] to make [illegible] wherever [illegible].

IT WOULD also allow the backlog of purchases [illegible] rather than [illegible] large production.

The "White Paper on Employment and Income" presented to parliament by the minister of reconstruction in April of this year and the "Proposals of the Government of Canada" presented to the Dominion-provincial conference on reconstruction in August of this year both contain a broad statement of the government's future plans. The government's assumption of the responsibility for maintaining a high level of employment and income in our society is made clear.

IN THESE PLANS a reliance primarily on private enterprise to maintain full employment is envisaged. The proposals include a variety of plans, among them being encouragement of export trade, stimulation of private investment, maintenance of consumption expenditures and encouragements for provincial and municipal governments to make their public investments in a counter-cyclical manner.

Some steps also have been taken to encourage private capital expenditures through reduction in sales taxes and duties on machinery and building materials. The program to maintain consumption expenditures include payment of old age pensions, unemployment insurance and the payment of Family Allowances.

MAINTENANCE OF income in the agricultural sector of the economy is to be achieved by price support policy which has recently been expanded to include a five-year guaranteed minimum price for wheat.

It is aimed to achieve all this without a progressive growth of the public debt. High taxes in prosperous years, it is hoped, will yield surpluses which will offset deficits received in years of depression. Canada's resources offer hope that a rising standard of living may be achieved with jobs for all.

Labor-Management Harmony Is Urged

OTTAWA, Dec. 29.—(CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell in a New Year's message yesterday asked labor and management to maintain harmonious relations at a time when the nation stood on "the threshold . . . of our greatest development.

"We have learned that team work, nationally and internationally, was the prime requisite for victory," he said. "It is with this thought in mind that I would urge the two partners—management and labor—to retain the lesson learned and apply it to peaceful, adept and rapid development.

"THERE CAN BE NO greater disaster befall us now than disharmony in the ranks of workers and inability on the part of employer and employee to work together to achieve mutual benefit. We must, as good citizens, realize that enterprise on the part of the employer cannot be allowed to become exploitation; neither can the aspirations of labor be allowed to become a weapon to obtain power inimical to the well-being of all."

Firm Is Fined After Refusal Re-instate Vet

WINNIPEG, Dec. 29—(CP)—Magistrate D. G. Potter yesterday convicted the Western Auto and Truck Body Works, Limited, of violating the Civil Employment Act, and imposed a fine of $25 and costs in what is thought to be the first conviction under re-instatement of the 1942 act.

The firm was charged with failing to re-instate Stephen Krawchuk, a former employee, following his discharge from the armed forces on April 23, 1945. They were ordered to pay him wages for 17 weeks amounting to $270.

The firm, in its defence, contended that Krawchuk's former job had been abolished with the result that there was no possibility of employment to offer him when he returned from service with the armed forces.

Mexico Said Good Market For Dominion

If the present volume in production of meat and dairy products of Alberta could be increased beyond the demands of present commitments there would be a ready market for them in Mexico, it was learned Friday at a press conference with Clifford S. Bissett, newly-appointed Canadian Trade Commissioner to Venezuela with headquarters in Caracas.

MR. BISSETT was until recently commercial secretary at the Canadian embassy in Mexico City. He left Edmonton Friday night for the west coast on the first lap of his journey to the Venezuelan capital.

It was [illegible] case Edmonton would stand to benefit since one of its chief industries is meat processing. At the present time export trade to Mexico from Canada was negligible. One of the principal reasons for this was lack of shipping and previously [illegible] trade agreements between Canada and other countries.

CENTRAL AMERICA was an excellent potential market for Canada's meat and dairy products and other products of primary industries, including grain, but the main problem facing negotiators for trade was transportation.

Mexico has been purchasing from four to seven million bushels of wheat [illegible] importations came from the United States and Australia, he said.

The question of shipping between Canada and Mexico was being explored, he said.

There [illegible] not lapse until February, when the ships will be released.

$80,000 Worth of Liquor "Junk" So Owner Decides to Destroy It

By CLAUDE RAMSEY

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin.

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 29.—(BUP)—Louis Boldreghini, an impulsive liquor dealer who steps outside his store each Saturday to throw dimes away, calmly supervised the destruction yesterday of the last of $80,000 worth of rum, wines and brandies.

"That's junk," he said, "I'm tired of shoving that stuff down the customers' throats."

THERE WAS NO CATCH to the destruction, he said. State liquor control officers agreed. He will get no refund on liquor taxes, nor will he be able to write it off as a loss on his income tax.

Boldreghini and the control representatives, who supervised the destruction, also agreed the value of the 2,500 cases would be about $80,000. "I paid $54 a case for some of that stuff," said Boldreghini.

TWELVE HUNDRED CASES were destroyed Thursday. A yard in which the liquor was being destroyed was flooded by persons who wanted "just a sample to see if it is as bad as you say." Louis pointed at the state liquor control men and said he was sorry.

The liquor control men and Boldreghini were back on the job yesterday seeking to break every bottle before dark.

"The war's over," he said. "That stuff is not fit to drink, I don't want to sell it to my customers.

"WHETHER THE MARKET loosens up or not, my customers get only good merchandise from now on in my five stores."

Boldreghini each Saturday afternoon gives away hundreds of dimes to neighborhood kids who flock around his store.

"Last Saturday it was a quarter apiece," he said, "on account of Christmas."

When he read last week that some one had stolen an accordian from a blind street musician he bought a $325 instrument as a Christmas gift for the blind man.

Vandals Damage Detroit Church

DETROIT, Dec. 29—(AP)—Police last night sought vandals who slugged the assistant pastor and set fire to the altar of fashionable Trinity Methodist church in suburban Highland Park shortly after noon Friday. Detective Sergeant George Richards of Highland Park said the assailant also damaged paintings, a cross and other church equipment. He estimated the loss at "well over $2,000".

Doukhobors Say Nude Parading Will Be Ended

BRILLIANT, B.C., Dec. 29—(CP)—Orthodox Doukhobors have reaffirmed their policy to abandon nude parading and violence, it was learned yesterday.

THE DECISION was made at a recent 10-day conference of representatives of the sect from various parts of Canada and the United States, it was reported by Martha Konkin of Langley Prairie, B.C., one of the approximately 60 delegates.

The orthodox Doukhobors, members of the Spiritual Communities of Christ, made the same decision several years ago but nude parading has been practised frequently since then by the radical branch known as the Sons of Freedom.

THE CONFERENCE decided anyone guilty of breaking the law by nude parading or such violence as burnings or damaging public structures will be handed over to authorities and no attempts will be made to obtain the release of Doukhobors serving terms for such offences.

(Some 25 Doukhobor men and women, all members of the Sons of Freedom branch, are serving terms for nude parading.)

DECISION REPORTED OF LITTLE EFFECT

NELSON, B.C., Dec. 30.—(CP)—Decision at a recent conference of Doukhobors from Canada and the United States at nearby Brilliant to abandon nudist parades is questionable and hinges on approval of the majority of members of the sect known as the Sons of Freedom.

NUDIST PARADES and burning and damaging of schools, bridges and other buildings in the East Kootenays have been frequent for many years.

Orthodox Doukhobors, who number about 7,000 and belong to the Christian Communities of Christ with headquarters at Brilliant, decided several years ago to discontinue nude parades, but since then there have been demonstrations of varying sizes by the radical Sons of Freedom.

SUPERMAN
by JERRY SIEGEL AND JOE SHUSTER
12-30
I WARN YOU, WHOEVER YOU ARE IN THE TRICK SUIT!—DON'T INTERFERE!
SORRY, BUT I'M AFRAID I'LL HAVE TO!
AS HIS FIRST ASSIGNMENT FOR THE METROPOLIS DAILY PLANET, REPORTER CLARK KENT IS SENT TO COVER AN ATTEMPTED LYNCHING AT THE JANESVILLE JAIL—AND STREAKS IN, AS SUPERMAN, JUST AS THE MOB IS PLACING A NOOSE ABOUT THE NECK OF ITS VICTIM ....
322
ALL RIGHT, BOYS—HE ASKED FOR IT! LET HIM HAVE IT!
SHOOT HIM!
THE BULLETS! THEY BOUNCED RIGHT OFFA HIM!
I COULD HAVE TOLD YOU THAT IF YOU'D ASKED ME!
THE NEXT INSTANT, THE MAN OF STEEL SNATCHES THE WEAPONS FROM HIS WOULD-BE KILLERS...
BETTER GIVE ME THOSE TOYS BEFORE YOU HURT YOURSELVES!
...AND TWISTS THEM INTO UNRECOGNIZABLE SCRAPS WITH HIS BARE HANDS!
OWK! I DON'T BELIEVE IT!
BUT HE'S DOING IT!
BUT HAWKINS WAS MIXED UP IN THE KILLING OF 'HAPPY JACK' KENNEDY—AND KENNEDY WAS A FINE MAN! HAWKINS DESERVES TO DIE!
JUST THE SAME LYNCHING ISN'T THE ANSWER. HAWKINS IS GOING WITH ME!
IT'S LIKE A DREAM—THE MOST AMAZING THING THAT EVER HAPPENED TO ME!
I DON'T KNOW WHETHER YOU'RE INNOCENT OR GUILTY HAWKINS. THAT'S FOR THE LAW TO DECIDE. ANYWAY, YOU'LL BE SAFER IN THE METROPOLIS JAIL.
MINUTES LATER...
KENNEDY AND CARSON AND I WERE PARTNERS. KENNEDY WAS SHOT, AND EVIDENCE POINTED TO CARSON, WITH ME AS AN ACCESSORY. I WAS GIVEN A JAIL SENTENCE—AND CARSON IS SLATED TO BE ELECTROCUTED TONIGHT!
IF YOU AND CARSON AREN'T GUILTY—WHO IS?
I'M MORALLY CERTAIN THE GUILTY MAN IS RAY BURNHAM, RACKETEER AND OWNER OF THE 'HIGH SPOT' NIGHT CLUB. KENNEDY REFUSED TO LET BURNHAM CUT IN ON OUR HONEST BUSINESS AFFAIRS.
I MUST BE GOIN' NUTS. THAT GUY IN THE TRICK COSTUME FLIES IN HERE WITH A PRISONER—FLIES, MIND YOU—AND THEN FLIES OFF AGAIN.
I DON'T KNOW WHO HE IS OR WHAT HE IS—BUT IF YOU'RE GOIN' NUTS I'M GOIN' RIGHT ALONG WITH YOU!
THAT EVENING, AS RACKETEER BURNHAM ENTERS THE LUXURIOUS OFFICE OF HIS NIGHT CLUB...
WHAT?? I'M NOT IN THE MARKET FOR ANY ACROBAT ACTS FOR MY FLOOR SHOW. BEAT IT, MUG!
I'M NO ORDINARY ACROBAT, BURNHAM. SIT DOWN. YOU AND I HAVE SOMETHING TO TALK OVER—AND I DON'T MEAN A JOB!

MY WORD! NEW YEAR'S IS AT OUR VERY HEELS— THAT REMINDS ME OF THE FINE OLD CUSTOM OF GOOD RESOLUTIONS!
I MUST CHECK UP ON THE PEOPLE IN THIS HOUSEHOLD TO SEE THAT THEY START 1946 IN THE PROPER SPIRIT!
EGAD, MARTHA! I SUPPOSE YOU ARE FORMULATING THE USUAL NEW YEAR'S GOOD RESOLUTIONS!
WELL, I AM GOING TO CUT DOWN ON RICH FOODS AND TAKE OFF 20 POUNDS!
SURE, UNCLE AMOS! I'M GOING TO RESOLVE NOT TO FORGET MY HOME-WORK!
BULLY FOR YOU, ALVIN!
YEAH! I'M GONNA QUIT SLUGGING GUYS UNLESS THEY GIVE ME A GOOD REASON!
EGAD, LEANDER! SPLENDID! 1946 WILL BE A YEAR OF PEACE!
IT OCCURS TO ME THERE ARE SEVERAL RESOLUTIONS THAT MIGHT IMPROVE YOUR HEALTH!
WELL, FOR ONE THING, I'M NOT GOING TO MAKE A SOOTY STOVEPIPE OUT OF MY THROAT WITH BURNING WEEDS!
YEAH, I'VE GOT ONE— I WON'T TRY TO BREAK UP THE PLAY WHEN THE OTHER CUSTOMERS LUNGE AT THAT LAST CHOP!
GOOD FOR YOU, BUSTER! COURTESY IS A WHOLESOME TRAIT!
MY RESOLUTION IS TO KEEP MY ROOM NEAT, AND NOT HANG MY CLOTHES ON THE FLOOR!
SPLENDID, TWIGGS! NEATNESS ALWAYS PAYS!
AND WHAT ARE YOUR RESOLUTIONS FOR THE NEW YEAR, MAJOR?
WHO, ME? UM! OH, YES, WELL—
EGAD! I'VE CONQUERED MOST OF MY WEAKNESSES, AS YOU KNOW, BUT—ONE FAULT I HAVE DETERMINED TO CORRECT IN 1946 IS THE OCCASIONAL HABIT OF BITING MY NAILS!

A MEAN TRICK

IN some mysterious way Ginky heard about the New Year party the Teenie Weenies were going to have. The little people hadn't seen or heard of Ginky since they had to put him out of their jail, but a mouse can smell a party as well as he can scent a piece of cheese.

He came to the Teenie Weenie village the day before the party and asked for an invitation. But the Teenie Weenies refused because Ginky is a very rude mouse. He eats all the refreshments he can lay his paws on and behaves badly in general.

"The reason you won't invite me to your party is that I'm a mouse," Ginky argued.

"No, Ginky," answered the General. "We have nothing against decent mice, but you have proved several times that you do not know how to behave at a party and we don't want you around."

Ginky flew into a rage and began calling the Teenie Weenies nasty names, so they had to chase him from the village.

"I wouldn't be surprised if Ginky tried to get even with us now," the General said. "We must be on guard."

But nothing more was seen of the mouse, and the little folks began making ready for the party. The Cook and the Lady of Fashion made two whole thimblefuls of Teenie Weenie doughnuts. They baked two lima beans and filled an acorn bowl with crawfish salad. They made black walnut fudge and grated enough chocolate from the piece of candy they had found to have a thimble of hot chocolate in place of their usual sassafras tea.

Just as the General had suspected, Ginky decided to get revenge. While the little folks were gathered in their tiny living room the mouse sneaked up to the shoe house and crawled up onto the roof. Snow covered everything and the mouse never made a bit of noise. Reaching the tiny chimney, Ginky dropped a grain of popcorn down it. It fell into the hot fireplace unnoticed by the Teenie Weenies, and in a few seconds it exploded with a bang, throwing sparks into the room.

The Teenie Weenies suspected Ginky immediately. Some of the men ran outside to find the mouse sneering on the roof of the front porch. The Dunce grabbed Ginky's tail, hanging over the edge of the roof, and pulled him down. They gave the mouse a thrashing and sent him off whimpering.

Fortunately, no damage was done except for a caterpillar fur rug which was slightly scorched, and the Teenie Weenies went right on with their party just as though nothing had happened.

HEIGH HO! ANOTHER YEAR IS NEARLY GONE -- AND WHAT A YEAR! -- THEY SAY THE GREATEST WAR, SO FAR, IS WON -- BUT IS WAR EVER REALLY OVER?
A YEAR AGO I THOUGHT WE WERE HAVIN' TROUBLE ENOUGH, WITH OLD MRS. BLEATING-HART! I GUESS, SOMETIMES, YUH DON'T KNOW WHEN YOU'RE WELL OFF!
MRS. B-H AND HER KIND CAN BE AWFUL IRRITATIN' -- BUT THEY CAN BE HANDLED --
TALK 'BOUT OUT OF THE FRYING PAN INTO THE FIRE! WELL, WE'VE SURE MADE THAT TRIP NOW -- EH, SANDY?
HM-M -- I REMEMBER WHEN TH' WAR STARTED -- WE WERE GOIN' TO TEACH EVER'BODY IN TH' WORLD HOW TO LIVE FREE AND HAPPY LIKE US -- OR ELSE!
YEAH! 'COURSE A FEW OLD STICKS-IN-TH'-MUD SAID WHEN YUH TANGLE WITH NASTYS YOU'RE LIBLE TO GET SOME ON YUH ....
BUT MOST FOLKS SAID THAT WAS CRAZY TALK -- O' COURSE, EVER'BODY WOULD WANT TO BE JUST LIKE US! -- WELL, TH' BARON DOESN'T SEEM TO FEEL THAT WAY -- OR THAT JAP GENERAL, EITHER!
TH' WAR MAY BE WON FOR MOST FOLKS -- BUT IT'S SURE A LONG WAY FROM OVER FOR US -- AND IF FOLKS ONLY RE'LIZED .....
WHY, IF THESE GUYS DO GET THAT ATOM SECRET THEY'LL LICK TH' WORLD --- IN A DAY! AND NOBODY'D HAVE A CHANCE TO FIGHT BACK -- EVEN TH' FEW WHO MIGHT STILL BE LEFT ALIVE!
BUT DADDY WON'T GIVE 'EM TH' ATOM SECRET, NO MATTER WHAT THEY DO TO ME -- BUT IT WILL BE TERRIBLE FOR HIM, GETTIN' ME SENT TO HIM A PIECE AT A TIME -- POOR DADDY!
YEAH! AND POOR ME! BUT MAYBE THEY WON'T BE ABLE TO FIND DADDY --
WELL, BOYS -- IT'S TAKEN LONGER THAN I'D FIGURED -- BUT THAT JUST ABOUT WINDS UP OUR BUSINESS HERE --
NOW TO GET BACK TO CIVILIZATION --- IT WILL BE NICE TO SEE ANNIE AND THE TOGGLES AGAIN -- HA-HA! I'LL JUST DROP IN AND SURPRISE THEM -- IS THE PLANE READY, PUNJAB?
